Lancashire's Seaside Piers Martin Easdown,2009-11-19 In this a companion volume to his definitive history of Yorkshires pleasure piers Martin Easdown turns his expert attention westward to the Lancashire coast His highly illustrated survey of the piers constructed at famous resorts like Blackpool Morecambe Southport and St Annes on Sea celebrates structures that are among the most exuberant and evocative of the Victorian age Each of these historic piers has its own character and story yet all of them represent the optimistic style of the British seaside resort at the peak of its popularity In those days the Lancashire coast and Blackpool in particular became the principal holiday destination for the workers of the nearby industrial towns during their Wakes Weeks The piers that survive are fascinating relics of that lost age In this meticulously researched account Martin Easdown describes how these extraordinary buildings came to be constructed how they were designed and financed how they were used and how hazards beset them fire storm ship collision war damage and ever present threat of insolvency His entertaining book reveals and records a neglected aspect of the history of Lancashire and the northwest

Yearbook 1982 David A. Reeder,1982 Busby's Last Crusade Jeff Connor,2020-12-01 A pictorial history of Manchester United's rise from the 1958 Munich air disaster to a European Cup win ten years later and the manager who led them there. With words from best selling author Jeff Connor and over 200 images many of them new to the public this is one man's search for his personal Holy Grail and his determination to get there. This is not a eulogy for Sir Matt Busby. As Connor points out his roles as a club director after 1968 will always be questioned and that King Arthur would never have succeeded without his knights Duncan Edwards, Roger Byrne, Bobby Charlton, George Best, Denis Law and above all Jimmy Murphy. All of these and others lighten the pages of a book certain to be seen by fans everywhere as a permanent memoir of an unforgettable era.

The Emotional Economy of Holidaymaking Yaara Bengor Alaluf,2021-03-04 It is often taken for granted that holiday resorts sell intangible commodities such as freedom, enjoyment, pleasure and relaxation. But how did the desire for a happy holiday emerge, how was the right to rest legitimized and how are emotions produced by commercial enterprises? To answer these questions The Emotional Economy of Holidaymaking explores the rise of popular holidaymaking in late nineteenth century Britain which is generally considered to be the birthplace of mass tourism. Drawing on a wide range of texts including medical literature, parliamentary debates, advertisements, travel guides, popular stories and personal accounts, the book unravels the role emotions played in British spa and seaside holiday cultures. Introducing the concept of an emotional economy, Yaara Bengor Alaluf traces the overlapping impact that psychological and economic thought had on moral ideals and performative practices of work and leisure. Through a vivid account of changing attitudes toward health, pleasure, social class and gender in late Victorian and Edwardian Britain, she explains why the democratization of holidaymaking went hand in hand with its emotionalization. Combining the history of emotions with the sociology of commodification, the book offers an innovative approach to the study of the leisure and entertainment industries and a better understanding of how medicalized conceptions of emotions influenced people's dispositions, desires, consumption habits and civil rights. Looking ahead to the central place of tourism in twenty-first century societies and its relation to stress and burnout, The Emotional Economy of Holidaymaking calls on future research of past and present leisure cultures to take emotions seriously and to rethink notions of rationality, authenticity and agency.
