ArtCurious Jennifer Dasal, 2020-09-15 A wildly entertaining and surprisingly educational dive into art history as you've never seen it before from the host of the beloved ArtCurious podcast We're all familiar with the works of Claude Monet thanks in no small part to the ubiquitous reproductions of his water lilies on umbrellas handbags scarves and dorm room posters But did you also know that Monet and his cohort were trailblazing rebels whose works were originally deemed unbelievably ugly and vulgar And while you probably know the tale of Vincent van Gogh's suicide you may not be aware that there's pretty compelling evidence that the artist didn't die by his own hand but was accidentally killed or even murdered Or how about the fact that one of Andy Warhol's most enduring legacies involves Caroline Kennedy's moldy birthday cake and a collection of toenail clippings ArtCurious is a colorful look at the world of art history revealing some of the strangest funniest and most fascinating stories behind the world's great artists and masterpieces Through these and other incredible weird and wonderful tales ArtCurious presents an engaging look at why art history is and continues to be a riveting and relevant world to explore

Provenance Robert S Field, 2011-12-21 A lute of exquisite workmanship and beauty is crafted in Italy in the dark age of the mid 15th century by a master luthier Francesco Ippolito da Cremona the Renaissance musician fated to play it to great acclaim the bulk of his musical legacy composed upon it But this lute is more than mere musical instrument it is a memorial to love lost in a brutal tragedy By the passion invested in it by its maker and its embodiment of the relics of tormented love it is imbued with the power to enchant its enchantment released by the hands of its destined player Against the evidence of history the lute survives to the present day and along with a rare manuscript of Francesco Ippolito lute tablature falls into the hands of Bob Roberts an incurably romantic middle class professional whose escape from a deeply unromantic life is to immerse himself in the lute music of the Renaissance The lute is an unexceptional wreck when Bob acquires it but he commissions its restoration and gradually its provenance is unveiled the final revelation astonishing The lute and Ippolito's music exert a powerful influence upon Bob's life that hints of deep unrest and a vague connection with lives long gone as if lute and tablature combine in a conduit through which spiritual energy moves from past to present This is a story of music across the ages of obsession and betrayal of destiny and above all of true love

integrates the theme of Spain in Italy into a broad synthesis of late Renaissance and early modern Italy by restoring the contingency of events local and imperial decision making and the distinct voices of individual Spaniards and Italians

Counter-Reformation Sanctity in Global and Material Perspective Ruth Sargent Noyes, 2024-11-29 This book explores the making of saints cults in the early modern world from an interdisciplinary perspective considering the entangled roles of materiality and globalization processes It brings together work across diverse media objects and materials as well as communities cultures and geographies to reframe a more synoptic materials centric and comparative history of the making and remaking of saints cults with a special focus on the long Counter Reformation The contributions engage with dynamics of local and universal and draw attention to the vital role of textual visual and material hagiographies in the creation and promotion of saints cults The book fosters novel conceptualizations and cross pollination of ideas across traditions regions and disciplines and expands hagiography's horizons by reconsidering canonical saintly figures and reframing lesser known cults of saints and would be saints The book will be of interest to scholars of religious and early modern history as well as art history and visual and material studies Tuscany in the Age of Empire Brian

Brege, 2021-07-13 A new history explores how one of Renaissance Italy's leading cities maintained its influence in an era of global exploration trade and empire The Grand Duchy of Tuscany was not an imperial power but it did harbor global ambitions After abortive attempts at overseas colonization and direct commercial expansion as Brian Brege shows Tuscany followed a different path one that allowed it to participate in Europe's new age of empire without establishing an empire of its own The first history of its kind Tuscany in the Age of Empire offers a fresh appraisal of one of the foremost cities of the Italian Renaissance as it sought knowledge fortune and power throughout Asia the Americas and beyond How did Tuscany which could not compete directly with the growing empires of other European states establish a global presence First Brege shows Tuscany partnered with larger European powers The duchy sought to obtain trade rights within their empires and even manage portions of other states overseas territories Second Tuscans invested in cultural intellectual and commercial institutions at home which attracted the knowledge and wealth generated by Europe's imperial expansions Finally Tuscans built effective coalitions with other regional powers in the Mediterranean and the Islamic world which secured the duchy's access to global products and empowered the Tuscan monarchy in foreign affairs These strategies allowed Tuscany to punch well above its weight in a world where power was equated with the sort of imperial possessions it lacked By finding areas of common interest with stronger neighbors and forming alliances with other marginal polities a small state was able to protect its own security while carving out a space as a diplomatic and intellectual hub in a globalizing Europe Writing Fashion in Early Modern Italy Eugenia Paulicelli, 2016-02-17 The first comprehensive study on the role of Italian fashion and Italian literature this book analyzes clothing and fashion as described and represented in literary texts and costume books in the Italy of the 16th and 17th centuries Writing Fashion in Early Modern Italy emphasizes the centrality of Italian literature and culture for understanding modern theories of fashion and gauging its impact in the shaping of codes of civility and taste in Europe and the West Using literature to uncover what has been called the animatedness of clothing author Eugenia Paulicelli explores the political meanings that clothing produces in public space At the core of the book is the idea that the texts examined here act as maps that first pinpoint the establishment of fashion as a social institution of modernity and second gauge the meaning of clothing at a personal and a political level As well as Castiglione's The Book of the Courtier and Cesare Vecellio's The Clothing of the Renaissance World the author looks at works by Italian writers whose books are not yet available in English translation such as those by Giacomo Franco Arcangela Tarabotti and Agostino Lampugnani Paying particular attention to literature and the relevance of clothing in the shaping of codes of civility and style this volume complements the existing and important works on Italian fashion and material culture in the Renaissance It makes the case for the centrality of Italian literature and the interconnectedness of texts from a variety of genres for an understanding of the history of Italian style and serves to contextualize the debate on dress in other European literatures

