

Credit for this alphabet is due to KATHERINE MALMSTEN of Kirkland WA. She designed this alphabet to use at Trader Joe's where she works for the sign department. They may be a variation on the more formal Neuland... Nichol Rauch calls them cousins. I like that... they are more whimsical and I promise with a chisel nib pen.... You will be able to create them. More hints below..

To make the thick strokes you need to lay the chisel nib flat at a 90 degree angle then for the thin strokes you will need to turn the pen at an angle so that you are writing with just the tip of edge of the pen. This is most easily done with a PARALLEL PEN...which you can purchase from either PAPER & INK ARTS OR JOHN NEAL BOOKSELLER. You can use any felt tip pen but the thins will not be quite as sharp and over time writing with that edge will wear it down and cause problems with the thick strokes also but hey the pen may run out of ink before that happens. This is not a problem for the Parallel pen due to metal nib. Enjoy and go make something. kath harney 2013
