Some of These Days James Donald, 2015-04-27 With peerless talent and unrivalled international presence few stars shone brighter in the heady firmament of the Jazz Age than Josephine Baker and Paul Robeson Electric charismatic and unforgettable both ignited the modern imaginations of cosmopolitan centers across Europe Unabashedly themselves they inspired poets architects novelists and filmmakers across London Paris Berlin and Vienna with their indomitable artistic energy But Some of These Days extends beyond pure dual biography to recreate the rich community of artists who interacted with and were influenced by Baker and Robeson James Donald highlights how the sense of excitement and artistic renewal ushered in with the New Negro Movement reverberated far beyond Harlem Throughout this chronicle Donald underscores the relationship of African American aesthetics to the modernist movement that flourished from the 1920s until the end of World War II Vivid portraits of artists like T S Eliot HD Carl Van Vechten Marlene Dietrich Jean Gabin and Adolf Loos among others animate the study Traversing countries and artforms Some of These Days illustrates the immense cross cultural collaboration of film song dance and literature that coalesced to create modernist culture where the new rhythms of the machine age were gleefully embraced allowing art to consider the new possibilities of cosmopolitanism in a modern world Engagingly written and lavishly illustrated Some of These Days recovers not just the romance excitement and uncertainty of Baker and Robeson s storied rise to stardom but also the political and cultural legacy of the movement that they embodied

Kenneth Rexroth and James Laughlin Kenneth Rexroth, 1991 Frankly H Miller was defended by me only because he spoke against the War and I think that was the main reason for his fame Now I do not believe what with Palmistry Chiropgraphy Phrenology and the Great Cryptogram he will survive the retooling period I honestly think he is the most insufferable snob I have ever met but all reformed pandhandlers are like that in a letter from Kenneth Rexroth to James Laughlin

Theology S. Pedersen, 2014-04-09 New Directions in Biblical Theology contains the papers of an international conference on Biblical Theology which was organized by the Faculty of Theology of Aarhus University on the occasion of its 50th anniversary. The papers delivered at the conference address a number of fundamental issues evolving from the recently revived debate on Biblical Theology. The first group of contributions deals with essential topics such as the biblical concept of revelation and the interpretation of the Old Testament as presented by the apostle Paul by the evangelists Matthew, Mark, and John, and by the Letter to the Hebrews. Further contributions treat themes such as the re-use of a given biblical tradition, the theology of creation, apocalyptic, the concept of mercy, the community's role in transmission and interpretation, and the primary aspects of the concept of God.

Thomas Salmon: Writings on Music Benjamin Wardhaugh, 2017-07-05 This is the second volume in a two-part set on the writings of Thomas Salmon. Salmon (1647-1706) is remembered today for the fury with which Matthew Locke greeted his first foray into musical writing, the Essay to the Advancement of Musick (1672), and the near-farcical level to which the subsequent pamphlet dispute quickly descended. Salmon proposed a radical reform of musical notation involving a new set of clefs which he claimed and Locke denied would make learning and performing music much easier. These writings are the subject of Volume I. Later in his life, Salmon devoted his attention to an exploration of the possible reform of musical pitch. He made or renewed contact with instrument makers and performers in London with the mathematician John Wallis, with Isaac Newton, and with the Royal Society of London through its Secretary Hans Sloane. A series of manuscript treatises and a published Proposal to Perform Musick in Perfect and Mathematical Proportions (1688) paved the way for an appearance by Salmon at the Royal Society in 1705 when he provided a demonstration performance by professional musicians using instruments specially modified to his designs. This created an explicit overlap between the spaces of musical performance and of experimental performance, as well as raising questions about the meaning and the source of musical knowledge similar to those raised in his work on notation. Benjamin Wardhaugh presents the first published scholarly edition of Salmon's writings on pitch, previously only available mostly in manuscript.

