Reformasi The Struggle For Power In Postsoeharto Indonesia:

Reformasi Kevin O'Rourke, 2002 A gripping account of Indonesia's political and economic struggles from the final days of Soeharto's rule through the first two years of Wahid's presidency Kevin O'Rourke's accessible and compelling style conveys the drama of recent events along with an in-depth understanding of the whole region Democratization in Post-Suharto Indonesia Marco Bunte, Andreas Ufen, 2008-08-21 This book gives an overview of the difficult and multilayered process of democratization in Indonesia since the fall of its long term autocratic ruler Suharto Regionalism in Post-Suharto Indonesia Maribeth Erb, Carol Faucher, Priyambudi Sulistiyanto, 2013-01-11 This book examines issues connected with decentralization and regional autonomy in Indonesia including particular autonomy movements the attempts by forces at the centre to resist decentralization and the impact of decentralization Political Reform in Indonesia After Soeharto Harold A. Crouch, 2010 Three decades of authoritarian rule in Indonesia came to a sudden end in 1998 The collapse of the Soeharto regime was accompanied by massive economic decline widespread rioting communal conflict and fears that the nation was approaching the brink of disintegration Although the fall of Soeharto opened the way towards democratization conditions were by no means propitious for political reform This book asks how political reform could proceed despite such unpromising circumstances It examines electoral and constitutional reform the decentralization of a highly centralized regime the gradual but incomplete withdrawal of the military from its deep political involvement the launching of an anti corruption campaign and the achievement of peace in two provinces that had been devastated by communal violence and regional rebellion fall of Suharto's New Order regime in 1998 The extent of Indonesia's progress in this area has been the subject of heated debate both in Indonesia and in Western capitals Human rights organizations and critical academics on the one hand have argued that the reforms implemented so far have been largely superficial and that Indonesia's armed forces remain a highly problematic institution Foreign proponents of military assistance to Indonesia on the other hand have asserted that the military has undergone radical change as evidenced by its complete extraction from political institutions This study evaluates the state of military reform eight years after the end of authoritarian rule pointing to both significant achievements and serious shortcomings Although the armed forces in the new democratic polity no longer function as the backbone of a powerful centralist regime and have lost many of their previous privileges the military has been able to protect its core institutional interests by successfully fending off demands to reform the territorial command structure As the military's primary source of political influence and off budget revenue the persistence of the territorial system has ensured that the Indonesian armed forces have not been fully subordinated to democratic civilian control This ambiguous transition outcome so far poses difficult challenges to domestic and foreign policymakers who have to find ways of effectively engaging with the military to drive the reform process forward This is the twenty third publication in Policy Studies a peer reviewed East West Center Washington series that presents scholarly analysis of key contemporary domestic and international political economic and strategic issues affecting Asia in a policy relevant manner

The Politics of Protection Rackets in Post-New Order Indonesia Ian Douglas Wilson, 2015-03-24 Gangs and militias have been a persistent feature of social and political life in Indonesia During the authoritarian New Order regime they constituted part of a vast network of sub contracted coercion and social control on behalf of the state Indonesia's subsequent democratisation has seen gangs adapt to and take advantage of the changed political context New types of populist street based organisations have emerged that combine predatory rent seeking with claims of representing marginalised social and economic groups Based on extensive fieldwork in Jakarta this book provides a comprehensive analysis of the changing relationship between gangs militias and political power and authority in post New Order Indonesia It argues that gangs and militias have manufactured various types of legitimacy in consolidating localised territorial monopolies and protection economies As mediators between the informal politics of the street and the world of formal politics they have become often influential brokers in Indonesia's decentralised electoral democracy More than mere criminal extortion it is argued that the protection racket as a social relation of coercion and domination remains a salient feature of Indonesia's post authoritarian political landscape This ground breaking study will be of interest to students and scholars of Indonesian and Southeast Asian politics political violence gangs and urban politics

Political Islam and Violence in Indonesia Zachary Abuza, 2006-09-25 Political Islam and Violence in Indonesia presents a penetrating new investigation of religious radicalism in the largest Muslim country in the world Indonesia is a country long known for its diversity and tolerant brand of Islam However since the fall of Suharto a more intolerant form of Islam has been growing one whose adherents have carried out terrorist attacks waged sectarian war and voiced strident anti Western rhetoric Zachary Abuza's unique analysis of radical Islam draws upon primary documents such as Jemaah Islamiyah's operations manual interviews and recorded testimonies of politicians religious figures and known militants as well as personal interviews with numerous security and intelligence experts in Indonesia and elsewhere to paint a picture at once guardedly optimistic about the future of Indonesian democracy and concerned about the increasing role of conservative and radical Islam in Indonesian society This book will be of great interest to students of Indonesian politics Asian studies political violence and security studies in general The Politics of Military Reform Jürgen Rüländ, Maria-Gabriela Manea, Hans

