By exploring current routes of investigation as well as analysing future pathways for study in the field, seven highly distinguished Spanish and Latin American scholars examine their own entry into Visual Studies and discuss the major trends and changes which occurred in the field as matters of the visual gradually became embedded in higher education curricula and research trajectories. Each scholar also lays out a current research project or interest concerning Spain or Latin America within the visual field. The projects variously explore different media including film, sculpture, photography, dance and performance art spread across a wide array of geographical locales including Mexico, Cuba, mainland Spain and the Canary Islands. Offering a map of current and future research in the field, this book provides the first history of visual studies within UK Hispanism. It will be of lasting value to a wide range of scholars and advanced students of Spanish and Latin American cultural, visual and film studies. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Bulletin of Spanish Studies.

This single volume reference resource offers students, scholars and general readers alike an in-depth background on Mexico from the complexity of its pre-Columbian civilizations to its social and political development in the context of Western civilization. How did modern Mexico become a nation of multicultural diversity and rich indigenous traditions? What key roles do Mexico's non-Western pre-Columbian indigenous heritage and subsequent development as a major center in the Spanish colonial empire play the country's identity today? How is Mexico today both Western and non-Western, part Native American and part European, simultaneously traditional and modern? Modern Mexico is a thematic encyclopedia that broadly covers the nation's history, both ancient and modern, its government, politics and economics, as well as its culture, religion, traditions, philosophy, arts and social structures. Additional topics include industry, labor, social classes and ethnicity, women, education, language, food, leisure and sport, and popular culture. Sidebars, images and a Day in the Life feature round out the coverage in this accessible, engaging volume. Readers will come to understand how Mexico and the Mexican people today are the result of the processes of transculturation, globalization and civilizational contact.

The Art and Politics of Bolivian Cinema Sánchez-H., José, 1999-08-05. In Bolivia, politics have always shaped art, particularly when it comes to film. This book presents Bolivia's most significant filmmakers, largely in their own words. Since 1981, José Sánchez-H. has personally interviewed most of the filmmakers featured and has consistently maintained a commitment to rigorous scholarship and attention to new developments. One of the first studies in English on Bolivian cinema, this work provides the non-Bolivian with important information about Bolivian cinema and its cultural and political context. The chapters flow from a broad profile of the country and its history through a chronological presentation of the history of Bolivian cinema to careful treatments of important films, filmmakers and periods in Bolivian film history. Filmmakers treated include Antonio Eguino, Jorge Sanjines, Jorge Ruiz, Marcos Loayza, Paolo Agazzi and Oscar Soria. Sánchez-H. includes information about every aspect of the cinema, including the music.

Appendixes include a chronology of the films and political events a list of awards won by Bolivian films and useful addresses

Latino Made Film and Video Karen Ranucci, Julie Feldman, 1998-11-05 This unique directory helps educators media users and researchers locate over 400 films and videos made by Latin American and Latino film video makers that are available in the United States It provides descriptions of these works from a U S user s point of view      Third World Film Making and the West Roy Armes, 1987-07-29 This volume is the first fully comprehensive account of film production in the Third World Although they are usually ignored or marginalized in histories of world cinema Third World countries now produce well over half of the world s films Roy Armes sets out initially to place this huge output in a wider context examining the forces of tradition and colonialism that have shaped the Third World defined as those countries that have emerged from Western control but have not fully developed their economic potential or rejected the capitalist system in favor of some socialist alternative He then considers the paradoxes of social structure and cultural life in the post independence world where even such basic concepts as nation national culture and language are problematic The first experience of cinema for such countries has invariably been that of imported Western films which created the audience and in most cases still dominate the market today Thus Third World film makers have had to assert their identity against formidable outside pressures The later sections of the book look at their output from a number of angles in terms of the stages of overall growth and corresponding stages of cinematic development from the point of view of regional evolution in Asia Africa and Latin America and through a detailed examination of the work of some of the Third World s most striking film innovators In addition to charting the broad outlines of filmic developments too little known in Europe and the United States the book calls into question many of the assumptions that shape conventional film history It stresses the role of distribution in defining and limiting production queries simplistic notions of independent national cinemas and points to the need to take social and economic factors into account when considering authorship in cinema Above all the book celebrates the achievements of a mass of largely unknown film makers who in difficult circumstances have distinctively expanded our definitions of the art of cinema Roy Armes who lives in London has written nine books on film his most recent being French Cinema He spent more than three years researching this volume      Magical Reels John King, 2000-09-17 On Latin American cinema      Humor in Latin American Cinema Juan Poblete, Juana Suárez, 2016-04-29 This book addresses a variety of regional humor traditions such as exploitation cinema Brazilian chanchada the Cantinflas heritage the comedy of manners and light sexuality iconic figures and characters as well as a variety of humor registers evident in different Latin American films      The Holy Mountain Alessandra

Santos,2017-08-08 Alejandro Jodorowsky's El Topo helped inaugurate the midnight movie phenomenon. Its success spawned The Holy Mountain through interventions by John Lennon and Allen Klein. After a scandalous release and a 16 month midnight career, The Holy Mountain was relegated to the underground world of fan bootlegs for over thirty years until its limited restored release in 2007. This short study reveals how The Holy Mountain, a poetic, hilarious and anarchist cult film by an international auteur anchored in post 1968 critiques, is at the same time an archaeological capsule of the counterculture movement, a timely subversion of mystical tenets and one of the most mysterious films in the history of world cinema. The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents, The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally, drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline. It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions. It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience. Finally, it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film, the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological, industrial and aesthetic developments.
