Believing Without Belonging? Vinod John, 2020-11-19 This study examines an indigenous phenomenon of the Hindu devotees of Jesus Christ and their response to the gospel through an empirical case study conducted in Varanasi India. It analyzes their religious beliefs and social belonging and addresses the ensuing questions from a historical theological and missiological perspective. The data reveals that the respondents profess faith in Jesus Christ however most remain unbaptized and insist on their Hindu identity. Hence a heuristic model for a contextualized baptism as Guru diksha is proposed. The emergent church among Hindu devotees should be considered from the perspective of world Christianity as a disparate form of belonging while remaining within one's community of birth. The insistence on a visible church and a distinct community of Christ's followers is contested because the devotees should construct their contextual ecclesiology since it is an indigenous discovery of the Christian faith. Thus the Christian label for the adherents is dispensable while retaining their socio-ethnic Hindu identity. Christian mission should discontinue extraction and assimilation; instead missional praxis should be within the given sociocultural structures recognizing their idiosyncrasies as legitimate in God's eyes and in need of transformation like any human culture.

Counting Religion in Britain, 1970-2020 Clive D. Field, 2021-12-09 Counting Religion in Britain 1970-2020, the fourth volume in the author's chronological history of British secularization, sheds significant new light on the nature, scale, and timing of religious change in Britain during the past half century with particular reference to quantitative sources. Adopting a key performance indicators approach, twenty-one facets of personal religious belonging, behaving, and believing are examined, offering a much wider range of lenses through which the health of religion can be viewed and appraised than most contemporary scholarship. Summative analysis of these indicators by means of a secularization dashboard leads to a reaffirmation of the validity of secularization in its descriptive sense as the dominant narrative and direction of travel since 1970, while acknowledging that it is an incomplete process and without endorsing all aspects of the paradigmatic expression of secularization as a by-product of modernization.

Marxism, Mysticism and Modern Theory Suke Wolton, 2016-07-27 Fashionable new theories tend to reject universal reason in favour of pluralism and locality. Marxism, Mysticism, and Modern Theory examines some of these theories and argues that they are the mystified expression of the current political and economic impasse. Today's relativistic outlook reveals a minimalist and atomized viewpoint, a retreat from the goal of rational understanding. Marxism, Mysticism, and Modern Theory sets out in this critique the case for developing a new humanism to extend rationality.

The Experience of God Robyn Horner, 2022-10-20 Boldly argues that divine revelation makes much more sense if it is thought in terms of experience rather than belief.

Irish and British Reflections on Catholic Education Sean Whittle, 2021-02-20 This volume presents an interdisciplinary and systematic review of Catholic Education Studies across Ireland and Britain Taken together the chapters drill down to the foundations identity and leadership matters in Catholic education and schools It is in reading the complete volume that a more precise picture of Catholic education in Ireland and Britain develops into sharper focus This is important because it reflects and crystallises the complexity which has almost organically developed within the field of Catholic Education Studies It also provides a powerful antidote to the na ve reductionism that would boil Catholic education down to just one or two fundamental issues or principles Contemporary Catholic education perhaps globally but certainly in Ireland and Britain is best depicted in terms of being a colourful kaleidoscope of differing perspectives However this diversity is ultimately grounded in the underlying unity of purpose because each of the contributors to this volume is a committed advocate of Catholic education The volume brings together a rich range of scholars into one place so that these voices can be listened to as a whole It includes contributions from leading scholars blended with a plethora of other voices who are emerging to become the next generation of leading researchers in Catholic education It also introduces a number of newer voices to the academic context They present fresh perspectives and thinking about matters relating to Catholic education and each of them confidently stand alongside the other contributors Moreover these reflections on Catholic education are important fruits to have emerged from the collaboration made possible through the creation of the Network for Researchers in Catholic Education which was established in 2016 under the auspices of Heythrop College University of London World Christianity intimate acts with themselves and others      A New History of the Church in Wales Norman Doe,2020-03-05 This book marks the centenary of the Church in Wales following its disestablishment in 1920 Part I provides a historical overview from the Age of the Saints to Victorian times the disestablishment campaign Christianity in Wales since 1920 and broad issues faced over the century Part II explores the constitution bishops and archbishops clergy and laity Part III examines doctrine liturgy rites of passage and relations with other faith communities Part IV deals with the church and culture education the Welsh language and social responsibility Part V discusses the changing images of the Church and its future Around themes of continuity and change the book questions assumptions about the Church including its distinctive theology and Welshness ecumenical commitment approach to innovation and response to challenges posed by the State and wider world in an increasingly pluralist and secularised Welsh society over the century      Acts of Faith Rodney Stark,Roger Finke,2000-08-01 Finally social scientists have begun to attempt to understand religious behavior rather than to discredit it as irrational ignorant or foolish and Rodney Stark and Roger Finke have played a major role in this new approach Acknowledging that science cannot assess the supernatural side of religion and therefore should not claim to do so Stark and Finke analyze the observable human side of faith In clear and engaging prose the authors combine explicit theorizing with animated discussions as they move from considering the religiousness of individuals to the dynamics of religious groups and then to the religious workings of entire societies as religious groups contend for support The result is a comprehensive new paradigm for the social scientific study of religion      The Future of Christianity John Stenhouse,Brett Knowles,Antony Wood,2004 This book written by a group of New Zealand scholars theologians historians and lawyers examines the question of New Zealand s Western culture and Christianity The contributors explore recent debates over secularisation exploring its merits and explanatory power while also showing its limitations      Sociology in Nursing and Healthcare E-Book Hannah Cooke,2008-05-23 This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States Nursing practice needs to be informed by an understanding of people and the societies in which they live This introductory text has been designed specifically to discuss those aspects of sociology which are most relevant to nursing and the health care context in which it takes place A user friendly introduction to a subject which students often find strange and new Relates sociology to health and nursing to make the subject relevant to clinical practice Key concepts and chapter summaries aid learning and revision Case studies help relate theory to practice Reference lists in each chapter provide the evidence base Biographical notes on eminent sociologists help bring the subject to life Annotated Further Reading enables more in depth study      The Re-Enchantment of the West Christopher Partridge,2005-03-04 As a book about emergent spirituality in the contemporary West it focuses on the nature evolution and significance of new forms of religion and alternative spiritualities Part One of the book provides the theoretical background and guides the reader through some of the principal debates After an overview of the secularization thesis which argues that the West is becoming increasingly disenchanted the second chapter turns to the sociological analysis of new religions and alternative spiritualities Particular attention is given to the ideas of the sociologist of religion Ernst Troeltsch especially his enigmatic analysis of the emergence mystical religion which presciently provides helpful insights into understanding the contemporary alternative religious milieu Against sociologists such as Bryan Wilson and Steve Bruce this and the subsequent chapter argues that rather than being insignificant new forms of spirituality are actually proving to be a significant part of Western re enchantment Chapter 3 constructs a general theory of the re enchantment of the West Chris Partridge argues that Western Society is permeated by a broad occulture by which he means a reservoir of ideas beliefs theories and practices to which new religions unorthodox spiritualities film and popular music all draw attention This re enchantment of the West should not be seen as a superficial secondary development in the shadow of Christianity In many ways it is a religious phenomenon in its own right Partridge s arguments in this regard are well put and I warmly welcome this timely book Mikhael Rothstein University of Copenhagen Denmark

