Aging and Human Motivation Ernest Furchtgott, 2013-03-14 I first met Ernest Furchtgott twenty five years ago after joining the faculty of the College of Social Work at the University of South Carolina At that time Ernie chaired the Department of Psychology In the following three years we collaborated with an Academic Committee on Gerontology in conceptualizing and shaping the University's Certificate of Graduate Study in Gerontology Program guiding it to final approval by the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education For twenty years we team taught our graduate level course Psychosocial Approaches to Gerontology involving colleagues from related disciplines Over the years we examined and jointly graded hundreds of research posters prepared by our graduate students in gerontology as their final course requirement Several years ago Ernie formally retired from the university He instantly agreed to my request that he continue teaching the psychology of aging portion of our interdisciplinary course On campus nearly every day since retirement Ernie frequently telephoned to discuss a recent article in The Gerontologist or a paper presentation that had excited him at the Gerontological Society's annual scientific meeting He maintained a clear presence in the academic community
