People First A Guide To Selfreliant Participatory Rural Development:

People First Stan Burkey,1992-08-01 This down to earth book is aimed at Third World development staff involved in working with the rural poor and draws on the author s own field experience in Africa and Asia The book is also relevant to non field staff and indeed students of development generally who want to understand what participatory development is how it differs from the more conservative process of simply trying to involve people in already decided development projects and the practicalities of how a non government organisation NGO can go about its work without taking over and manipulating the local people People First presents a coherent methodology for achieving development based on principles of conscientisation local control co operation and self reliance It emphasises the importance of women participating fully and of getting the economics of a project right if it is to be of real benefit to local people and successfully sustained The author also believed that field experience and theoretical understanding must be integrated so that change agents and development workers can situate their work in an awareness of both the nature of poverty and competing views of the development process Conscious of the frequent co option of the idea of participation by official development agencies and of the other pitfalls that participatory development can run into the author provides a hard headed and practical education about the role of change agents their recruitment training and support how to get started working with groups handling relations with government officials and local power holders and a full range of other relevant issues An Evaluation of Community-driven Economic Development, Land Tenure, and Sustainable Environmental Development in the Kat River Valley E. L. Nel,Trevor Raymond Hill,2000

Rural Development Governance and Participation M.R. Biju,2014-01-01 Acquiring a Constitutional status in 1993 the Panchayati Raj Institutions in India gave the vision of a democratic governance down even to village level the Gram Sabha by decentralizing State s developmental functions finance and functionaries to PRIs granting them autonomy so that they function as institutions of self government securing people s participations in local development and ensuring accountability and transparency of the government to the people It is not only a system of participative self governance but it ensures political empowerment to the poor the marginalized and the oppressed The Constitution 73rd Amendment Act has made Panchayats instruments of local governance with potential space for women and marginalised groups in the federal set up It has perceptually widened the democratic base providing the potential for local level planning and implementation of development programmes These potentialities include the participation and self governance by ensuring political empowerment to the poor marginalized and oppressed Scheduled Castes Scheduled Tribes and women at the grassroot level The present volume attempts to address the issues pertaining to rural governance people s participation financial inclusion environmental sustainability and watershed development initiatives The volume contains twenty two research papers and articles contributed by senior academics administrators and rural development activists with rich experience on the core areas of the study In their submissions the authors have tried to explore the existing problems faced by rural development in the aforesaid areas and present solid suggestions to revamp the system      PLA Notes 41: General Issue H. Ashley,2001 concepts in contemporary discussions in the domain of development The emerging paradigm of governance in the area of globalization reframes the roles of institutions of state market and civil society This involves questioning of the erstwhile dominant role of other institutions Weakening and erosion of major modern institutions of governance such as legislature bureaucracy and judiciary in third world reflects the growing governance crisis Social tension and conflicts based on identity are on rise This has significant implications on issues such as social equity justice and environment that affect the life of people especially the third world poor This collection addresses some pertinent issues that emanate from the emerging paradigm of governance The major areas of concern are globalization civil society gender social services and infrastructure

This documentation will help carry forward creation of knowledge and formulation of strategies in the field of rural management to meet the future challenge of rural development

Education for Sustainability Stephen Sterling, John Huckle, 2014-08-07 Now with new Introduction and additional new chapter At a time when polls suggest that a majority of young British people believe that the future will offer a worse quality of life than the present it is becoming imperative that children are introduced to principles of sustainability through the educational system from an early age and that these principles are regularly reinforced and built upon The government's own Panel on Sustainable Development has called for a comprehensive strategy for environmental and training and NGOs frequently point to education as a key policy instrument in the transition to sustainable development This is the first book published in Britain to provide an overview of the theory and practice of these issues It brings together contributions from environmental educators working in the formal and informal sectors and in continuing education and provides perspectives on the philosophy politics and pedagogy of education for sustainability as well as case studies and pointers towards good practice Part I establishes some initial perspectives on sustainability education and the role of NGOs the potential for education for sustainability in the formal and informal sectors is assessed in Parts II and III Part IV discusses its development as part of the greening of business and local government and Part V looks at the way forward

