Winer,2013-06-17 Volume 26 27 begins with publication of The Annual s first prize essay Samuel Abrams s How Child and Adult Analysis Inform and Misinform One Another This is followed by a series of papers originally prepared for a symposium honoring John E Gedo These papers span the clinical topics of obsessiveness sublimation dreams and self analysis and analyzability and also delve into applied psychoanalysis and art history with two studies of Vincent van Gogh and another of Alberto Giacometti These papers not only convey the impressive range of Gedo s own interests but embody the high scholarly and clinical standards that Gedo has long held both for himself and for the field in general Section III offers original contributions to clinical analysis in the form of the consideration of the role of affective engagement in the analyst s usability thoughtful assessment of the perils of parental projection in child analytic work and comparison of a failed and successful supervision in the same psychoanalytic case Section IV examines psychoanalysis and the arts with two further studies of van Gogh an analytic reading of Nabokov s Lolita and more general examinations of psychoanalysis in relation to dramatic art and film analysis The volume closes with two provocative scholarly essays bearing on the roots of psychoanalysis the correspondence between Mabel Dodge and her analysts Smith Ely Jelliffe and A A Brill as a vehicle for reviewing the issue of extra and postanalytic contact between analyst and patient and an examination of Freud Lacan and the uneasy relationships among literature psychoanalysis and the female subject Volume 26 27 offers readers a rich harvest of contemporary insights about psychoanalysis including its history and evolution its continuing clinical refinement and its scholarly applications outside the consulting room

Time, Self, and Psychoanalysis William W. Meissner, 2007 This book is a study of time particularly of the nature of subjective time that is time as subjectively experienced and lived in contrast with time as measured objectively as for example by a clock The argument first addresses the development of the time experience its origins in infantile experience and traces its variations and modifications during the course of the life cycle As the life course advances concerns about and preoccupations with death play an increasingly important role in attitudes toward and involvement in temporally related contexts The next step is an examination of the phenomenology of time experience itself and its dependence on biorhythms and affective influences An important aspect of this discussion is the relation between time experience as a conscious phenomenon and the functioning of unconscious determinants of the time experience This leads to the question given these conclusions regarding the nature of time experience what implications can we draw for the understanding of the nature and functioning of the self within psychoanalysis The book s final section applies these understandings to the analytic process focusing particularly on the meaning of the time experience in the patient s psychic reality and patterns of enactment around issues of time and time management in the analytic situation American Book Publishing Record , 1995

Practitioner Research in Counselling and Psychotherapy Liz Bondi, Judith Fewell, 2016-07-01 In this thought provoking text Liz Bondi and Judith Fewell invite practitioners to move away from an approach to research that depends upon distance and objectification and towards a method centred on practical wisdom developed through intense exploration of the lived experience of therapeutic relationships Following a close examination of the flaws of dominant approaches to research in the field the book provides a richly detailed exploration of a diverse range of subjective experiences from both practitioners and clients Written by a collection of authors with a wealth of experience in practice and academia this insightful and evocative text will inspire anyone undertaking research in this field be they students educators or practitioners

Missing Us Ryan LaMothe, 2013-05-09 In Missing Us Re Visioning Psychoanalysis from the Perspective of Community Ryan LaMothe questions the ways in which psychoanalytic and psychodynamic theorists and clinicians have historically relied principally on a two person psychology to understand psychosocial development and practice While this has many benefits two person perspectives often overlook a central need and struggle in human life namely community The concept of community and its cognate communion expand and deepen psychoanalytic theories of development as well as reframe in part psychoanalytic concepts processes and aims In Missing Us LaMothe relying on the Scottish philosopher John Macmurray carefully defines the concept of community being sure to differentiate it from the notions of sociality and intersubjectivity Using this definition and the concept of person LaMothe reframes potential space transference and motivation Given this unique perspective LaMothe addresses the strengths limitations and challenges of psychoanalysis as a therapeutic ritual Books in Print ,1991 Subject Guide to Children's Books in Print 1997
