Blackburn, Ruth Piwonka, 1988-01-01 How much of the Dutch world in America survived after the English One hundred years after the English took control of New Netherland in 1664 New York retained many Dutch characteristics The cultural milieu shifted abruptly however with population growth and increased affluence following the termination of the French and Indian Wars in 1760 British customs and tastes that were stylishly attractive to a new generation of moneyed colonists soon put Dutch culture in retreat in all but the most isolated areas Some elements of the past persisted in ways never dreamed of by the Dutch West India Company officials who oversaw their nation s colonization in America These include caucus politics separation of church and state neighborly evening visits on the stoop and Santa Claus Even more striking is the similarity between principles and practices that emerged in the Dutch Republic four centuries ago and some of the precepts on which the American republic was founded Much of the Dutch cultural and social history may be interpreted and understood through objects they brought with them and from those objects and structures they created in the New World This landmark volume originating in a major exhibit commemorating the tricentennial of the city of Albany uncovers the range of Dutch colonial experience in America through some 350 objects paintings furniture silver gold ceramics textiles prints drawings and architecture The result is a rare and remarkable glimpse of New Netherland a long ago world that continues to resonate today Roderic H Blackburn is an ethnologist and architectural historian who has held positions as Director of Research at Historic Cherry Hill Assistant Director of the Albany Institute of History and Art and Senior Research Fellow at the New York State Museum He is the author of Dutch Colonial Homes in America and Great Houses of New England Ruth Piwonka is the author of A Portrait of Livingston Manor 1686 1850 and the coauthor with Roderic H Blackburn of A Visible Heritage Columbia County New York A History in Art and Architecture

Sutton, 2015-06-05 In Capitalism and Cartography in the Dutch Golden Age Elizabeth A Sutton explores the fascinating but previously neglected history of corporate cartography during the Dutch Golden Age from ca 1600 to 1650 She examines how maps were used as propaganda tools for the Dutch West India Company in order to encourage the commodification of land and an overall capitalist agenda Building her exploration around the central figure of Claes Jansz Vischer an Amsterdam based publisher closely tied to the Dutch West India Company Sutton shows how printed maps of Dutch Atlantic territories helped rationalize the Dutch Republic s global expansion Maps of land reclamation projects in the Netherlands as well as the Dutch territories of New Netherland now New York and New Holland Dutch Brazil reveal how print media were used both to increase investment and to project a common narrative of national unity Maps of this era showed those boundaries commodities and topographical details that publishers and the Dutch West India Company merchants and governing Dutch elite deemed significant to their agenda In the process Sutton argues they perpetuated and promoted modern state capitalism Four Centuries of Dutch-American Relations Hans Krabbendam, Cornelis A. van Minnen, Giles Scott-Smith, 2009-09-09 A comprehensive history of bilateral relations between the Netherlands and the United States Spaces of Enslavement Andrea C. Mosterman, 2021-10-15 In Spaces of Enslavement Andrea C Mosterman addresses the persistent myth that the colonial Dutch system of slavery was more humane Investigating practices of enslavement in New Netherland and then in New York Mosterman shows that these ways of racialized spatial control held much in common with the southern plantation societies In the 1620s Dutch colonial settlers brought slavery to the banks of the Hudson River and founded communities from New Amsterdam in the south to Beverwijck near the terminus of the navigable river When Dutch power in North America collapsed and the colony came under English control in 1664 Dutch descendants continued to rely on enslaved labor Until 1827 when slavery was abolished in New York State slavery expanded in the region with all free New Yorkers benefitting from that servitude Mosterman describes how the movements of enslaved persons were controlled in homes and in public spaces such as workshops courts and churches She addresses how enslaved people responded to regimes of control by escaping from or modifying these spaces so as to expand their activities within them Through a close analysis of homes churches and public spaces Mosterman shows that over the course of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the region s Dutch communities were engaged in a daily struggle with Black New Yorkers who found ways to claim freedom and resist oppression Spaces of Enslavement writes a critical and overdue chapter on the place of slavery and resistance in the colony and young state of New York American Furniture in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Frances Gruber Safford, 2007 The Metropolitan Museum s preeminent collection of early colonial furniture is expertly documented in this long awaited publication It covers the full spectrum of furniture forms made during the 17th and early 18th centuries from chairs and other seating to tables boxes various types of chests and cupboards and desks Each of the 141 objects is thoroughly described with detailed information on provenance construction condition inscriptions dimensions and materials Photographed anew in color for this volume each piece is explicated in terms of the styles and craftsmanship of the period and is evaluated in light of comparative pieces in public and private collections throughout the country One appendix contains photographic details of construction and decorative elements and another has drawings of joints and moldings Encyclopedia of American Folk Art Gerard C.
