Historical Dictionary of Eritrea Dan Connell, 2019-07-15 In 1991 Eritrea won a 30 year war for independence from Ethiopia and in 1993 it was recognized as Africa's newest nation after more than a century of conquest and occupation by a succession of external powers that included the Ottomans Egypt Italy Great Britain and Ethiopia Each had left its mark while fostering a deep distrust of outsiders and a fierce commitment to Eritrea's separate political identity Eritrea and Ethiopia slipped into a chronic state of no peace no war that kept the entire Horn of Africa off balance for nearly two decades the standoff ended in 2018 when a newly installed Ethiopian prime minister reached out to Eritrea and set in motion a rapid fire series of talks among the states of the African Horn that broke down long standing barriers and raised hopes for a new era of regional peace and cooperation This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Eritrea contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 600 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Eritrea

In This Land of Plenty Benjamin Talton, 2019-08-23 On August 7 1989 Congressman Mickey Leland departed on a flight from Addis Ababa with his thirteen member delegation of Ethiopian and American relief workers and policy analysts bound for Ethiopia's border with Sudan This was Leland's seventh official humanitarian mission in his nearly decade long drive to transform U S policies toward Africa to conform to his black internationalist vision of global cooperation antiracism and freedom from hunger Leland's flight never arrived at its destination The plane crashed with no survivors When Leland embarked on that delegation he was a forty four year old deeply charismatic fiercely compassionate black radical American He was also an elected Democratic representative of Houston's largely African American and Latino Eighteenth Congressional District. Above all, he was a self-proclaimed citizen of humanity. Throughout the 1980s, Leland and a small group of former radical activist African American colleagues inside and outside Congress exerted outsized influence to elevate Africa's significance in American foreign affairs and to move the United States from its Cold War orientation toward a foreign policy devoted to humanitarianism, antiracism, and moral leadership. Their internationalism defined a new era of black political engagement with Africa. In This Land of Plenty presents Leland as the embodiment of larger currents in African American politics at the end of the twentieth century. But a sober look at his aspirations shows the successes and shortcomings of domestic radicalism and aspirations of politically neutral humanitarianism during the 1980s and the extent to which the decade was a major turning point in U.S. relations with the African continent. Exploring the links between political activism, electoral politics, and international affairs, Benjamin Talton not only details Leland's political career but also examines African Americans' successes and failures in influencing U.S. foreign policy toward African and other Global South countries.

Insurgent Fragmentation in the Horn of Africa Michael Woldemariam, 2018-02-15 When insurgent organizations factionalize and fragment, it can profoundly shape a civil war's intensity, outcome, and duration. In this extended treatment of this complex and important phenomenon, Michael Woldemariam examines why rebel organizations fragment through a unique historical analysis of the Horn of Africa's civil wars. Central to his view is that rebel factionalism is conditioned by battlefield developments. While fragmentation is caused by territorial gains and losses, counterintuitively, territorial stalemate tends to promote rebel cohesion and is a critical basis for cooperation in war. As a rare effort to examine these issues in the context of the Horn of Africa region based upon extensive fieldwork, this book will interest both scholarly and non-scholarly audiences interested in insurgent groups and conflict dynamics.

Changing Relations Between Churches in Europe and Africa Katharina Kunter, Jens Holger Schjørring, 2008 Proceedings from the conference 'Changing relationships between churches in Africa and Europe in the 20th century: Christian identity in the times of political crises' which took place October 8-12, 2005 at Makumira University College of Tumaini University in Tanzania.

Ploughing New Ground Getnet Bekele, 2017 In October 2016, the Ethiopian administration declared a State of Emergency in response to anti-government demonstrations and mass riots. Officially said to result from subversive activities channelled from Eritrea, Egypt, and diasporic populations in the West, the evidence in fact suggests that the riots stemmed from widespread internal dissatisfaction. Large-scale land dispossession following bilateral deals with transnational agribusiness, damming of major rivers, construction of sugar estates and industry parks, as well as urban sprawl, have put pressure on agricultural and rural areas. Today, displacement, drought, and widening inequalities surround fears of severe food shortages and political instability. Drawing on informant testimonies, court archives, field reports, and other sources, the author examines these developments in Ethiopia's lake region. He shows how transformations over time in spatial politics, state-society relations, and the organization of production and exchange have influenced the situation today and reveals the impact of these changes on a population of smallholder farmers for which agriculture is not only the mainstay of the national economy but a way of life Getnet Bekele is Associate Professor of History at Oakland University MI where he teaches African History and the Environmental and Economic History of Africa and the Global South The Eritrean Struggle for Independence Ruth Iyob,1995 This book is a comprehensive analysis of the country's political history over the past three decades Accountability for Mass Starvation Bridget Conley,Alex De Waal,Catriona Murdoch,Wayne Jordash QC,2022 This volume explores how famine and mass starvation in our lifetime are the result of man made policies and invariably occur during times of armed conflict It provides expert analysis on defining starvation early warning systems gender and mass starvation the use of sanctions reporting on and memory of famine
