Reason Truth And Theology In A Pragmatist Perspective:

Reason, Truth, and Theology in Pragmatist Perspective Paul D. Murray, 2004 In this work Paul Murray explores which style of rationality is most appropriate to Christian theology in the contemporary pluralist postfoundationalist postmodern context At its heart is a fresh consideration of the American pragmatist tradition focussing on the writings of Richard Rorty and Nicholas Rescher Where Rorty correctly diagnoses the failures of foundationalist objectivism Rescher's pragmatic idealism is presented as healing the ills in Rorty's own neo pragmatism The significant resonance between Rescher's view of rationality and Christian understanding of the trinity is explored In turn Donald MacKinnon's influential writings are presented as exemplifying just such an approach to theology Murray both articulates an enriched form of Christian postliberalism committed to receiving and learning from other traditions of thought and practice and probes the claim that the dynamics of human rationality can be expected to reflect the Trinitarian dynamics of God's being Paul Murray presents us here with an exhaustive and insightful study of recent pragmatic theory in which he sets up rhythms of healing and completion as well as interrogation particularly remarkable is his exploration of Christianity as the deep and in some sense final interlocutor of pragmatic tradition I strongly recommend this book Olivier Davis Professor of Christian Doctrine King's College London This is a mature wide ranging work that by uniting the intellectual and the practical carries both rational and ethical conviction It does equal justice to the classic teachings of Christianity and to the challenges to rethink them in dialogue with modern and postmodern approaches The result is a conception of Christianity both generously orthodox and deeply engaged with contemporary life and thought It is especially good to see the profound contribution of Donald MacKinnon understood and developed with such perception and relevance David F Ford Regius Professor of Divinity University of Cambridge Paul Murray is currently Lecturer in Systematic Theology within the Department of Theology at the University of Durham England He has previously held posts at St Cuthbert's Seminary Ushaw College Durham and Newman College of Higher Education Birmingham Essays of his exploring issues in philosophical theology science and theology and contemporary Roman Catholic theology have appeared in leading journals and edited collections This is his first monograph

