Copyright Office,1974 Seventy practical advice in teaching Arabic Muhammed seyyid omer,2023-05-30 Dear friend I know that there are two worthwhile levels in teaching any second language Arabic or otherwise to non native speakers First level Your communication ability charged with good expression emotions love and appreciation for students without an intermediate language we are talking about a class in which there are different nationalities if you can communicate with them in a way that is clear to you and to them this is only half the success in this field As for the second level It is to make them communicate with you to get them to express what is in their minds and what they want and feel and to take their hand little by little to have this ability God willing the ability to acquire a new language and a new identity so always try to use an unconventional dialogue style and focused investigative and critical questions to ignite the lesson and interaction with them and this is the success itself The concern that must concern us from another party is how to transform dry written language into vibrant ideas and language What should you do And what should you not do
