Recession The Western Economies And The Changing World Order:

Recession, the Western Economies, and the Changing World Order Lars Anell, 1981 Monograph examining issues relating to international economic relations trends and economic recession in OECD countries examines causes and significance of the crisis increasing interdependence changing international division of labour and relations with newly industrializing countries and discusses the prerequisites for and role of OECD countries in a new international economic order Graphs illustrations references and statistical tables Demand for New International Economic Order Sandeep Chauhan, 1997 The emergence of the Demand for New International Economic Order as a result of growing discontent among the Third World countries due to global inequalities has been traced through recent history till present The book also discusses the effect of the collapse of the Soviet Union and the economic manifestation of Communist Cooperation and the emergence of New Regional Economic Blocs like EU NAFTA SAPTA APEC etc Transformations in the Global Political Economy Dennis Clark Pirages, Christine Sylvester, Dennis C. Pirages, 2016-01-03 This book brings together a collection of essays that focus on the various dimensions of this transformation and prospects for future changes The book begins with an analytical essay that offers an overview of causes of change in the global political economy Multinational Business and Labour (RLE International Business) Peter Enderwick, 2013-01-17 Aimed at senior undergraduate and post graduate students following courses in International Business and Industrial Relations this book examines the labour market effects of multinational business In reflecting the complexity and dynamism of developments in this area the book makes clear the need to underpin analysis of the labour market effects of multinational business with conceptual understanding of the theory of multinational enterprise The Nation-State and Violence Anthony Giddens, 2013-06-12 The social sciences have long been based upon contrasts drawn between the militaristic societies of the past and the capitalist or industrial societies of the present But how valid are such contrasts given that the current era is one stamped by the impact of war and by the intensive development of sophisticated weaponry In setting out to address this and similar questions this book investigates issues that have been substantially neglected by those working in sociology and social theory Anthony Giddens offers a sociological analysis of the nature of the modern nation state and its association with the means of waging war His analysis is connected in a detailed way to problems that have traditionally preoccupied sociologists the impact of capitalism and industrialism upon social development in the modern period The result is a theory both of the institutional parameters of modernity and of the nature of international relations The book is a sequel to the author's much discussed Contemporary Critique of Historical Materialism The framework of social theory outlined in that work is here elucidated in a systematic and thorough going fashion The novel and provocative ideas which the author develops will interest those working in a wide variety of disciplines sociology politics geography and international affairs Capitalism, Dependency and Ultra-Imperialism Hartmut Elsenhans, 2023-10-13 This book assembles main contributions to an alternative explanation of globalisation and the political economic structures of the international system As the result of capitalism globalisation does not transfer basic capitalist structures from the Centre to the Periphery Capitalism is based on rising mass incomes that create investment opportunities and thus the possibility of profit A structurally homogeneous and ultraimperialist Centre dominates a deeply fissured Periphery of structurally heterogeneous societies and economies Capitalism penetrates underdeveloped regions and deforms them through rent which obstructs expanding internal mass markets while labour goes unempowered Rent constitutes the basis for state operations and the role of emerging state classes While globalisation disempowers labour in both the West and in the South it has given new comparative advantage to the South The shift from rent appropriation in the South via raw material exports to export led manufacturing is based on devaluation below purchasing power parity and hence on a rent from agriculture that is based on the Green Revolution Its impact is however not always sufficient to compensate for the loss of influence experienced by social reformist forces A novel multipolar system based on the balance power has emerged Mutliethnic empires are held together with large varieties of however always identitarian ideologies This global system is composed of powers that are internally and externally opposed to peaceful change Across the globe there is an impending danger of globalisation of rent Print edition not for sale in South Asia India Sri Lanka Nepal Bangladesh Pakistan and Bhutan A Sociology of Modernity

Peter Wagner,2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 Confusion reigns in sociological accounts of the curent condition of modernity The story lines from the end of the subject to a new individualism from the dissolution of society to the re emergence of civil society from the end of modernity to an other modernoiety to neo modernization This book offers a sociology of modernity in terms of a historical account of social transformations over the past two centuries focusing on Western Europe but also looking at the USA and at Soviet socialism as distinct variants of modernity A fundamental ambivalence of modernity is captured by the double notion of liberty and discipline in its three major dimensions the relations between individual liberty and political community between agency and structure and between locally situated human lives and widely extended social institutions Two major historical transformations of modernity are distinguished the first one beginning in the late nineteenth century and leading to a social formation that can be called organized modernity and the second being the one that dissolves organized modernity It is this current transformation which revives some key concerns of the modern project ideas of liberty plurality and individual autonomy But it imperils others especially the creation of social identities as ties between human beings that allow meaningful and socially viable development of individual autonomy and the possibility of politics as communicative interaction and collaborative deliberation about what human beings have in common Conflict and Consensus in South/North Security Caroline Thomas,Paikiasothy

