Peace Security And Conflict Prevention Sipri Unesco Handbook:

Peace, Security and Conflict Prevention Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, Unesco, 1998 Peace Security and Conflict Prevention SIPRI UNESCO Handbook is a comprehensive concise volume on security and conflict prevention in the post cold war period 1992-96. It is drawn from the results of SIPRI's research and includes chapters on major armed conflicts, armed conflict prevention, management and resolution, world military expenditure, arms production and the arms trade, nuclear, chemical and biological weapons, the arms control and agreements currently in force and under negotiation, the United Nations Organization and special studies of regional and subregional security in Europe and Asia. A detailed chronology lists the major events of 1992-96 related to peace, security and conflict prevention. The book also includes a useful glossary of terms and acronyms used in the security literature and gives the membership of international organizations concerned with security issues.

The European Union and Conflict Prevention Emma J. Stewart, 2006. The book examines the evolution of EU conflict prevention as an internal EU process and as an area of external cooperation with the UN, OSCE and NATO. Conflict prevention has emerged as a prominent EU policy in the post Cold War era. Yet how suited is the organisation to practice conflict prevention and what does the record of cooperation with other key European organisations tell us about the EU's external priorities? The book critically analyses the EU's policy and outcomes to date, concluding that conflict prevention is underdeveloped by the EU and is in danger of being marginalised in favour of shorter term crisis management. Moreover, EU external cooperation reinforces this: the priority is cooperation in crisis management with the UN and NATO rather than longer term cooperation with the OSCE.

Security and Environment in the Mediterranean Hans Günter Brauch, 2003. In this volume, security specialists, peace researchers, environmental scholars, demographers as well as climate, desertification, water, food and urbanisation specialists from the Middle East and North Africa, Europe and North America review security and conflict prevention in the Mediterranean. They also analyse NATO's Mediterranean security dialogue and offer conceptualisations on security and perceptions of security challenges as seen in North and South. The latter half of the book analyses environmental security and conflicts in the Mediterranean and environmental consequences of World War II, the Gulf War, the Balkan wars and the Middle East conflict. It also examines factors of global environmental change, population growth, climate change, desertification, water scarcity, food and urbanisation issues as well as natural disasters. Furthermore, it draws conceptual conclusions for a fourth phase of research on human and environmental security and peace as well as policy conclusions for cooperation and partnership in the Mediterranean in the 21st century.

Conflict Prevention from Rhetoric to Reality Albrecht Schnabel, David Carment, 2004-01-01. Together with local actors, many governments, regional organizations and the UN are embracing preventive action as a viable path towards sustainable peace. The contributions to this volume trace conflict prevention efforts in various regional contexts and explain how preventive thinking is being successfully mainstreamed into the activities of regional organizations and the UN.

Maintaining Order, Making Peace O. Richmond, 2001-12-17 This study explores three generations of approaches to ending conflict and examines how in the context of the failings of the Westphalian international system their peacekeeping mediation and negotiation conflict resolution and peacebuilding approaches as well as UN peace operations and asks via an empirical and theoretical analysis what role such approaches have played and are playing in replicating an international system prone to intractable forms of conflict Journal of Peace, Security, and Development, 2004 The Transformation of Peace Oliver P. Richmond, 2024-06-06 The second edition of this influential book examines the transformation of the discourse and praxis of peace from its early beginnings in the literature on war and power to the development of intellectual and theoretical discourses of peace contrasting this with the development of practical approaches to peace and examining the intellectual and policy evolution regarding peace Now with reflections on each chapter and a new introduction and conclusion the book is essential reading for researchers and students of peace and conflict studies and beyond Global Insecurity Mary Kaldor, 2000-07-01 The first half of the 1990s was a period of great optimism about humanitarian intervention In the aftermath of the Cold War it was hoped that the international community could begin to act cohesively in defence of fundamental international principles and that a global security policy aimed at the prevention of conflict and upholding human rights could be established The actual experience of this period however has been sobering Agreements engineered from above like the Dayton Agreement or the Oslo Agreement have mixed consequences Efforts at humanitarian relief have often ended up frustrating good intentions and prolonging conflict This book looks at what we learn from such experiences Should we retreat from intervention Is there a global responsibility for wars and for massive violations of human rights The authors start from a conviction that in a globalized world we do have certain responsibilities and that the point is to look at how we intervene They aim to open up a third approach an alternative to the dominance of realist or neo liberal approaches which would address the reality of contemporary conflict Key themes include the need for a more democratic approach in terms of the accountability and openness of both governments and international institutions the importance of international humanitarian law and the future of formal military forces Peacekeeping and Peace

