The Apologetics of Joy Joe Puckett Jr, 2013-05-30 Among all the arguments for the existence of God there may be none more personal and intimate than C S Lewis's Argument from Desire This book attempts to explain what the Argument from Desire is and why we believe that the argument is an inductively strong one In the spirit of C S Lewis Augustine and Pascal this book invites both the head and the heart of the reader to consider the case for God's existence While many arguments look out to the external world for evidence of God's existence this book calls the reader to look inward to the human heart While learning from classical thinkers particularly C S Lewis The Apologetics of Joy will bring both intuition and experience together to demonstrate the truth of divine presence in the world The reader will walk away with either a newfound faith or a reinforced conviction that has a strong intellectual and experiential dimension

Salvation in Celluloid Robert Pope, 2007-10 Much work in the field of theology and film lacks a really theological focus This book suggests a methodology based on the recognition of the imagination as the fundamental category in producing and interpreting film The argument is presented that the imagination holds theological significance when it is conceived of in certain ways As a result the book adopts the paradigmatic imagination an imagination which works within the paradigms of scripture or theological imagination one grounded in theological forms which is both noetic it is the image making faculty of the mind and almost ontological it is that which draws human beings into the future which they are able to construct or bring into being Once the theological paradigmatic imagination has been identified and justified its insights will be applied to Jesus films and Christ figure films asking whether or not they provide us with valid Christological understanding Films with redemptive or salvific themes are discussed as is the popularity of mythical stories and animation The final chapter will make the case that the engagement of the theological imagination with film is a method in practical theology
