Neuroscience for Designing Green Spaces Agnieszka Olszewska-Guizzo,2023-05-30 Urban parks and gardens are where people go to reconnect with nature and destress But do they all provide the same benefits or are some better than others What specific attributes set some green spaces apart Can we objectively measure their impact on mental health and well being If so how do we use this evidence to guide the design of mentally healthy cities The Contemplative Landscape Model unveils the path to answer these questions Rooted in landscape architecture and neuroscience this innovative concept is described for the first time in an extended format offering a deep dive into contemplative design and the science behind it

In the face of the global mental health crisis and increasing disconnection from nature design strategies for creating healthier urban environments are what our cities so sorely need This book delves into the neuroscience behind contemplative landscapes their key spatial characteristics and practical applications of the Contemplative Landscape Model through case studies from around the world Landscape architects urban planners students land managers and anyone interested in unlocking the healing power of landscapes will find inspiration here Hyperconnectivity and Digital Reality Kathrin

Otrell-Cass,2019-08-23 This book addresses the topic of hyperconnectivity by building on expanding and critically examining issues that have to do with information communication technology ICT and networked societies The book explores questions relating to attention and consciousness techno capitalism and communicative action taking Adopting different philosophical angles to assess the challenges we face due to our entanglement with hyperconnected technologies the book studies performance and performativity in a digitised world by considering the unfolding of our onlife and by looking at what this means to educated future scientists and engineers in a hyperconnected world The book further discusses digital activities as the new constructs of ourselves and poses questions about how much literacy is needed for us not to be enslaved by those constructs The book also explores the challenges of hyperconnectivity and the health sector to showcase the vulnerabilities we are increasingly exposed to It makes clear that since the boundaries between on and offline are becoming increasingly blurred we will require new flexible frameworks that reconsider what it means to be human in a hyperconnected world
