Handbook of Research on Distribution Channels Charles A. Ingene, James R. Brown, the late Rajiv P. Dant, 2019
Distribution channels are the most complex element of the marketing mix to fully grasp and to profitably manage In this Handbook the authors present cutting edge research on channel management and design from analytical conceptual and empirical perspectives The breadth of this Handbook makes it appropriate for use in a doctoral course on distribution channels or as a knowledge broadening resource for faculty and researchers who wish to understand types of channels research that are outside the scope of their own approach to distribution Federal Register ,2002-05-03 The Flow Analysis of Labour Markets Ronald Schettkat, 1996-08-08 Well functioning labour markets are a precondition for economic development Here leading researchers present an overview of labour market workings providing new theoretical and empirical insights Entrepreneurship and the Market Process David A Harper, 2002-01-08 Entrepreneurship is central to the market process and yet most theories of it fail to tackle the problem of how economic agents learn from their experience This book redresses this by systematically applying the ideas of Karl Popper It treats the entrepreneur as a theorist who develops conjectures which are then tested by exposure to the market in an effort to eliminate errors This is a critical aspect of the development of new ventures as most entrepreneurial ideas turn out to be mistakes at least in their original form Index of Conference Proceedings Received British Library. Document Supply Centre, 1987 Indian Economy and Society in the Era of Globalisation and Liberalisation Ali Mohammed Khusro, N. S. Siddharthan, 2005 A Tribute To The Great Economist Prof A M Khusro This Book Seeks To Address Issues Of Current Relevance Agriculture Land Reforms And Anti Poverty Programmes Environment Globalisation Liberalisation And Trade Macro Models And Growth Population Secularism And Religion Trade, Industrial Policy, and International Competition, Second Edition Richard G. Harris, 2015-10-01 Richard Harris's now classic study on trade and industrial policy was written for the Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada also known as the Macdonald Commission First published in 1985 when the Canadian economy faced dramatic changes arising from the emergence of manufacturing competitors among newly industrialized nations and increased protectionism in the US its recommendations were instrumental in the negotiation of the North America Free Trade Agreement Addressing the key issues surrounding the design and choice of policies for the Canadian economy Trade Industrial Policy and International Competition reviews the theory and evidence concerning trade liberalization as a mechanism to enhance economic growth disinvestment in sections that are disadvantageous in the international marketplace and future problems for the marketing sector caused by increasing competition from developing countries Drawing from many streams of conventional economic thinking Harris develops an original and sophisticated model for assessing the broader economic impacts of trade liberalization on the Canadian economy He concludes that free trade and industrial policy should be regarded as complementary not substitutes for one another and recommends a free trade agreement with the United States as a top priority A new introduction by David Wolfe situates this work within its time and shows how Harris s analytical insights and policy prescriptions are as relevant today as they when they were originally crafted three decades ago