Borders and the Politics of Space in Late Medieval Italy Luca Zenobi, 2023-07-02 Space matters It situates our history structures our daily lives and often determines what we can and cannot do Borders are central to this reality Tools and symbols of separation power and identity they bring people together as much as they set them apart This book explores how borders were understood made and encountered at the end of the Middle Ages and what they can tell us about the spatial fabric of society at the threshold of modernity It shows that pre modern borders were nothing like the fuzzy lines they are typically made out to be that border making was rarely a top down process and should instead be studied as an interactive endeavour and that space was shaped by communities far more than states in this period At its core Borders and the Politics of Space in Late Medieval Italy is the account of a frontier which would mark the Italian peninsula for centuries that between the territories of the Duchy of Milan and those of the Republic of Venice But it is also a study of how rulers and subjects alike defined spaces they could call their own Luca Zenobi combines methods from several disciplines and applies them to a range of evidence from twenty different libraries and archives including theoretical treatises and pragmatic records written chronicles and cartographic visualisations private documents and official correspondence The cast of characters is equally eclectic featuring influential thinkers and pragmatic statesmen zealous factions and clumsy bureaucrats hopeless beggars and ambitious princes On the border their stories intersect and reveal their part in a shared history

Imperial Ambition in the Early Modern Mediterranean Céline Dauverd, 2015 Imperial Ambition in the Early Modern Mediterranean Genoese Merchants and the Spanish Crown This book examines the alliance between the Spanish Crown and Genoese merchant bankers in southern Italy throughout the early modern era when Spain and Genoa developed a symbiotic economic relationship undergirded by a cultural and spiritual alliance Analyzing early modern imperialism migration and trade this book shows that the spiritual entente between the two nations was mainly informed by the religious division of the Mediterranean Sea The Turkish threat in the Mediterranean reinforced the commitment of both the Spanish Crown and the Genoese merchants to Christianity Spain's imperial strategy was reinforced by its willingness to acculturate to southern Italy through organized beneficence representation at civic ceremonies and spiritual guidance during religious holidays Celine Dauverd is Assistant Professor of History and a board member of the Mediterranean Studies Group at the University of Colorado Boulder Her research focuses on sociocultural relations between Spain and Italy during the early modern era 1450-1650 She has published articles in the Sixteenth Century Journal, the Journal of World History, Mediterranean Studies, and the Journal of Levantine Studies

The Unruly Tongue Melissa Vise, 2025-01-21 A cultural history of speech in medieval Italy The Unruly Tongue a cultural history of speech in medieval Italy offers a new account of how the power of words changed in Western thought Despite the association of freedom of speech with the political revolutions of the eighteenth century that ushered in the era of modern democracies historian Melissa Vise locates the history of the repression of speech not in Europe's monarchies but rather in Italy's republics Exploring the cultural process through which science and medicine politics law literature and theology together informed a new political ethics of speech Vise uncovers the formation of a moral code where the regulation of the tongue became an integral component of republican values in medieval Europe The medieval citizens of Italy's republics understood themselves to be wholly subject to the power of words not because they lived in an age of persecution or doctrinal rigidity but because words had furnished the grounds for their political freedom Speech making was the means for speaking the republic itself into existence against the opposition of aristocracy empire and papacy But because words had power they could also be deployed as weapons Speech contained the potential for violence and presented a threat to political and social order and thus needed to be controlled Vise shows how the laws that governed and curtailed speech in medieval Italy represented broader cultural understandings of human susceptibility to speech Tracing anthropologies of speech from religious to political discourse from civic courts to ecclesiastical courts from medical texts to the works of Dante and Boccaccio The Unruly Tongue demonstrates that the thirteenth century marked a major shift in how people perceived the power and the threat of speech a change in thinking about what words do

Out of Italy Fernand Braudel, 2019-07-16 From the author of Memory and the Mediterranean a comprehensive history of the Italian city states from 1450 to 1650 In the fifteenth century even before the city states of the Apennine Peninsula began to coalesce into what would become several centuries later a nation Italy exerted enormous influence over all of Europe and throughout the Mediterranean Its cultural economic and political dominance is utterly astonishing and unique in world history Viewing the Italy the many Italies of that time through the lens of today allows us to gather a fragmented multi-faceted and seemingly contradictory history into a single unifying narrative that speaks to our current reality as much as it does to a specific historical period This is what the acclaimed French historian Fernand Braudel achieves here He brings to life the two extraordinary centuries that span the Renaissance Mannerism and the Baroque and analyzes the complex interaction between art science politics and commerce

during Italy's extraordinary cultural flowering Reconciled to Reconcile Komi Ahiatoga Hiagbe, 2008 In the words of John Paul II A faith which does not become culture is a faith that has not been received not thoroughly thought through nor fully lived out It is for this reason that inculturation hermeneutics has become a useful reflective tool for many African students of Theology In this work the author argues that the concept of salvation in evangelical Christian thought as postulated in the works of the French Reformer John Calvin and that of African Traditional Religions do not connote the same idea nor lead to the same goals In spite of the basic differences he states that symbols metaphors and some practices from the traditional religions of Africa can be employed as hermeneutical tools for the explanation of concepts of the Christian faith The author therefore concludes that the Anlo Ewe traditional religious practice of nugbidodo ritual reconciliation best explains Christian salvation as man's reconciliation with God and constitutes a basis for the healing deliverance and a socio economic advancement of the individual and the entire community Encyclopedia of Political Theory Mark