Enforcement In Africa Robert I. Rotberg, 2010-12-01 A Brookings Institution Press and World Peace Foundation publication Edited by World Peace Foundation president Robert I Rotberg the chapters in this volume focus on preventing outbreaks of civil war and other vicious internal conflicts in Africa The contributors review the sorry state of African conflict prevention and weigh the merits of new methods of peace enforcement including militant early intervention by African crisis response forces to avoid or reduce intrastate mayhem Peacekeeping and Peace Enforcement in Africa assesses the realities and challenges of reducing the frequency of civil warfare in Africa It features a detailed report of extensive candid discussions of these issues by leading African ministers of defense and chiefs of staff The Transformation of Peace O.

Richmond, 2016-01-08 This book examines the transformation of the discourse and praxis of peace from its early beginnings in the literature on war and power to the development of intellectual and theoretical discourses of peace contrasting this with the development of practical approaches to peace and examining the intellectual and policy evolution regarding peace

The Dark Side of Zionism Baylis Thomas, 2011-01-01 The thesis of The Dark Side of Zionism arising from new histories neglected by the media is that both the early Zionists and the Israelis sought their security through military domination of the indigenous Arab population of Palestine This strategy required avoiding negotiations with the Palestinians as well as demonstrating Israeli military might through wars initiated against Arab states opposed to an Israeli takeover of Palestine

Arms Procurement Decision Making: China, India, Israel, Japan, South Korea and Thailand Ravinder Pal Singh, 1998 SCOTT copy 1 From the John Holmes collection Land Grabbing and Conflict in the North West Region of Cameroon René Ngek Monteh, 2024-01-03 In Cameroon conflicts emerging from land ownership and boundary discrepancies have reached record heights with the North West Region serving as the theatre of land and boundary conflicts These conflicts are not just rampant but have taken shifting positions making the much cherished desire for peaceful cohabitation a far fetched possibility As this book shows the ordinances of the 1970s which stopped traditional communities from making claims of ownership of land the unwillingness of the traditional elite to understand and accept the arbitrary colonial imposed boundaries and the dubious role played by those in authority in an attempt to solve or identify the root causes of these conflicts constituted the bed rock for the emergence of multi dimensional problems This book argues that conflicts in the North West Region have been promoted by the colonial factor the authorities insistence on focusing on the consequences rather than on the deep causes land laws administrative orders and formally made arrangements It argues very strongly that conflicts in the North West Region have become so protracted that solving them has been an uphill task

sociological field from the other side of the frontier Encyclopedia of the United Nations and International Agreements: N to S Edmund Jan Osmańczyk, 2003 This thoroughly revised and updated edition is the most comprehensive and detailed reference ever published on United Nations The book demystifies the complex workings of the world's most important and influential international body Conflict Prevention David Carment, Albrecht Schnabel, 2003 Conflict Prevention evaluates the institutional record on conflict prevention identifies current trends in conflict prevention practice and makes recommendations on improving organizational capacity This volume brings together a diverse group of individuals involved in conflict prevention activities scholars from developed and developing countries and practitioners with insights on the work of regional organizations and the United Nations The first part of the book addresses the question What is successful conflict prevention The distinctive answers to this question reflect an understanding of conflict prevention that is both analytically rigorous and useful to practitioners Conflict prevention can be understood as an important but understated element of statecraft and coercive diplomacy as the physical presence of a deterrent force or as a rehabilitative action taken to prevent the re emergence of violence Collectively these interpretations point to the malleability of conflict prevention as a theory and as a policy Contributors to the second part of the volume reflect on how existing mechanisms and instruments for conflict prevention can be properly evaluated and improved They focus on several institutions that are at the forefront of conflict prevention policy the EU the OSCE NATO and the UN They further show how informational and analytical needs can be used to enhance the quality of conflict analysis and its policy relevance Drawing on experiences in Africa and the Americas Conflict Prevention concludes with reflections on the efforts and challenges of building regional capacity in the developing world