Receptive Ecumenism and the Renewal of the Ecumenical Movement Antonia Pizzey, 2019-05-15 Receptive Ecumenism is a ground breaking new ecumenical approach widely regarded as having the potential to revitalise the Ecumenical Movement But what is Receptive Ecumenism Why is it important In Receptive Ecumenism and the Renewal of the Ecumenical Movement Antonia Pizzey offers a comprehensive systematic analysis of Receptive Ecumenism While still emerging Receptive Ecumenism is highly promising because it prioritises the need for ecclesial conversion Pizzey explores the scope and complexity of Receptive Ecumenism providing much needed clarity on its aim key developmental influences and distinctiveness as well as its virtuous character and relationship with Spiritual Ecumenism The major implementations of Receptive Ecumenism to date are investigated along with its significance for the future of ecumenism especially regarding its engagement with contemporary challenges Beyond Fideism Olli-Pekka Vainio,2016-04-15 After the postmodern turn every tradition seeks the right to have their own rules of rational discourse The crucial question is are there ways to communicate between the traditions so that the traditions do not need to give up their identities in order to take part in conversation Vainio examines the basic assumptions behind well known types of Christian theology and seeks ways in which they might interact with one other and with other non Christian traditions without capitulation of their identities Vainio claims that there are religious identities that can be negotiated and communicated and that there are ecclesiastical doctrines which can be meaningfully discussed among churches This book explores three key areas analysis of the uses of fideism within classical Christian theology clarification of different types of theological method that seek to express the task of theology in contemporary setting an explanation of the contours of religious identity and rationality which takes seriously both classical Christian identity and pluralistic contexts where most of the Christian communities dwell nowadays The proposal for negotiability of Christian identity draws together ideas from among others virtue epistemology reformed epistemology communitarianism and feminist sensibilities Faith in Certain Terms Olli-Pekka Vainio,2023-11-10 This book considers how certainty and faith are related in the Christian faith It asks How certain can Christian believers be about their beliefs about God Should Christians doubt the assurance of their salvation The chapters provide a historical analysis of both certainty of faith and assurance from the early Church to modern times while also paying attention to confessional differences The author explores contemporary debates in analytic epistemology on the certainty and fallibility of our beliefs and argues for a fallibilist understanding of Christian faith The book also addresses some less discussed arguments that threaten the certainty of faith and offers an account of faith as cognitive practice It will be of interest to scholars of both theology and philosophy God, Humanity and the Cosmos Christopher Southgate,2005-10-29 Contributors include Christopher Southgate John Hedley Brooke Celia Deane Drummond Paul D Murray Michael Robert Negus Lawrence Osborn Michael Poole Jacqui Stewart Fraser Watts David Wilkinson This fully revised and updated edition of God Humanity and the Cosmos includes new chapters by John Hedley Brooke Paul D Murray and David Wilkinson In addition to a systematic exploration of contemporary perspectives in physics evolutionary biology and psychology as they relate to theological descriptions of the universe humanity and consciousness the book now provides a thorough survey of the theological philosophical and historical issues underpinning the science religion debate Contributors also examine such issues as theological responses to the ecological crisis and to biotechnology how science is treated and valued in education and the relation of science to Islamic thought Dr Christopher Southgate is Lecturer in Theology at the University of Exeter God, Humanity and the Cosmos - 2nd Edition Christopher Southgate,2005-12-01 Contributors include Christopher Southgate John Hedley Brooke Celia Deane Drummond Paul D Murray Michael Robert Negus Lawrence Osborn Michael Poole Jacqui Stewart Fraser Watts David Wilkinson This fully revised and updated edition of God Humanity and the Cosmos includes new chapters by John Hedley Brooke Paul D Murray and David Wilkinson In addition to a systematic exploration of contemporary perspectives in physics evolutionary biology and psychology as they relate to theological descriptions of the universe humanity and consciousness the book now provides a thorough survey of the theological philosophical and historical issues underpinning the science religion debate Contributors also examine such issues as theological responses to the ecological crisis and to biotechnology how science is treated and valued in education and the relation of science to Islamic thought Dr Christopher Southgate is Lecturer in Theology at the University of Exeter Exchanges of Grace Natalie K. Watson, Stephen Burns, 2008 A unique international collection of contributions in honour built around the three themes central to understanding the work of Ann Loades Professor emerita of Durham University a well known and well liked figure in contemporary western theology God, Humanity and the Cosmos - 3rd edition Christopher Southgate, 2011-10-13 A systematic exploration of contemporary perspectives in physics evolutionary biology and psychology as they relate to theological descriptions of the universe humanity and consciousness Contributors examine such issues as theological responses to the ecological crisis how science is treated and valued in education and the development of the science and religion debate in the 21st century This is a comprehensive textbook for the student with periodic exercises to test understanding and encourage discussion of the different topics and suggestions for further reading Explorations in Ecclesiology and Ethnography Christian B. Scharen, Christian Scharen, 2012-11-16 In this book Christian Scharen and several other contributors explore empirical and theological understandings of the church Like the first volume in the Studies in Ecclesiology and Ethnography series Perspectives on ecclesiology and ethnography Pete Ward ed this second volume seeks to bridge the great divide between theological research and ethnography qualitative research Newman in the Story of Philosophy D. J. Pratt Morris-Chapman, 2021-07-01 Saint John Henry Newman is widely acknowledged to be an important theologian Despite this Newman commentators believe that his work has received little recognition by philosophers This book explores whether or not Newman's supposed philosophical isolation constitutes a misconception in Newman historiography First of all it does this by examining Newman's general philosophical reception over the last two centuries surveying a wide range of philosophical positions and philosophers from the many different branches of this discipline The book then focuses upon whether or not Newman has made a contribution to one specific philosophical position seldom given attention within Newman scholarship the particularist approach to epistemology In its investigations into this and the other more general dimension of Newman's philosophical reception the book offers an historical re evaluation of Newman's philosophical legacy Grammars of Faith P. F. Bloemendaal, 2006 D Z Phillips is a leading figure in advocating a Wittgensteinian approach to the philosophical study of religion His writings exert an important influence on contemporary philosophy of religion giving a new direction to the philosophical discussion of religious belief and practice Although his work has prompted much often critical comment a thorough investigation has not been forthcoming Grammars of Faith fills that gap The book pays close attention to Wittgenstein's own remarks on religious belief arranging them against the background of his broader philosophical methodology as well as to the efforts of the early Wittgensteinians at providing a more comprehensive Wittgensteinian philosophy of religion Central to this study are Phillips's understanding of philosophical enquiry as a form of contemplation and his descriptive accounts of religious belief By means of a careful and methodical examination of Phillips's oeuvre the study seeks to present a fair assessment of Phillips's position showing not only its weaknesses but also its strength

The Routledge Companion to the Practice of Christian Theology Mike Higon, Jim Fodor, 2015-03-24 This Companion introduces readers to the practice of Christian theology covering what theologians do why they do it and what steps readers can take in order to become theological practitioners themselves The volume aims to capture the variety of practices involved in doing theology highlighting the virtues that guide them and the responsibilities that shape them It also shows that the description of these practices virtues and responsibilities is itself theological what Christian theologians do is shaped by the wider practices and beliefs of Christianity Written by a team of leading theologians the Companion provides a unique resource for students and scholars of theology alike

Receptive Ecumenism and the Call to Catholic Learning Paul Murray, 2010-05-06 This volume proposes a fresh strategy for ecumenical engagement Receptive Ecumenism that is fitted to the challenges of the contemporary context and has already been internationally recognised as making a distinctive and important new contribution to ecumenical thought and practice Beyond this the volume tests and illustrates this proposal by examining what Roman Catholicism in particular might fruitfully learn from its ecumenical others Challenging the tendency for ecumenical studies to ask whether explicitly or implicitly What do our others need to learn from us this volume presents a radical challenge to see ecumenism move forward into action by highlighting the opposite question What can we learn with integrity from our others This approach is not simply ecumenism as shared mission or ecumenism as problem solving and incremental agreement but ecumenism as a vital long term programme of individual communal and structural conversion driven like the Gospel that inspires it by the promise of conversion into greater life and flourishing The aim is for the Christian traditions to become more not less than they currently are by learning from or receiving of each other's gifts The 32 original essays that have been written for this unique volume explore these issues from a wide variety of denominational and disciplinary perspectives drawing together ecclesiologists professional ecumenists sociologists psychologists and organizational experts