Regulating Romance

Shanti Parikh, 2016-04-11 Drawing on ten years of ethnographic research two hundred fifty interviews and over three hundred youth love letters author Shanti Parikh uses lively vignettes to provide a rare window into young people's heterosexual desires and practices in Uganda In chapters entitled Unbreak my heart I miss you like a desert missing rain and You're just playing with my head she invites readers into the world of secret longings disappointments and anxieties of young Ugandans as they grapple with everyday difficulties while creatively imagining romantic futures and possibilities Parikh also examines the unintended consequences of Uganda's aggressive HIV campaigns that thrust sexuality and anxieties about it into the public sphere In a context of economic precarity and generational tension that constantly complicates young people's notions of consumption based romance communities experience the dilemmas of protecting and policing young people from reputational and health dangers of sexual activity They arrested me for loving a school girl is the title of a chapter on controlling delinquent daughters and punishing defiant boyfriends for attempting to undermine patriarchal authority by asserting their adolescent romantic agency Sex education programs struggle between risk and pleasure amidst morally charged debates among international donors and community elders transforming the youthful female body into a platform for public critique and concern The many sides of this research constitute an eloquently executed critical anthropology of intervention Handbook of Research on Urban Governance and Management in the Developing World Mugambwa, Joshua, Katusiimeh, Mesharch W., 2018-05-09 With the emphasis on market led development initiatives sustainable urbanization is a challenge especially in growing nations Regional administrative efforts are crucial for cities to meet the planned city operations and specific targets and objectives The Handbook of Research on Urban Governance and Management in the Developing World is a research publication that explores contemporary issues in regional political and administrative practices and key challenges in implementing these strategies in growing nations Featuring coverage on a wide range of topics such as urban and regional economics supply chain management and environmental concerns this book is geared toward city development planners policy makers researchers academics and students seeking current and relevant research on the regional bureaucracy and its practices and how they affect growing nations The Quest for Sustainable Development William Fox, 2004 As sustainable development continues to dominate current government agendas throughout Africa this manual explores how to set and achieve goals for specific programs throughout the continent Discussing challenges such as expanding populations and urbanization this study provides details on how to better plan evaluate and expand for sustainable development including already established entities such as the African Union and the New Partnership for Africa's Development NEPAD Research on the role of women the strengthening of small businesses and how to better structure policy and local government are explored in both regional and continental contexts JOURNAL OF INTEGRATIVE HUMANISM GHANA Department of Classics and Philosophy University of Cape Coast, Ghana, 2015-01-21 Journal of Integrative Humanism is a multidisciplinary academic journal that publishes well researched articles that approach the topical issues bothering humanity from an integrativist perspective taking cognizance of the spiritual and physical dimensions of reality This volume of the journal volume four number one contains thirteen articulate essays on topical issues in Africa African studies written by contemporary African scholars from diverse disciplines Philosophy Religion Linguistics Theater Media Studies Oceanography Political Science and Education Some of the topical issues addressed are the nature of metaphysics in Integrative Humanism a contemporary school of African philosophy development of viable systems of logic in African philosophy rural education social change advertising and media exchange Boko Haram terrorism in Nigeria sustainable development and climate change The essays are informative engaging and comprehensible Participatory Planning in the Caribbean: Lessons from Practice Robert Potter, Jonathan Pugh, 2018-05-08 This title was first published in 2003 Until recently planning and development in the Caribbean have been top down centre out and expert led For a few years now though the region has bowed to the global trend and has experimented with participatory planning methods Participatory planning is heralded by much of the development community as the most appropriate alternative strategy to the traditional approaches In this volume a range of experts drawn from the Caribbean the United Kingdom and the United