Judicial Politics Kevin T. McGuire, 2012-03-15 With its often vague legal concepts and institutions that operate according to unfamiliar procedures, judicial decision making is in many respects a highly enigmatic process. New Directions in Judicial Politics seeks to demystify the courts, offering readers the insights of empirical research to address questions that are of genuine interest to students. In addition to presenting a set of conclusions about the way in which courts operate, this book also models the craft of political research, illustrating how one can account for a variety of factors that might affect the courts and how they operate. The renowned scholars and teachers in this volume invite critical thinking not only about the substance of law and courts in America but also about the ways in which we study judicial politics.

Strategy Coordinator R. Bruce Carlton, 2011 In 1976 the Southern Baptist Convention adopted its Bold New Thrusts in Foreign Missions with the overarching goal of sharing the gospel with every person in the world by the year 2000. The formation of Cooperative

Services International CSI in 1985 and the assigning of the first non residential missionary NRM in 1987 demonstrated the Foreign Mission Board's now International Mission Board commitment to take the gospel message to countries that restricted traditional missionary presence and to people groups identified as having little or no access to the gospel. Carlton traces the historical development along with an analysis of the key components of the paradigm and its significant impact on Southern Baptists missiology. Dr Carlton has produced an outstanding one of a kind work addressing the influence of the non residential missionary strategy coordinator's role in Southern Baptist missions. This well written scholarly text examines the twentieth century global missiological currents that influenced the leadership of the International Mission Board resulting in a new paradigm to assist in taking the gospel to the nations. Dr Carlton writes as both a missiologist and a missionary. This work reveals the keen eye of a scholar but also the heart of a practitioner who desires to see the multiplication of disciples, leaders and churches across the globe. This text is a must read for anyone longing to know more about the recent history of the International Mission Board and the theology and missiology behind the SC role and church planting movements. J D Payne, National Missionary, North American Mission Board and Assistant Professor of Church Planting and Evangelism, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. I have enjoyed friendship and partnership in the gospel with Bruce Carlton in different capacities. When I served as the Strategy Coordinator for a South Asian city, Bruce was my supervisor. He helped me understand what I was trying to do and how I should be doing it. Since my return to pastoral ministry in America, Bruce has been a missiological dialogue partner. In both capacities, Bruce has been a flame stoker fanning the flames of commitment to make disciples of all nations. I'm glad that Bruce has taken on the task of explaining and evaluating the development of the Nonresidential Missionary NRM and Strategy Coordinator SC paradigms. He writes from three important perspectives. Bruce writes as an insider. In Cambodia, Bruce was a practitioner of what has developed into the SC approach. His work was at the wellspring of hundreds of reproducing churches. After leaving Cambodia, Bruce taught and mentored many men and women in methodologies for planting reproducing churches. Bruce has lived through the development of these paradigms as an effective practitioner. Bruce writes as an insightful researcher. He asks important questions about the NRM, SC and Church Planting Movement paradigms and searches for honest answers. Finally, Bruce writes as a respecifier of the relational character of missions. On the front lines of gospel advance, the Spirit mediates the word through people. Grand strategies and paradigms also develop within relational contexts. From these three perspectives, Bruce helps us understand why the paradigms have developed as they have and equips us to ask key questions as we look forward. E. Coye Still III, PhD. R. Bruce Carlton served in Asia from 1986 to 2007 as a church planter, Strategy Coordinator and trainer in areas and among peoples with little or no access to the gospel. He is the author of Acts 29: Practical Training for Facilitating Church Planting Movements Among the Neglected Harvest Fields, a manual for training Strategy Coordinators that has been translated into seventeen different languages. Presently, Carlton serves as the Associate Professor of Missions at Boyce College, a school of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville Kentucky USA      Achieving Excellence in Fundraising Timothy L. Seiler, Eva E. Aldrich, Eugene R. Tempel, 2010-12-01 Hank Rosso's Achieving Excellence in Fund Raising 3rd Edition explains the fund raising profession's major principles, concepts, and techniques. A host of respected authors demonstrate why fund raising is a strategic management discipline and elucidate each step in the fund raising cycle: assessing human and societal needs, setting goals, selecting gift markets, and fund raising techniques; soliciting new gifts and encouraging renewals. This book provides a conceptual foundation for the fund raising profession, thoroughly examining its principles, strategies, and methods. Using practical examples, the authors explain the reasoning behind the planning and selection of strategies for all fund raising activities. Edited by Gene Tempel, Executive Director of Indiana University's Center on Philanthropy, this third edition of the Rosso's fund raising classic both retains the original philosophical principles of the first edition and offers new insights on recent fund raising developments. Each chapter has been updated, and Tempel has added new sections on technology and fund raising, the internet, women as donors, stewardship, and fund raising as a profession. Authors include such fund raising luminaries as Tim Seiler, Dwight Burlingame, Lilya Wagner, Mal Warwick, Kay Sprinkel, Grace, and Kim Klein.