Ford's The Modern Theologians Rachel Muers, Ashley Cocksworth, 2024-02-21 Captures the multiple voices of Christian theology in a diverse and interconnected world through in depth studies of representative figures and overviews of key movements Providing an unparalleled overview of the subject The Modern Theologians provides an indispensable guide to the diverse approaches and perspectives within Christian theology from the early twentieth century to the present Each chapter is written by a leading scholar and explores the development and trajectory of modern theology while presenting critical accounts of a broad range of relevant topics and

Ecclesiology in the Trenches Sune Fahlgren, Jonas Ideström, 2015-09-01 The field of ecclesiology is rapidly expanding as new material theories methods and approaches are being explored This raises important and challenging questions concerning ecclesiology as an academic discipline This book takes the reader into the trenches of ecclesiological research where the actual work of reading writing interpreting and analyzing is being done The authors reflect on fundamental questions concerning theory and method in ecclesiology in relation to concrete and actual research projects Ecclesiology is dealt with as a systematic empirical historical and liturgical discipline Essays explore theology in South Africa as shaped by apartheid liturgical theology the diaconate in an ecumenical context Free Church preachership suburban ecclesial identity medieval church practices liturgical texts church floor plans and ecclesiology as a gendered discipline Ecclesiology in the Trenches is a book for anyone who is interested and involved in ecclesiological research It is also an example of a reflective approach to academic work The book can be read as an overall argument for ecclesiology as a theological discipline with great potential for studying the church as a theologically defined empirical phenomenon

Ressourcement Gabriel Flynn, Paul D. Murray, 2012 A historical and a theological analysis of the most important movement in twentieth century Roman Catholic theology

Donald MacKinnon's Theology Andrew Bowyer, 2019-08-22 Andrew Bowyer presents the first comprehensive examination of Donald MacKinnon's theology in relation to his moral philosophy He offers an original and creative reading of MacKinnon's methodology and important insights into the key influences and core questions which stood at the heart of his work Bowyer outlines MacKinnon's contributions to Anglican theology in the aftermath of the Second World War highlighting the therapeutic nature of his approach in as far as it combined a call for intense self awareness with a commitment to moral realism As one of the most influential Anglican theologians in the mid twentieth century MacKinnon's writings reveal him as a restive and unsystematic thinker However Bowyer argues that a series of reoccurring questions obsessions might better honour the memory of MacKinnon's temperament appear throughout his work relating to the tensions between the realism and idealism the call to be morally serious the nature of theological truth claims and the perennially disruptive presence of Christ Bowyer examines the key influences on MacKinnon's thought the centrality of Christology to his project his engagement with literature and literary criticism as well as his response to Wittgenstein's later philosophy This volume offers an appreciation of his contribution and a critique of his legacy Hermeneutics of Doctrine in a Learning Church Gregory A.

Ryan,2020-08-10 In Hermeneutics of Doctrine in a Learning Church Gregory A Ryan offers an account of the dynamic multi dimensional task of interpreting Christian tradition He integrates doctrinal hermeneutics the pastorality of doctrine exemplified by Pope Francis and a systematic appraisal of Receptive Ecumenism to provide an original perspective on this task The book focuses on three contemporary Catholic theologians Francis Schüssler Fiorenza Ormond Rush and Paul D Murray highlighting how each recognises the dynamic interaction of multiple perspectives involved in authentic ecclesial interpretation Christian tradition whether passed on in teaching scripture practices or structures needs to be continually received and interpreted This book offers theologians ecumenists and church workers a fresh model for receptive ecclesial learning in which doctrinal hermeneutics and pastoral realities are dynamically integrated For the Good of the Church

Gabrielle Thomas,2021-02-26 What do we need to learn and receive from the other to help us address challenges or wounds in our own tradition That is the key question asked in what has come to be known as receptive ecumenism And nowhere is this question more pressing and pertinent than in women's experiences within the church Based on qualitative research from five focus groups For the Good of the Church expose the difficulties women face when they work in a church sexism unfulfilled vocation and abuse of power and privilege as well as the wide range of gifts and skills which women bring in light of these The second part of the book continues to draw on the particular wounds and gifts which arise in the focus groups Specific case studies are used to identify gifts of theology practice experience vocation and power Against negative prognoses of an ecumenical winter Gabrielle Thomas reveals how radically different theological and ecclesiological perspectives can be a space for learning and receiving gifts for the well being of the whole Church Receptive Ecumenism As Transformative Ecclesial Learning Paul D. Murray,Gregory A. Ryan,Paul Lakeland,2022 Receptive Ecumenism asks not what other churches can learn from us but what can we learn and receive with integrity from our ecclesial others The chapters in this volume by academics church leaders and ecumenical practitioners show how Receptive Ecumenism has grown and matured over the past two decades
