Follow the Chemistry Lai Yoong Goh, 2010 This autobiography presents a personal account of the life of a woman academic over a span of 60 years from incidents in her childhood through the education process from primary to pre university education in British Malaya to two doctorates from University College London As the story unfolds it is immediately apparent that her journey in academia has been far from ordinary She gives credit to the excellent early education she received in Ipoh a medium sized town in Malaya from highly qualified and dedicated nuns and teachers in the Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus Hers was a career carved out by Providence as she drifted to various international centers of learning depending on the sponsorship of scholarships available at the time Her drive and passion for chemistry actually with other attributes as well allowed her to rub shoulders with some of the best minds in the field Her association with numerous colleagues mentors and scientists unintentionally and unknowingly laid the groundwork for a sort of global networking which in turn influenced her career path in subtle yet significant ways This proved immensely useful later as she balanced the rigorous demands of teaching research and family She has shown that it is not impossible for a woman to make a success of family and life in academia Indeed her story will encourage young women venturing into science and academia It also shows that developing countries more than their developed counterparts have a good deal to gain from their professional citizens by removing obstacles such as unduly early mandatory retirement and poor support for active researchers It is a refreshing glimpse into the author's generation in science and academia and a repository of important insights for students and scientists in developing and emerging economies

Invisible Labour in Modern Science Jenny Bangham, Xan

Chacko, Judith Kaplan, 2022-09-01 Invisible Labour in Modern Science is about the people who are concealed eclipsed or anonymised in accounts of scientific research Many scientific workers including translators activists archivists technicians curators and ethics review boards are absent in publications and omitted from stories of discovery Scientific reports are often held to ideals of transparency yet they are the result of careful judgments about what and what not to reveal Professional scientists are often celebrated yet they are expected to uphold principles of objective self denial The emerging and leading scholars writing in this book negotiate such silences and omissions to reveal how invisibilities have shaped twentieth and twenty first century science Invisibility can be unjust it can also be powerful What is invisible to whom and when does this matter How do power structures built on hierarchies of race gender class and nation frame what can be seen And for those observing science When does the recovery of the invisible serve social justice and when does it invade privacy Tackling head on the silences and dilemmas that can haunt historians this book transforms invisibility into a guide for exploring the moral sensibilities and politics of science and its history

Bomb, Book and Compass Simon Winchester, 2008-09-25 Before fate intervened Joseph Needham was a distinguished biochemist at Cambridge University married to a fellow scientist In 1937 he was asked to supervise a young Chinese student named Lu Gwei Djen and in that moment began the two greatest love affairs of his life Miss Lu and China Miss Lu inspired Needham to travel to China where he initially spent three dangerous years as a wartime diplomat He established himself as the pre eminent China scholar of all time firm in his belief that China would one day achieve world prominence By the end of his life Needham had become a truly global figure travelling endlessly and honoured by all though banned from America because of his politics And in 1989 after a fifty two year affair he finally married the woman who had first inspired his passion The Magnificent Barbarian is Simon Winchester at his best at once a magnificent portrait of one man s remarkable life and a riveting exploration of the country that so engaged him

Body Maps Lan A. Li, 2025-04-15 A historical and cultural study of how representing invisible anatomical structures has reshaped our understanding of human anatomy In Body Maps Lan A Li unveils a rich history of the hidden landscapes of the human body This compelling study explores the world of invisible anatomy explaining how hand drawn body maps have shaped our understanding of the human form across cultures and centuries From the meridian charts in East Asian medicine to neurophysiological illustrations Body Maps traces the evolution of anatomical representation from the tenth to the twentieth centuries Drawing on case studies across time and place from Kaifeng to Dejima and from Beijing to Berlin Li expertly navigates the complex interplay between Eastern and Western medical traditions At the heart of this history remains a perennial mystery How did representations of jingluo meridians become intertwined with and sometimes subsumed by concepts of nervous anatomy By examining the graphic history of these invisible structures Body Maps challenges our assumptions about the stability of medical knowledge and invites us to reconsider the nature of anatomical reality Each chapter opens with a single image and explores how practitioners negotiated between materiality and metaphor with the nature of the body and the symbols used to represent it Body Maps is a thought provoking exploration of how images shape our understanding of the world By bringing together insights from the history of science postcolonial studies art history Chinese studies critical cartography and medical anthropology Li offers a fresh perspective on the cultures of objectivity that have defined our approach to the human body Global History and New Polycentric Approaches Manuel Perez Garcia, Lucio De Sousa, 2017-12-06 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license Rethinking the ways global history is envisioned and conceptualized in diverse countries such as China Japan Mexico or Spain this collection considers how global issues are connected with our local and national communities It examines how the discipline had evolved in various historiographies from Anglo Saxon to southern European and its emergence in Asia with the rapid development of the Chinese economy motivation to legitimate the current uniqueness of the history and economy of the nation It contributes to the revitalization of the field of global history in Chinese historiography which have been dominated by national narratives and promotes a debate to open new venues in which important features such as scholarly mobility diversity and internationalization are firmly rooted putting aside national specificities Dealing with new approaches on the use of empirical data by framing the proper questions and hypotheses and connecting western and eastern sources this text opens a new forum of discussion on how global history has penetrated in western and eastern historiographies moving the pivotal axis of analysis from national perspectives to open new venues of global history The Autobiographical Self in Time and Culture Qi Wang, 2013-09-05 This book traces the developmental social cultural and historical origins of the autobiographical self the self that is made of memories of the personal past and of the family and the community It combines rigorous research compelling theoretical insights sensitive survey of real memories and memory conversations and fascinating personal anecdotes to convey a message the autobiographical self is conditioned by one's time and culture East Asian Science, Technology, and Medicine, 2005 Southeast Asian Personalities of Chinese Descent Leo Suryadinata, 2012 This is a bold project recording the lives of a particular group of Southeast Asians Most of the people whose biographies are included here have settled down in the ten countries that constitute the region Each of them has either self identified as Chinese or is comfortable to be known as someone of Chinese ancestry There are also those who were born in China or elsewhere who came here to work and do business including seeking help from others who have ethnic Chinese connections With the political and economic conditions of the region in a great state of flux for the past two centuries it is impossible to find consistency in the naming process Confucius had stressed that correct names make for the best relationships In this case Professor Leo Suryadinata has been pursuing for decades the elusive goal of finding the right name to give to the large numbers of people who have in one way or another made their homes in or made some difference to Southeast Asia I believe that when he and his colleagues selected the biographies to be included here they have taken a big step towards the rectification of identities for many leading personalities In so doing he has done us all a great service
