Bowen, 2009-05 A combination of poor planning weak oversight and greed cheated U S taxpayers and undermined American forces in Iraq and Afghanistan U S taxpayers have paid nearly 51 billion for projects in Iraq including training the Iraqi army and police and rebuilding Iraq s oil electric justice health and transportation sectors Many of the projects did not succeed partly because of violence in Iraq and friction between U S officials in Washington and Iraqi officials in Baghdad The U S gov t was neither prepared for nor able to respond quickly to the ever changing demands of stabilizing Iraq and then rebuilding it This report reviews the problems in the war effort which the Bush admin claimed would cost 2 4 billion Charts and tables Iraq Reconstruction United States. Congress. House. Committee on Oversight and Government Reform, 2008

Contractors' Support of U. S. Operations in Iraq Daniel Frisk, 2009 Contractors play a substantial role in supporting the U S s current military reconstruction and diplomatic operations in Iraq This report examines the use of contractors in the Iraq theater from 2003 through 2007 It provides an overview of the fed gov t costs of employing contractors in Iraq and in nearby countries the type of products and services they provide the number of personnel working on those contracts comparisons of past and present use of contractors during U S military operations and the use of contractors to provide security Also investigates the command and control structure between the U S gov t and contract employees and the legal issues surrounding contractor personnel working in Iraq Tables and graphs Rebuilding Iraq, 2005 Private Security Firms Standards, Cooperation, and Coordination on the Battlefield United States. Terrorism, 2009 Private Actors and Security Governance Alan Bryden, Marina Caparini, 2006 The privatization of security understood as both the top down decision to outsource military and security related tasks to private firms and the bottom up activities of armed non state actors such as rebel opposition groups insurgents militias and warlord factions has implications for the state s monopoly on the legitimate use of force Both top down and bottom up privatization have significant consequences for effective democratically accountable security sector governance as well as on opportunities for security sector reform across a range of different reform contexts This volume situates security privatization within a broader policy framework considers several relevant national and regional contexts and analyzes different modes of regulation and control relating to a phenomenon with deep historical roots but also strong links to more recent trends of globalization and transnationalization Alan Bryden is deputy head of research at the Geneva Centre for the Democratic Control of Armed

Betraying Our Troops Dina Rasor, Robert Bauman, 2007-05-01 In this shocking exposé two government fraud experts reveal how private contractors have put the lives of countless American soldiers on the line while damaging our strategic interests and our image abroad From the shameful war profiteering of companies like Halliburton KBR to the sinister influence that corporate lobbyists have on American foreign policy Dina Rasor and Robert H Bauman paint a disturbing picture Here they give the inside story on troops forced to subsist on little food and contaminated water on officers afraid to lodge complaints because of Halliburton's political clout on millions of dollars in contractors' bogus claims that are funded by American taxpayers Drawing on exclusive sources within government and the military the authors show how money and power have conspired to undermine our fighting forces and threaten the security of our country

Shadow Force David Isenberg, 2008-12-30 From their limited use in China during World War II for example to their often clandestine use in Vietnam ferrying supplies before the war escalated in 1964 and 1965 when their role became more prominent and public private military contractors PMCs have played made essential contributions to the success and failures of the military and United States Today with an emphasis on force restructuring mandated by the Pentagon the role of PMCs and their impact on policy making decisions is at an all time peak This work analyzes that impact focusing specifically on PMCs in Iraq since the fall of Saddam Hussein in 2003 Isenberg dissects their responsibilities the friction that exists between contractors and military commanders problems of protocol and accountability as well as the problems of regulation and control that PMC companies create for domestic politics Isenberg organizes his work thematically addressing all facets of PMCs in the current conflict from identifying who the most influential companies are and how they got to that point to the issues that the government military and contractors themselves face when they take the field He also analyzes the problem of command control and accountability It is no secret that PMCs have been the source of consternation and grief to American military commanders in the field As they work to establish more routine protocols in the field however questions are also being raised about the role of the contractors here at home The domestic political arena is perhaps the most crucial battleground on which the contractors must have success After all they make their corporate living off of taxpayer dollars and as such calls for regulation have resonated throughout Washington D C growing louder as the profile of PMCs increases during the current conflict
