The Problems and Promise of Commercial Society Dennis Carl Rasmussen, 2010-11 Adam Smith is popularly regarded as the ideological forefather of laissez faire capitalism while Rousseau is seen as the passionate advocate of the life of virtue in small harmonious communities and as a sharp critic of the ills of commercial society But in fact Smith had many of the same worries about commercial society that Rousseau did and was strongly influenced by his critique In this first book length comparative study of these leading eighteenth century thinkers Dennis Rasmussen highlights Smith's sympathy with Rousseau's concerns and analyzes in depth the ways in which Smith crafted his arguments to defend commercial society against these charges These arguments Rasmussen emphasizes were pragmatic in nature not ideological it was Smith's view that all things considered commercial society offered more benefits than the alternatives Just because of this pragmatic orientation Smith's approach can be useful to us in assessing the pros and cons of commercial society today and thus contributes to a debate that is too much dominated by both dogmatic critics and doctrinaire champions of our modern commercial society Australian National Bibliography: 1992 National Library of Australia, 1988 Report of the Secretary of the Senate from ... Morrison, 2008-03-20 Love's Enlightenment Ryan Patrick Hanley, 2017-03-30 This book examines the transformation of the traditional understanding of love by four key Enlightenment thinkers Hume Adam Smith Rousseau and Kant Transgressing the Bounds Louise A. Breen, 2001-02-22 This study offers a new interpretation of the Puritan Antinomian controversy and a skillful analysis of its wider and long term social and cultural significance Breen argues that controversy both reflected and fostered larger questions of identity that would persist in Puritan New England during the 17th century Some issues discussed here include the existence of individualism in a society that valued conformity and the response of members of an inward looking localistic culture to those among them of a more cosmopolitan nature Central to Breen s study is the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts an elite social club that attracted a heterogeneous yet prominent membership and whose diversity contrasted with the social and religious ideals of the cultural majority

A Reinterpretation of Rousseau J. Rousseau and Revolution Holger Ross Lauritsen,Mikkel Thorup,2011-07-14 The political philosophy of the 18th century philosopher Jean Jacques Rousseau has long been associated with the dramatic events of the French Revolution In this book an international team of scholars has been brought together to examine the connection between Rousseau s thought and the revolutionary traditions of modern Europe The book explores Rousseau s own conceptions of violence and revolution in contrast to those of other thinkers such as Hegel and Fanon and in connection with his ideas on democracy Historical analyses also consider Rousseau s thinking in light of the French Revolution in particular and the European revolutions that have followed it Across the eleven chapters the book also touches on such issues as citizenship activism terrorism and the State In doing so the book reveals Rousseau to be an important source of insight into contemporary political problems

The Individual without Passions Elena Pulcini,2012-08-09 The Individual without Passions Modern Individualism and the Loss of the Social Bond offers an innovative look at an extremely timely and important issue individualism from the point of view of a theory of passions This book underlines the importance of the problem of the passions in both forming individual identity and building the social bond Drawing inspiration from classic authors that represent fundamental milestones along the route of modern individualism from Montaigne to Hobbes from Locke to Smith from Rousseau to Tocqueville The Individual without Passions puts forward new hypotheses that contrast with the consolidated views of contemporary reflection both modern and postmodern Elena Pulcini argues that passions are crucial not only when they are strong homo oeconomicus but also when absent or weak homo democraticus in both cases producing pathological effects on the Self and the social bond Finally this book underlines that the image of the modern individual does not end with the egoistical passions and that it is possible to reactivate empathetic and solidaristic passions furthermore it proposes the hypothesis that the solidaristic passions go to fight the egoistical passions This hypothesis seems confirmed and is most evident in the phenomenon of the gift as interpreted by Marcel Mauss and his contemporary heirs the hidden testimony of a desire for belonging which enables us to propose a new figure of the individual homo reciprocus
