Sexual Fluidity Lisa M. Diamond, 2008-02-28 Is love blind when it comes to gender For women it just might be This unsettling and original book offers a radical new understanding of the context dependent nature of female sexuality Lisa M Diamond argues that for some women love and desire are not rigidly heterosexual or homosexual but fluid changing as women move through the stages of life various social groups and most important different love relationships This perspective clashes with traditional views of sexual orientation as a stable and fixed trait But that view is based on research conducted almost entirely on men Diamond is the first to study a large group of women over time She has tracked one hundred women for more than ten years as they have emerged from adolescence into adulthood She summarizes their experiences and reviews research ranging from the psychology of love to the biology of sex differences Sexual Fluidity offers moving first person accounts of women falling in and out of love with men or women at different times in their lives For some gender becomes irrelevant I fall in love with the person not the gender say some respondents Sexual Fluidity offers a new understanding of women s sexuality and of the central importance of love

Clark, 2007 This book and its contributors all of whom view literacy research as explicitly political and potentially transformative provide images and approaches that show how work with in the local can and must be connected to global issues in order to effect political action Researchers and educators are urged to take activist stances that directly affect and address the needs of all people across lines of race class ethnicity sexuality and gender The book is organized into three parts each focusing on different aspects of literacy research for political action These include theoretical considerations and methodological approaches that support this work a reconsideration of the roles of participants as collaborators in this kind of literacy research and finally examples of projects specifically aimed at addressing global issues through local research for political action

Bisexuality Thomas Geller, 1990

Queer Studies Brett Beemyn, Mickey Eliason, Michele Eliason, 1996-07

An anthology of expanded versions of papers presented at a November 1994 conference held at the University of Iowa with sections on issues of identity and queer theory in practice. Essays are distinguished by their accessibility to undergraduates and non-academic readers and cover areas that have often been marginalized by queer studies in the past such as race, transgender, bisexuality, and s/m. Subjects include recontextualizing butch in 20th-century lesbian culture and scientific racism and the invention of the homosexual body. Annotation copyright by Book News Inc, Portland, OR.

Women in Relationships with Bisexual Men Maria Pallotta-Chiarolli, 2016-03-08

Framed by a comprehensive review of international research literature and film, this book is an intimate journey into the experiences and insights of 79 Australian women in relationships with bisexual men. It takes us into the daily lives, sexual intimacies, and families of MOREs (mixed orientation relationships) that span the gamut from extremely oppressive experiences with bi-misogynist men to extremely liberating with bi-profeminist men. Aged 19 to 65, the women are in monogamous, open, and polyamorous relationships with bisexual, identifying, and/or bisexual-behaving men. The women themselves are bisexual, lesbian, heterosexual, while others refuse to categorize their own sexualities. The book addresses the discovery or disclosure of the man's bisexuality, how the relationships work and where they flounder, how the partners negotiate and establish new rules and boundaries to maintain their relationship, and the impact of class, rural/urban setting, ethnicity, indigeneity, race, religion, and education on these relationships. But this book isn't only about MOREs. The research, revelations, and reflections in this book tell us much about current and shifting global constructions and understandings of intimate relationships, sexual desires, and love, and the socio-cultural representations and labeling of genders and sexualities.

Territories of the Soul Nadia Ellis, 2015-08-27

Nadia Ellis attends to African diasporic belonging as it comes into being through black expressive culture. Living in the diaspora, Ellis asserts, means existing between claims to land and imaginative flights unmoored from the earth: that is, to live within the territories of the soul. Drawing on the work of José Martí, Ellis connects queerness, utopian potential, with diasporic aesthetics. Occupying the territory of the soul, being neither here nor there, creates in diasporic subjects feelings of loss, desire, and a sensation of a pull from elsewhere. Ellis locates these phenomena in the works of C. L. R. James, the tense encounter between George Lamming and James Baldwin at the 1956 Congress of Negro Artists and Writers in Paris, the elusiveness of the queer diasporic subject in Andrew Salkey's novel Escape to an Autumn Pavement, and the trope of spirit possession in Nathaniel Mackey's writing and Burning Spear's reggae. Ellis's use of queer and affect theory shows how geographies claim diasporic subjects in ways that nationalist or masculinist tropes can never fully capture. Diaspora, Ellis concludes, is best understood as a mode of feeling and belonging, one fundamentally shaped by the experience of loss.
