Lure For A Falcon:

The Art of Falconry, by Frederick II of Hohenstaufen Frederick II (Holy Roman Emperor), Casey Albert Wood, Florence Marjorie Fyfe, 1943-06 De Arte Venandi cum Avibus was written shortly before the year 1250 by Frederick II Holy Roman Emperor King of Sicily and Jerusalem in whose court with its remarkably cosmopolitan and highly intellectual life may be found the real beginning of the Italian Renaissance In spite of its title it is far more than a dissertation on hunting There is a lengthy introduction dealing with the anatomy of birds an intensely interesting description of avian habits and the excursions of migratory birds Indeed this ancient book has long been recognized as the first zoological treatise written in the critical spirit of modern science The sumptuous volume now in hand is however the first translation into English of the complete text originally divided into a prologue and size books Together the translators and editors have at last made available this classic work and have adorned it with notes comments bibliographies and glossary They have produced a work of great value to zoologists especially the ornithologist and also to everyone interested in the history of science and in medieval art and letters     The Lure of the Falcon Gerald Summers, 1972-01-01     The Prairie Falcon Stanley H. Anderson, John R. Squires, 2014-10-03 Skillful hunters beautiful in flight Prairie Falcons inhabit the rocky cliffs of the American West These raptors range from southern Canada and northern North Dakota to Baja California Arizona New Mexico western and northern Texas and southeastern Coahuila Mexico This is the first book for a wide audience devoted exclusively to the Prairie Falcon Stanley Anderson and John Squires cover all aspects of the falcon's life history from mating and rearing young to hunting behaviors and the yearly migration cycle They provide complete descriptive characteristics for identifying Prairie Falcons and also compare them to other raptors especially the closely related Peregrine Falcon In addition the authors recount the long association of falcons with people which may extend back as far as 2000 BC They describe the practice of falconry from the Middle Ages until today And they assess the threats to Prairie Falcons posed by human activities from pesticide use and destruction of habitat to disruption of the breeding cycle by careless birdwatchers     Peregrine Falcon James H. Enderson, 2013-08-26 A superb success as a bird combining great speed aeronautical grace and fearlessness inhabitant of wild places inaccessible cliffs and skyscrapers worldwide dweller trans equatorial migrant and docile captive the peregrine falcon stands alone among all others of its kind Perhaps this is why so many varied people rushed to its aid when it faced decimation by pesticide poisoning In this personal and highly entertaining memoir Jim Enderson tells stories of a lifetime spent studying training breeding and simply enjoying peregrine falcons He recalls how his boyhood interest in raptors grew into an ornithological career in which he became one of the leading experts who helped identify DDT as the cause of the peregrine falcon's sudden and massive decline across the United States His stories reveal both the dedication that he and fellow researchers brought to the task of studying and restoring the peregrine and the hair raising adventures that sometimes befell them along the way Enderson also seamlessly weaves in the biology and natural history of the peregrine as well as anecdotes about its traditional and widespread use in falconry as an aggressive yet tractable hunter to offer a broad portrait of this splendid and intriguing falcon      The Kings and Their Hawks Robin S. Oggins, 2004-01-01 Hunting with birds of prey was a popular sport in medieval England in both the royal household amongst the nobility who had the money to afford to retain falconers buy the birds This book offers a detailed history of royal falconry from the 11th to the 14th century      Lure for a Falcon Giulia Gray, 1986      Falcons and Foxes in the U.K. A. Lee Chichester, 2003 A once in a lifetime experience chronicled with humor and passion this memoir details the life altering 1995 summer during which a nature lover becomes a hunter One of those rare quantities a woman falconer Chichester discovered that her outlook on the world nature and herself changed radically during her pursuit of the ancient art in a foreign country Training captive bred hybrid falcons riding horseback to the flight of a falcon in pursuit of a crow belting across the fells and pastures of the United Kingdom the author deals with fears preconceptions and a very steep learning curve after which she is changed forever      A Sparrowhawk's Lament David Cobham, 2014-07-06 Britain is home to fifteen species of breeding birds of prey from the hedgerow hopping Sparrowhawk to the breathtaking White tailed Eagle In this handsomely illustrated book acclaimed British filmmaker and naturalist David Cobham offers unique and deeply personal insights into Britain's birds of prey and how they are faring today He delves into the history of these magnificent birds and talks in depth with the scientists and conservationists who are striving to safeguard them In doing so he profiles the writers poets and filmmakers who have done so much to change the public's perception of birds of prey There are success stories five birds of prey that were extinct have become reestablished with viable populations but persecution is still rife Featuring drawings by famed wildlife artist Bruce Pearson this book reveals why we must cherish and celebrate our birds of prey and why we neglect them at our peril      Chambers's New Handy Volume American Encyclopædia , 1885      Chambers's New Handy Volume American Encyclopædia , 1883      Cool North Wind Stephen Steubner, 2002-03 When you're around him you feel like a bit of a disciple a There are a few people in this world who revealed something that was important to know a People like Jacques Cousteau a He showed you the world beneath the sea and he made you fall in love with it a This is what Morley did with birds of prey a Roy Disney      The Mobility Forum , 2002      The Hand that Feeds Alexander Mullan, Riley Smallman, Herre de Bondt , Juliette Waterman, 2025-05-13 Food plays a major part in shaping human animal relations from nurturing farm and zoo animals to bringing wild birds into suburban gardens Food mediated interactions create personal interspecies bonds enrich and alter environments change species distributions enable new relationships and reconfigure social perspectives but also lead to many concerns over health and disease for example as well as conflicts over spaces and resources However previous attention has almost exclusively focused on the purpose driven utilitarian and economic aspects of feeding rather than the affective and emotional encounters that motivate many feeding practices Presenting new research and interdisciplinary case studies The Hand that Feeds considers animal feeding from historic to modern times The volume explores the nuances and complexity of non utilitarian feeding relationships across urban and rural divides in the wild on the farm at the zoo and in the garden and how our feeding relationships have altered animal distributions and behaviours The authors scrutinise contrasts between which species are promoted and which are persecuted and how the species we choose to feed reflects broader world views and cultural values Ultimately this volume engages in the discussion of how we feed why we feed which animals we deem worthy of feeding and the widespread impacts of feeding relations Praise for The Hand that Feeds An innovative and exciting collection of studies exploring the cultural phenomenon of animal feeding Drawing on cutting edge approaches and case studies from wild raptors to livestock and zoo animals The Hand that Feeds has started a new conversation on this fundamental relationship between other species and ourselves Aleks Pluskowski University of Reading This fascinating book explores the how why and consequences of people feeding other species drawing on perspectives from the historical life and social sciences Different voices bring diverse observations and viewpoints to a refreshingly lively and informative discussion of a topic that is anything but simple Terry O Connor University of York This is a fantastic interdisciplinary collection interrogating how human animal relations are mediated by food Food can be an enticement a medicine or a poison it can be a vehicle for protection and bonding or distance and killing Dolly J rgensen University of Stavanger