Born,2012-09-03 This volume seeks to explain why democratization and military reforms stagnate in newly democratizing countries The contributions blend historical ideational cultural and structural explanatory factors to analyze the trajectories of military reform in Indonesia and Nigeria two major regional powers that share many structural commonalities In the tradition of the literature on security sector reform SSR the book not only scrutinizes executive initiatives toward military reform but also provides ample coverage of societal actors Findings show that while military reform is stagnating in both countries societal forces ought to be taken into account more as major driving forces in explaining military reform Several chapters study how legislatures non governmental organizations and the civilian defence epistemic community contribute to the transformation of military institutions The last part of the book tackles another aspect rarely studied in the literature on military reform namely the role of militias in military reform The Politics of Securitization in Democratic Indonesia

Yandry Kurniawan,2017-08-21 The book presents a novel analytical perspective on Indonesia s security policies during its transition to democracy Kurniawan s analysis revolves around extraordinary measures and normal politics in response to the existential threat to the Indonesian state This perspective is at the centre of the analysis which examines the process of securitization and desecuritization taken by the Indonesian government This volume is essential reading for practitioners students of Indonesian politics and researchers alike The Indonesian Way Jürgen Rüdland,2017-12-12 On December 31 2015 the ten member Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN ushered in a new era with the founding of the ASEAN Community AC The culmination of 12 years of intensive preparation the AC was both a historic initiative and an unprecedented step toward the area s regional integration Political commentators and media outlets however greeted its establishment with little fanfare Implicitly and explicitly they suggested that the AC was only the beginning Southeast Asia they seemed to say was taking its first steps on a linear process of unification that would converge on the model of the European Union In The Indonesian Way Jürgen Rüdland challenges this previously unquestioned diffusion of European norms Focusing on the reception of ASEAN in Indonesia Rüdland traces how foreign policy stakeholders in government civil society the legislature academe the press and the business sector have responded to calls for ASEAN s Europeanization ultimately fusing them with their own distinctly Indonesian form of regionalism His analysis reframes the nature of ASEAN as well as the discipline of international relations more broadly writing a narrative of regional integration and norm diffusion that breaks free of Eurocentric thought Soeharto's New Order and Its Legacy Edward Aspinall,Greg Fealy,2010-08-01 Indonesia s President Soeharto led one of the most durable and effective authoritarian regimes of the second half of the twentieth century Yet his rule ended in ignominy and much of the turbulence and corruption of the subsequent years was blamed on his legacy More than a decade after Soeharto s resignation Indonesia is a consolidating democracy and the time has come to reconsider the place of his regime in modern Indonesian history and its lasting impact This book begins this task by bringing together a collection of leading experts on Indonesia to examine Soeharto and his legacy from diverse perspectives In presenting their analyses these authors pay tribute to Harold Crouch an Australian political scientist who remains one of the greatest chroniclers of the Soeharto regime and its aftermath Propaganda and the Genocide in Indonesia Saskia Wieringa,Nursyahbani Katjasungkana,2018-10-26 In Indonesia the events of 1st October 1965 were followed by a campaign to annihilate the Communist Party and its alleged sympathisers It resulted in the murder of an estimate of one million people a genocide that counts as one of the largest mass murders after WWII and the incarceration of another million many of them for a decade or more without any legal process This drive was justified and enabled by a propaganda campaign in which communists were painted as atheist hypersexual amoral and intent to destroy the nation To date the effects of this campaign are still felt and the victims are denied the right of association and freedom of speech This book presents the history of the genocide and propaganda campaign and the process towards the International People s Tribunal on 1965 crimes against humanity in Indonesia IPT 1965 which was held in November 2015 in The Hague The Netherlands The authors an Indonesian Human Rights lawyer and a Dutch academic examine this unique event which for the first time brings these crimes before an international court and its verdict They single out the campaign of hate propaganda as it provided the incitement to kill so many Indonesians and why this propaganda campaign is effective to this day The first book on this topic it fills a significant gap in Asian Studies and Genocide Studies Indonesia Betrayed Elizabeth Fuller Collins,2007-07-31 Supporters of neoliberalism claim that free markets lead to economic growth the creation of a middle class and the establishment of democratically accountable governments Critics point to a widening gap between rich and poor as countries compete to win foreign investment and to the effects on the poor of neoliberal programs that restrict funding for health education and welfare This book offers a ground level view from Sumatra of the realities behind these debates during the final years of Suharto s New Order and the beginning of a transition to more democratic government The author s wealth of primary data from ten years of interviews and local newspaper reportage 1994 2004 shows how farmers and laborers were dispossessed by both government policies and crony capitalism Elizabeth Collins relates the stories of populist efforts in South Sumatra to combat development policies responsible for producing extreme poverty and allowing corruption to flourish She describes how student led NGOs worked with farmers fighting to retain their livelihoods in the lowland forests of South Sumatra She reports on a local branch of the Indonesian Environmental Forum as it battled multinational companies and Indonesian conglomerates responsible for damage to the environment on contract workers protesting exploitation by a company with ties to a Suharto crony and on systemic corruption under the New Order which spread throughout all levels of government and into civil society organizations She examines the sometimes strained relationships between Islamists and human rights activists arguing that there is no inherent contradiction between Islam and democratic politics Collins concludes that for real change to occur neoliberal capitalism must be recognized as a utopian ideology democracy imperfect as it is offers the best hope for sustainable development in Indonesia Java, Indonesia and Islam Mark Woodward, 2010-10-28 Mark R Woodward's Islam in Java Normative Piety and Mysticism in the Sultanate of Yogyakarta 1989 was one of the most important works on Indonesian Islam of the era. This new volume Java Indonesia and Islam builds on the earlier study but also goes beyond it in important ways. Written on the basis of Woodward's thirty years of research on Javanese Islam in a Yogyakarta south central Java setting, the book presents a much needed collection of essays concerning Javanese Islamic texts, ritual, sacred space, situated in Javanese and Indonesian political contexts. With a number of entirely new essays as well as significantly revised versions of essays, this book is a valuable contribution to the academic community by an eminent anthropologist and key authority on Islamic religion and culture in Java.

