Architecture ,1916      The Architecture of Jens Fredrick Larson Rod Miller,2024-08-19 After serving with the Canadian Artillery and becoming an ace with the Royal Flying Corps American Jens Fredrick Larson settled into architecture At age 28 he began work at Dartmouth As his reputation grew he would go on to work with myriad clients and more than thirty five colleges and universities in America and elsewhere including Colby College Bucknell College Wake Forest University the City University of Paris the University of New Brunswick and the Institute for Advanced Study Princeton This text explores the history of Larson and his career with a look at his major projects and the challenges faced late in his career when a nascent Modernism denigrated and misunderstood the meaning and value of the Georgian style      Mitchell/Giurgola Architects Hilary Lewis,2008 Looks at a decade of the firm s work      William C. Brocklesby: A Connecticut Valley Architect in the Gilded Age Bill Ranauro,2023-07-07 The late nineteenth century known commonly as the Gilded Age produced some of the most beautiful yet controversial architecture in America s history The great influencers of the period including Richard

Upjohn Henry Hobson Richardson and Charles McKim each spread the gospel of his own architectural style The result was an eclectic mix of styles that some detested but that others embraced Caught in the struggle to find an architecture America could claim as its own Hartford Connecticut architect William Brocklesby carved out his own stylistic path In an age when the taste for ostentation and pretension was adopted by many William Brocklesby produced some of the most dignified and beautiful architecture in the Connecticut Valley His churches libraries and theaters remain as artistic landmarks throughout western New England and his work at colleges from Hartford to Amherst Massachusetts make for some of the most picturesque college campuses in America This book serves as a companion to the author's earlier book American Architect Author Artist Taken together the two books provide a view of developments in American architecture from 1790 to 1910 The Architecture of William C Brocklesby Hailing from Hartford Connecticut architect William C Brocklesby 1847-1910 spent his career designing beautiful yet dignified churches libraries and public buildings throughout the Connecticut River Valley and western New England Working in an age when ostentation was the rule rather than the exception Brocklesby maintained a restrained hand in the application of ornament His design of Forbes Library in Northampton Massachusetts stands out as a monument to his ability as a design architect In addition William Brocklesby was among a handful of nineteenth century architects who made the Connecticut River Valley the birthplace of the prototypical American college campus Working largely within the vision of the famed American landscape architects Andrew Jackson Downing and Frederick Law Olmstead Brocklesby and others built campuses that were meant to mimic the traditional New England village Through the designs of the college buildings by Peabody and Stearns and William Brocklesby Smith College's architectural history traces the development of late nineteenth century styles National Register of Historic Places Inventory

Architecture and Building, 1911 America's Religious Architecture Marilyn J. Chiat, 1997-10-07 From the Moorish synagogue in small Texas town to the New England meetinghouse nestled in the palm trees of Hawaii this comprehensive historical survey of America's religious architecture celebrates the country's ethnic and spiritual diversity through the magnificent breadth of these community landmarks The first comprehensive architectural and cultural history of its kind the book features 500 places of worship nationwide many listed on the National Register of Historic Places Includes over 300 black and white photographs and foreword by Bill Moyers creator of the PBS Genesis series AIA Guide to the Architecture of Washington, D.C. Gerard Martin Moeller, 2006-10-24 This lively and informative guide offers tourists residents and architecture aficionados alike insights into more than 400 of Washington D C's most important landmarks Organized into 19 discrete tours this thoroughly redesigned and updated edition includes 45 new entries encompassing the House of Sweden the U S Institute of Peace classic buildings that epitomize the city the White House the Capitol Union Station and a number of private buildings off the beaten path G Martin Moeller Jr blends informed concise descriptions with engaging commentary on each landmark revealing often surprising details of the buildings history and design Every entry is accompanied by a photograph and includes the structure's location, its architects and designers and the corresponding dates of completion. Each entry is keyed to an easy-to-read map at the beginning of the tour. From the imposing monuments of Capitol Hill and the Mall to the pastoral suburban enclaves of Foxhall and Cleveland Park, from small memorials to vast commercial and institutional complexes, this guide shows us a Washington that is at once excitingly fresh and comfortably familiar.

The Monograph Series, Records of Early American Architecture, 1924     Massachusetts Avenue Architecture, Northwest Washington, District of Columbia United States. On the occasion of its 150th anniversary, the American Institute of Architects asked more than 70 contributors to examine the complex and evolving of the American architects in shaping our cities and communities. Through essays, vignettes, and profiles illustrated with more than 560 photographs, Architecture provides a look at the breadth and depth of the architecture profession and points to the significant contributions architects have made in all aspects of society. Most important, the book demonstrates the value of applying architectural thinking to the many serious issues from global warming and homeland security to accessibility and diversity facing our world today.
