J.G. Ballard's Surrealist Imagination Jeannette Baxter, 2016-12-05 Making the case that J G Ballard's fictional and non fictional writings must be read within the framework of Surrealism Jeannette Baxter argues for a radical revisioning of Ballard that takes account of the political and ethical dimensions of his work Ballard's appropriation of diverse Surrealist aesthetic forms and political writings Baxter suggests are mobilised to contest official narratives of postwar history and culture and offer a series of counter historical and counter cultural critiques Thus Ballard's work must be understood as an exercise in Surrealist historiography that is politically and ethically engaged Placing Ballard's illustrated texts within this critical framework permits Baxter to explore the effects of photographs drawings and other visual symbols on the reading experience and the production of meaning Ballard's textual spectacles raise a variety of questions about the shifting role of the reader and the function of the written text within a predominantly visual culture while acknowledging the visual contexts of Ballard's Surrealist writings allows a very different historical picture of the author and his work to emerge

The Empire's of J. G. Ballard David

Ian Paddy, 2015-08-25 J G Ballard once declared that the most truly alien planet is Earth and in his science fiction he abandoned the traditional imagery of rocket ships traveling to distant galaxies to address the otherworldliness of this world. The Empires of J G Ballard is the first extensive study of Ballard's critical vision of nation and empire of the political geography of this planet. Paddy examines how Ballard's self-perceived status as an outsider and exile the Sheppertonian from Shanghai generated an outlook that celebrated worldliness and condemned parochialism. This book brings to light how Ballard wrestled with notions of national identity and speculated upon the social and psychological implications of the post-war transformation of older models of empire into new imperialisms of consumerism and globalization. Presenting analyses of Ballard's full body of work with its tales of reverse colonization, psychological imperialism, the savagery of civilization, estranged Englishmen abroad and at home, and multinational communities built on crime, The Empires of J G Ballard offers a fresh perspective on the fiction of J G Ballard. The Empires of J G Ballard: An Imagined Geography offers a sustained and highly convincing analysis of the imperial and post-imperial histories and networks that shape and energise Ballard's fictional and non-fictional writings. To what extent can Ballard be considered an international writer? What happens to our understanding of his post-war science fictions when they are opened up to the language and logics of post-colonialism? And what creative and critical roles do the spectres of empire play in Ballard's visions of modernity? Paddy follows these and other fascinating lines of enquiry in a study that is not only essential reading for Ballard students and scholars but for anyone interested in the intersections of modern and contemporary literature, history and politics.

Jeanette Baxter Anglia Ruskin University Shanghai made my father arriving in England after WW2 he was a person of the world who'd witnessed extremes of human experience and remained the outsider observing life from his home in Shepperton. 1930s Shanghai: Paris of the East was a mix of international sophistication and violence, unfettered capitalism and acute poverty. American cars, martinis and Coca-Cola, a place marked by death and war. It had a profound influence on my father and his imagination. Dr Paddy's fascinating book explores my father's fiction within an international context and offers a profound reading of a man who always kept his eyes and mind open to the world. Fay Ballard. Literature and Nature Tawhida Akhter, Tariq Ahmad Bhat, 2022-01-27 During the last few decades there has been remarkable progress in research on various aspects of literature and nature. Different fields have been explored in this regard though there remain many fields yet to be explored. This book explores how nature plays an important role in the development of personality, looking at both its positive and negative effects. It also considers how literature has rightly portrayed the reality of a culture through its fictitious characters. The book will fulfil the needs of students, teachers, researchers and all stakeholders who are engaged in eco-feministic studies.

Utopias and Dystopias in the Fiction of H. G. Wells and William Morris Emelyne Godfrey, 2016-12-08 This book is about the fiercely contrasting visions of two of the nineteenth century's greatest utopian writers. A wide-ranging interdisciplinary study, it emphasizes that space is a key factor in utopian fiction, often a barometer of mankind's successful relationship with nature or an indicator of danger Emerging and critically acclaimed scholars consider the legacy of two great utopian writers exploring their use of space and time in the creation of sites in which contemporary social concerns are investigated and reordered A variety of locations is featured including Morris's quasi fourteenth century London the lush and corrupted island a routed and massacred English countryside the high rises of the future and the vertiginous landscape of another Earth beyond the stars

Globalization Development and Social Justice Ann El Khoury, 2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World Social Forum and alternative economies Globalization Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution not just contestation of global and local processes The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations globalization social movement studies political and economic geography sociology anthropology and development studies

After Human Thomas Connolly, 2021-04-01 Shortlisted for the British Fantasy Awards Non Fiction 2022 Shortlisted for the Locus Science Fiction Foundation Non Fiction Award 2022 SF has long been understood as a literature of radical potential capable of imagining entirely new worlds and ways of being Yet SF has been slow to embrace posthumanist ideas about the human subject The human of the SF tradition is instead a liminal being caught somewhere between the transcendent Man of classical humanism and the subversive cyborg of posthumanist thought This study offers a critical history of the human in SF By examining a range of SF works from 1818 to the 1970s it seeks to answer some key questions What role does technology play in defining what it means to be or not to be human How do these writers understand the relationship between humanity and the rest of nature And how can we use SF to re-examine our ethical position towards the non human world and move to more egalitarian understandings of the human subject

To Democratize or Not? Trials and Tribulations in the Postcolonial World Volkan Ipek, Ebru Ilter-Akarcay, 2020-07-06 This volume a product of the first Tricontinental Conference organized by Yeditepe University Istanbul brings together perspectives on democracy and development in Africa the Middle East and Latin America Representing local voices and insight the contributors here respond to the dearth of comparative analysis on these three regions In spite of the differences observed in colonial practices and postcolonial transitions a shared disenchantment with the performance of competitive politics comes to the forefront in these geographical areas. Decades after decolonization, low intensity democracy and the continuing potential for democratic reversals and backsliding make the study of these three regions relevant. Considering the debates on protests, social upheavals, activism, change and continuity, this book encourages the reader to survey the various trials and tribulations of the postcolonial era.

The Pleasures of Horror Matt Hills, 2005-06-20. Pleasures of Horror is a stimulating and insightful exploration of horror fictions, literary, cinematic and televisual, and the emotions they engender in their audiences. The text is divided into three sections. The first examines how horror is valued and devalued in different cultural fields; the second investigates the cultural politics of the contemporary horror film; while the final part considers horror fandom in relation to its embodied practices, film festivals, its reading formations, commercial fan magazines and fanzines, and the role of special effects. Representations of animality continue to proliferate in various kinds of literary and cultural texts. This pioneering volume explores the critical interface between animal and animality studies, marking out the terrain in relation to twentieth century literature and film. The range of texts considered here is intentionally broad, answering questions like: how do contemporary writers such as Amitav Ghosh, Terry Tempest Williams and Indra Sinha help us to think about not only animals but also humans as animals? What kinds of creatures are being constructed by contemporary artists such as Patricia Piccinini, Alexis Rockman and Michael Pestel? How do animalities animate such diverse texts as the poetry of two women publishing under the name of a Michael Field, or an early film by Thomas Edison depicting the electrocution of a circus elephant named Topsy? Connecting these issues to fields as diverse as environmental studies and ecocriticism, queer theory