Democratization in the Muslim World Frederic Volpi, Francesco Cavatorta, 2013-09-13 This book examines the role that political Islam plays in processes of democratization in the Muslim world, detailing the political processes that facilitate the collective learning of democratic ways of solving the practical problems of those polities. Democratization in the Muslim World represents an important contribution to the debate on democratization and political Islam that emphasises the synergetic effects and global reach of both Islamist and democratic politics. It comes to terms with the problematic relationship between Islam and democracy in the uncertain post Cold War post 9/11 world order by highlighting the malleability of Islamic discourses and of its institutional resources as well as the diversity of the political strategies of incumbent regimes to remain in power. It combines key theoretical issues and country specific studies of some of the most relevant Muslim polities of the post Cold War and post 9/11 era. This text was previously published as a special issue of Democratization and will be of interest to students of Middle East politics, governance, democracy and human rights.

Economic Empowerment Of Women In The Islamic World: Theory And Practice Toseef Azid, Jennifer L Ward-batts, 2020-06-22 The book Economic Empowerment of Women in the Islamic World discusses the economic, social and political rights and status of women in Islam, which is theoretically given by the Islamic Jurisprudence (Shariah) law. The chapters in this volume will address historical practices in comparison to the status of women in the contemporary Muslim world. Men and women in Islam, regardless of their age, social class and education, are equal as citizens and individuals but not identical in their rights and responsibilities. It can be observed from Islamic history that in the early age of Islam, women were given full confidence, trust and high responsibilities in leadership, educational guidance and decision making. This volume will try to clarify the confusion in the status of the women in Islam that is presented by the media, as it is assumed that theoretical Islamic empowerment of women bears little relation to the real conditions of women in modern Muslim societies. It has been widely claimed in the media that Muslim women suffer more than men in Muslim societies and communities in terms of insecurity, domestic abuse and low access to education and medical care. It is also stated in the press and media that absence of good governance also results in gender inequality and violation of the rights of Muslim women. This volume also aims to provide the solutions for the empowerment of women in the Islamic world. We assumed that without good governance, the status of women is not likely to improve.

Muslim women have the potential to play a fundamental role in curbing corruption social ills violence and crime in the Muslim world This volume will make the case that in order to achieve stability and prosperity the government must ensure a platform for women to participate in decision making and hence benefit from the rights they are accorded in Islam By covering a range of perspectives on the economic lives of Muslim women around the world it hopes to shed light on the problems faced and to offer possible solutions to the empowerment of women in the Islamic world