Saravanamuttu,1989-11-23 Thirteen distinguished contributors address and re evaluate the security relations between the South and North boundaries Two Worlds of International Relations Pamela Beshoff,Christopher Hill,2005-08-02 The aims of this book are to discover how significant academic work in international relations has become for practitioners involved in policy formulation and implementation and to examine the impact of the policy community on academic work and academic values On the academic side theoretical historical and political economy perspectives are presented On the practitioner side there are contributions from diplomats lawyers and parliamentarians The principal question at issue is whether if there is a natural partnership between the modern academic and foreign policy makers there needs to be preserved a respectful distance between the two worlds

The Political Economy of International Relations Robert G. Gilpin, 2016-03-30 After the end of World War II the United States by far the dominant economic and military power at that time joined with the surviving capitalist democracies to create an unprecedented institutional framework By the 1980s many contended that these institutions the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade now the World Trade Organization the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund were threatened by growing economic nationalism in the United States as demonstrated by increased trade protection and growing budget deficits In this book Robert Gilpin argues that American power had been essential for establishing these institutions and waning American support threatened the basis of postwar cooperation and the great prosperity of the period For Gilpin a great power such as the United States is essential to fostering international cooperation Exploring the relationship between politics and economics first highlighted by Adam Smith Karl Marx and other thinkers of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Gilpin demonstrated the close ties between politics and economics in international relations outlining the key role played by the creative use of power in the support of an institutional framework that created a world economy Gilpin's exposition of the influence of politics on the international economy was a model of clarity making the book the centerpiece of many courses in international political economy At the beginning of the twenty first century when American support for international cooperation is once again in question Gilpin's warnings about the risks of American unilateralism sound ever clearer

Wright,2016-01-07 New Technology and Regional Development Bert Van Der Knapp,Egbert Wever,2003-08-16 First Published in 2004 Since the second half of the seventies a period of economic recession a growing interest for technological change can be noticed in all old industrial countries The reason for this phenomenon is the conviction that the economic future of these countries will depend to a large degree on their ability to create new products and processes and to make these commercially viable Hence the stimulation and subsidising of all kinds of Research and Development R D activities by the governments of these countries Against this background it was certainly not unexpected that the IGU Commission on Industrial Change presided by Godfrey Linge decided to organise a congress on Technology and Industrial Change This congress was held in August 1985 at Nijmegen in the Netherlands In this book some of the papers presented there are published We are very happy that we were allowed to include the very interesting contributions of the representatives of Philips in Eindhoven and of the European Commission in Brussels The international trade law journal ,1981 Rising China in the Changing World Economy Liming Wang,2012-03-12 China s rapid and sustained growth over last thirty years has propelled it to become the world s second largest economy today and potentially the largest in the foreseeable future As one of the first major economies pulling out of recession and the last remaining major socialist country in the world today China presents a challenge to established thinking on the essential primacy of global capitalism and the settled nature of the world system as China becomes more integrated into the world economy and the international system both are themselves potentially transformed as a result of China s involvement This book explores a wide range of issues connected with the impact of China on the global economy and the prevailing international system Subjects covered include China s multinationals international acquisitions the exchange rate research and development and technology transfer China s emerging major business groupings and small and medium sized enterprises Cities Enterprise and Society Frank Moulaert,Allen John Scott,1997-01-01 This collection of essays provides a review and restatement of concepts and analytical insights about the relations between the dynamics of the production system and urban society A number of questions underline the arrangement of the book and constitute the central debates in the individual chapters These questions include how have large cities and city systems developed in the context of economic globalization and the restructuring processes of the international economy what are the restructuring strategies of firms within the urban economy how have social and political harmonization and polarization in urban society been affected by entrepreneurial strategies and what has been the response of other urban participants and in particular local authorities to economic restructuring The Power of Cities in International Relations Simon Curtis,2014-04-16 Cities have become increasingly important to global politics but have largely occupied a peripheral place in the academic study of International Relations IR This is a notable oversight for the discipline although one which may be explained by IR s traditional state centrism the subjugation of the city to the demands of the territorial state in the modern period and a lack of conceptual and analytical frameworks that can allow scholars to include the impact of cities within their work Presenting case specific scholarship from leading experts in the field each contribution guides the reader through the changing nature of cities in the international system and their increasing prominence in global governance outcomes The book features case studies on the financial power of cities city action in the security domain collaboration of cities in coping with environmental problems transnational urban regions and mayors as international actors to illustrate if the relationship between the city and the state has changed in profound ways and how cities are empowered by structural changes in world politics The multidisciplinary and global focus in The Power of Cities in International Relations sheds much needed light on the significance of the reemergence of cities from the long shadow of the nation state Only by examining the mechanisms that have empowered cities in the last few decades can we understand their new functions and capabilities in global politics
