New Deal For The Arts:

A New Deal for the Arts Bruce I. Bustard, 1997 Tells the story of the New Deal arts projects between 1933 and 1943 based on a 1997 exhibit at the National Archives and Records Administration Themes include the projects use of American history celebration of the common man and woman support for the New Deal political activism and the spons A New Deal for the Arts, 1997 New Deal Art in Alabama Anita Price Davis, Jimmy S. Emerson, 2015-08-17 As the United States struggled to recover from the Great Depression 24 towns in Alabama would directly benefit from some of the 83 million allocated by the Federal Government for public art works under the New Deal In the words of Harold Lloyd Hopkins administrator of the Federal Emergency Relief Act artists had to eat too and these funds aided people who needed employment during this difficult period in American history This book examines some of the New Deal art murals reliefs sculptures frescoes and paintings of Alabama and offers biographical sketches of the artists who created them An appendix describes federal art programs and projects of the period 1933 1943 New Deal Art in North Carolina Anita Price Davis, 2008-11-12 As the people and economy of the United States struggled to recover during the Great Depression 42 towns in North Carolina would benefit directly from the 83 million the federal government allocated for public art as part of the New Deal The result was some of the state s most memorable murals sculptures reliefs paintings oils and frescoes most of which were installed in post offices and courthouses This book is the only record of all of the North Carolina public art works under the program It provides in depth accounts of the works themselves and the artists who created them Photographs of all of the buildings that originally received the art the works themselves and almost all of the 41 artists are provided An appendix describes federal art projects 1933 1943 There are detailed footnotes an extensive bibliography and an index

Women, Art and the New Deal Katherine H. Adams, Michael L. Keene, 2016-01-04 In 1935 the United States Congress began employing large numbers of American artists through the Works Progress Administration fiction writers photographers poster artists dramatists painters sculptors muralists wood carvers composers and choreographers as well as journalists historians and researchers Secretary of Commerce and supervisor of the WPA Harry Hopkins hailed it a renaissance of the arts if we can call it a rebirth when it has no precedent in our history Women were eminently involved creating a wide variety of art and craft interweaving their own stories with those of other women whose lives might not otherwise have received attention This book surveys the thousands of women artists who worked for the U S government the historical and social worlds they described and the collaborative depiction of womanhood they created at a pivotal moment in American history Women and the Spirit of the New Deal Nat'l New Deal Preservation Assn, Frances Perkins Center, Living New Deal, 2019-03-15 The book highlights the extensive role of women in the programs and operations of the New Deal under President Franklin D Roosevelt It was prepared for a two day conference Women and the Spirit of the New Deal held in Berkeley California on October 5 6 2018 The conference was jointly sponsored by The Living New Deal The National New Deal Preservation Association and The Frances Perkins Center The brief biographies of approximately 100 women include some individuals who were known to the public and remembered by historians while others operated behind the scenes and have been virtually forgotten Some were prominent during the period 1933 1945 while not formally linked to government programs Most played significant roles in the numerous agencies projects and programs of the federal government during a dozen years when the relationship between the government and American citizens was profoundly reshaped The women include politicians administrators lawyers social workers authors journalists painters sculptors musicians and scientists The book begins a process of identifying hundreds if not thousands of women whose roles during this eventful period were of consequence in contributing to the transformations that took place through the initiatives of the Roosevelt Administration Our hope is that readers of this book will contribute the names and descriptions of additional women including modifications and or elaborations of the biographies contained herein to the websites of the three sponsoring organizations where they will be available to students scholars and interested citizens The Living New Deal www.livingnewdeal.org The National New Deal Preservation Association www.newdeallegacy.org The Frances Perkins Center www.FrancesPerkinsCenter.org The Record United States. National Archives and Records Administration,1994 Prologue ,1996 Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Shaping of American Political Culture Nancy Beck Young,William D. Pederson,Byron W. Daynes,2001 Examines FDR and the New Deal era from the perspectives of social and cultural history political science popular culture and political history

Amendments to the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Select Subcommittee on Education,1970 Democratic Art Sharon Ann Musher,2015-05-04 Throughout the Great Recession American artists and public art endowments have had to fight for government support to keep themselves afloat It wasn't always this way At its height in 1935 the New Deal devoted 27 million roughly 461 million today to supporting tens of thousands of needy artists who used that support to create more than 100 000 works Why did the government become so involved with these artists and why weren't these projects considered a frivolous waste of funds as surely many would be today In Democratic Art Sharon Musher explores these questions and uses them as a springboard for an examination of the role art can and should play in contemporary society Drawing on close readings of government funded architecture murals plays writing and photographs Democratic Art examines the New Deal's diverse cultural initiatives and outlines five perspectives on art that were prominent at the time art as grandeur enrichment weapon experience and subversion Musher argues that those engaged in New Deal art were part of an explicitly cultural agenda that sought not just to create art but to democratize and Americanize it as well By tracing a range of aesthetic visions that flourished during the 1930s this highly original book outlines the successes shortcomings and lessons of the golden age of government funding for the arts New Deal Art Harriet W. Fowler,1985 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1989 Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1989 Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education,1970      Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Education and Labor United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor,1969      Hearings, Reports, Public Laws United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor,1967      New Deal Art of the Upper Midwest Lea Rosson DeLong,1988      Public Art Cher Krause Knight,2011-09-23 This book takes a bold look at public art and its populist appeal offering a more inclusive guide to America's creative tastes and shared culture It examines the history of American public art from FDR's New Deal to Christo's The Gates and challenges preconceived notions of public art expanding its definition to include a broader scope of works and concepts Expands the definition of public art to include sites such as Boston's Big Dig Las Vegas Treasure Island and Disney World Offers a refreshing alternative to the traditional rhetoric and criticism surrounding public art Includes insightful analysis of the museum and its role in relation to public art

Museums and Public Art? Cher Krause Knight,Harriet F. Senie,2018-06-11 While many museums have ignored public art as a distinct arena of art production and display others have either grudgingly or enthusiastically embraced it Some institutions have partnered with public art agencies to expand the scope of special exhibitions other museums have attempted to establish in house public art programs This is the first book to contextualize the collaborations between museums and public art through a range of essays marked by their coherence of topical focus written by leading and emerging scholars and artists Organized into three sections it represents a major contribution to the field of art history in general and to those of public art and museum studies in particular It includes essays by art historians critics curators arts administrators and artists all of whom help to finally codify the largely unwritten history of how museums and public art have and continue to intersect Key questions are both addressed and offered as topics for further discussion Who originates such public art initiatives funds them and most importantly establishes the philosophy behind them Is the efficacy of these initiatives evaluated in the same way as other museum exhibitions and programs Can public art ever be a permanent feature in any museum And finally are the museum and public art ultimately at odds or able to mutually benefit one another