Principles and Practice of Psychiatric Rehabilitation Patrick W. Corrigan, Kim T. Mueser, Gary R. Bond, Robert E. Drake, Phyllis Solomon, 2012-08-22 This comprehensive, authoritative text provides a state-of-the-art review of current knowledge and best practices for helping adults with psychiatric disabilities move forward in their recovery process. The authors draw on extensive research and clinical expertise to accessibly describe the whats, whys, and how-tos of psychiatric rehabilitation. Coverage includes tools and strategies for assessing clients' needs and strengths, integrating medical and psychosocial interventions, and implementing supportive services in such areas as housing, employment, social networks, education, and physical health. Detailed case examples in every chapter illustrate both the real-world challenges of severe mental illness and the nuts and bolts of effective interventions.

The Pace of Modernity O. Bradley Bassler, 2012

Wittgenstein said that philosophers should greet each other not by saying Hello but rather Take your time. But what is time? Time is money, but this points to an even better answer to this basic question for our modern epoch: time is acceleration. In a cultural system which stresses economic efficiency, the quicker route is always the more prized, if not always the better one. Wittgenstein's dictum thus constitutes an act of rebellion against the dominant vector of our culture, but as such it threatens to become quickly anti-modern. We need an approach to reading our information-rich culture which is not reactionary but rather meets its accelerated condition. In this book, O. Bradley Bassler develops a toolkit for acute reading of our modern pace, not through withdrawal but rather through active engagement with a broad range of disciplines. The main characters in this drama comprise a cast of master readers: Hannah Arendt, Jean Starobinski, Harold Bloom, Angus Fletcher, Hans Blumenberg, and John Ashbery, with secondary figures drawn from the readers and critics whom this central group suggests. We must develop a vocabulary of pacing, reflecting our modern distance from classical sources and the concomitant acceleration of our contemporary condition Only in this way can we begin to situate the phenomenon of modernity within the larger scales of human culture and history

Fashioning Jewish Identity in Medieval Western Christendom Robert Chazan,2003-11-27 During the course of the twelfth century increasing numbers of Jews migrated into dynamically developing western Christendom from Islamic lands The vitality that attracted them also presented a challenge Christianity from early in its history had proclaimed itself heir to a failed Jewish community and thus the vitality of western Christendom was both appealing and threatening to the Jewish immigrants Indeed western Christendom was entering a phase of intense missionising activity some of which was directed at the long term Jewish residents of Europe and the Jewish newcomers This 2003 study examines the techniques of persuasion adopted by the Jewish polemicists in order to reassure their Jewish readers of the truth of Judaism and the error of Christianity At the very deepest level these Jewish authors sketched out for their fellow Jews a comparative portrait of Christian and Jewish societies the former powerful but irrational and morally debased the latter the weak but reasonable and morally elevated urging that the obvious and sensible choice was Judaism
