The Jarmusch Way Julian Rice, 2012-10-12 Since the early 1980s Jim Jarmusch has produced a handful of idiosyncratic films that have established him as one of the most imaginatively allusive directors in the history of American cinema Three of his films Dead Man 1995 Ghost Dog 1999 and The Limits of Control 2009 demonstrate the director's unique take on Eastern and Aboriginal spirituality In particular they reflect Jarmusch's rejection of Western monotheism's fear-driven separation of life and death While these films address historical issues of imperialism colonialism and genocide they also demonstrate a uniquely spiritual form of resistance to conditions that political solutions have not resolved The impact of Dead Man Ghost Dog and The Limits of Control cannot be fully felt without considering the multicultural sources from which the writer-director drew In The Jarmusch Way Julian Rice looks closely at these three films and explores their relation to Eastern philosophy and particular works of Western literature painting and cinema This book also delves deeply into the film's association with Native American culture a subject upon which Rice has written extensively Though he has garnered a passionate following in some circles Jarmusch remains critically underappreciated Making a case that this director deserves far more serious attention than he has received thus far The Jarmusch Way thoroughly discusses three of his most intriguing films

Engaging Philosophies of Religion Gereon Kopf, Purushottama Bilimoria, Nathan R. B. Loewen, 2025-05-01 How can philosophy of religion become more diverse in content and method How can we take a multiplicity of stories into account and teach a truly inclusive philosophy of religion It is now openly acknowledged that if we do not change the underlying framework of the way we do philosophy of religion we will always create subalterns Here is an invitation to rethink Philosophy of Religion Engaging with texts and thinkers from multiple traditions this book offers 18 distinct approaches to doing Philosophy of Religion and presents an opportunity to change Philosophy of Religion at a fundamental level Drawing on religions and philosophies from across history and around the world each chapter outlines a framework for approaching religion from a different standpoint monotheism in Christianity Qi in Daoism embodiment in neuroscience naturalism in the atheism debates and non-territorialism in 19th century debates on cartography Contributors identify the many philosophical systems that guide metaphysical and moral truths and adhere to the principle that traditions are not monolithic but diverse They recognise that categories such as indigenous religions are political rather than descriptive in nature Innovative and forward-looking this collection constructs a new method and terminology that promotes active interaction It is essential reading for students and teachers looking for a new way of doing Philosophy of Religion