Religion in the Neoliberal Age François Gauthier, 2016-04-08 This book together with a complementary volume Religion in Consumer Society focuses on religion neoliberalism and consumer society offering an overview of an emerging field of research in the study of contemporary religion Claiming that we are entering a new phase of state religion relations the editors examine how this is historically anchored in modernity but affected by neoliberalization and globalization of society and social life Seemingly distant developments such as marketization and commoditization of religion as well as legalization and securitization of social conflicts are transforming historical expressions of religion and religiosity yet these changes are seldom if ever understood as forming a coherent structured and systemic ensemble Religion in the Neoliberal Age includes an extensive introduction framing the research area and linking it to existing scholarship before looking at four key issues 1 How changes in state structures have empowered new modes of religious activity in welfare production and the delivery of a range of state services 2 How are religion state relations transforming under the pressures of globalization and neoliberalism 3 How historical churches and their administrations are undergoing change due to structural changes in society and what new forms of religious body are emerging 4 How have law and security become new areas for solving religious conflicts Outlining changes in both the political institutional and cultural spheres the contributors offer an international overview of developments in different countries and state of the art representation of religion in the new global political economy

Divided by Faith and Ethnicity Andrea Althoff, 2014-01-31 Two unprecedented striking developments form part of the reality of many Latin Americans Recent decades have seen the dramatic rise of a new religious pluralism namely the spread of Pentecostal Christianity Catholic and Protestant alike and the growth of indigenous revitalization movements This study analyzes these major transitions asking what roles ethnicity and ethnic identities play in the contemporary process of religious pluralism such as the growth of the Protestant Pentecostal and neo Pentecostal movements the Catholic Charismatic Renewal and the indigenous Maya movement in Guatemala This book aims to provide an understanding of the agenda of religious movements their motivations and their impact on society Such a pursuit is urgently needed in Guatemala a postwar country experiencing acrimonious religious competition and a highly contentious debate on religious pluralism This volume is relevant to scholars and students of Latin American Studies Sociology of Religion Anthropology Practical Theology and Political Sciences A Fundamental Theological Study of Radical Secularization and its Aftermath Alpo Penttinen, 2024-01-17 In the wake of various secularization processes a growing number of people in Western societies are now describing themselves as non religious But what does this sociological fact really mean for the Church and for society at large Has human religiosity a future after secularization It does this book argues but in a radically altered form Taking its cue from Pope Francis's suggestion that globalizing humanity is presently living through a genuine epochal shift this book presents an original analysis of the transformative effect of secularization on our spiritual predicament in the Western now definitively post Christian world Instead of succumbing to the all too common polarizations in contemporary religious discourse this book aspires to overcome the religious vs secular dichotomy through developing the logic of Radical Secularization arguably the genuine novelty of the particularly Western process of secularization The past homogeneously religious culture is certainly dusking but this only paves the way for the dawn of the future and radically open horizon for our human search for meaning This challenging book will offer intellectual impulses and spiritual incentives to everybody who ponders the future of human religious evolution after secularization
