Red--white--black as a Mode of Thought Anita Jacobson-Widding, 1979      Parables and Fables V. Y. Mudimbe, 1991

This remarkable book confronts the philosophical problems of otherness and identity through readings of the parables and fables of a colonized people the Luba of Zaire V Y Mudimbe poses two overarching questions how can one think about and comment upon alterity without essentializing its features And is it possible to speak and write about an African tradition or its contemporary practice without taking into account the authority of the colonial library that has invented African identities Mudimbe brings unusual insight to such a discussions Here I am on the margin of margins Black African Catholic yet agnostic intellectually Marxist disposed toward psychoanalysis yet a specialist in Indo European philology and philosophy He uses his own education by Catholic missionaries in Zaire as a framework for exploring interactions between African and Western systems of thought Mudimbe examines the relationship between God and human beings in the philosophy and mythology of the Luba and sets this against the background of Western particularly Catholic theology He introduces the problematic of religious revelation as political performance and situates it within the African colonial context He analyzes the development of Francophone African philosophy showing its integral connection to African theology as envisioned by Catholic missionaries in Central Africa Mudimbe then reviews some of the parables of mythical founding events that have led to the concept of an African philosophy and theology Continuing this exploration Mudimbe elaborates and comments on the well documented case of the Luba clarifying how Luba social and cultural reality relates to Luba mythology as set down by ethnographers The final chapter is an exchange between Mudimbe and anthropologist Peter Rigby evaluating the possibilities of a Marxist anthropology      European Traditions in the Study of Religion in Africa Ulrich Berner, Christoph Boehinger, 2004 This volume comprises case studies of five centuries of European encounters with and imaginations of Africa encompassing her triple religious heritage African Traditional Religions Christianity and Islam The introductory chapters outline the challenges and present overviews some of them also analyze the early accounts of European travelers and missionaries The following contributions examine the lasting legacy of the European Enlightenment in employing an ambivalent language of human equality and universalism while in actual fact consigning Africa to an inferior position It has been difficult for western scholars to divorce themselves wholly from the perceptions thus established However there have been quite different approaches This is indicated in the papers discussing the role and impact of influential European academics scholars of religion theologians historians and social scientists during the colonial and postcolonial period Other contributions examine specific institutional centers of African religious studies in Europe The concluding chapters critically assess European approaches and their use for the study of religion in Africa from an African perspective      A Dance of Assassins Allen F. Roberts, 2013 A Dance of Assassins presents the competing histories of how Congolese Chief Lusinga and Belgian Lieutenant Storms engaged in a deadly clash while striving to establish hegemony along the southwestern shores of

Lake Tanganyika in the 1880s While Lusinga participated in the east African slave trade Storms secret mandate was to meet Henry Stanley s eastward march and trace a white line across the Dark Continent to legitimize King Leopold s audacious claim to the Congo Confrontation was inevitable and Lusinga lost his head His skull became the subject of a sinister evolutionary treatise while his ancestral figure is now considered a treasure of the Royal Museum for Central Africa Allen F Roberts reveals the theatricality of early colonial encounter and how it continues to influence Congolese and Belgian understandings of history today

African Ivories Kate Ezra,1984

Those Who Play With Fire Henrietta Moore,Todd Sanders,Bwire Kaare,2020-08-20 Whether initiating girls or healing cattle bringing rain or protesting taxation many in Africa share a vision of a world where the cultural symbolic and cosmic categories of male and female serve through ritual to both reimagine and transform the world Those Who Play With Fire introduces recent gender theory to the analysis of African ethnography exploring the ways in which ideational gender categories permeate African systems of thought and ritual practices Thus the book provides a powerful framework with which to evaluate previous ethnographic material on Africa In addition Those Who Play With Fire presents a broad range of new case studies of hunter gatherers agriculturalists and pastoralists revealing the varied and complex ways in which African ideas and ideals of what it means to be male and female broadly inform and give meaning to a wide range of transformative rituals

The Origins of Religion in the Paleolithic Gregory J. Wightman,2014-12-18 How did religion emerge and why What are the links between behavior environment and religiosity Diving millions of years into the past to a time when human ancestors began grappling with issues of safety worth identity loss power and meaning in complex and difficult environments Gregory J Wightman explores the significance of goal directed action and the rise of material culture for the advent of religiosity and ritual The book opens by tackling questions of cognitive evolution and group psychology and how these ideas can integrate with archaeological evidence such as stone tools shell beads and graves In turn it focuses on how human ancestors engaged with their environments how those engagements became routine and how eventually certain routines took on a recognizably ritualistic flavor Wightman also critically examines the very real constraints on drawing inferences about prehistoric belief systems solely from limited material residues Nevertheless Wightman argues that symbolic objects are not merely illustrative of religion but also constitutive of it in the continual dance between brain and behavior between internal and external environments lie the seeds of ritual and religion Weaving together insights from archaeology anthropology cognitive and cultural neuroscience history and philosophy of religions and evolutionary social and developmental psychology Wightman provides an intricate evidence based understanding of religion s earliest origins

African Indigenous Religions and Disease Causation David Westerlund,2006-10-01 This comparative and historical study focuses on religious aspects of disease etiologies among five systematically selected African peoples the San Maasai Sukuma Kongo and Yoruba Unlike the homogenizing tendencies of many earlier comparative works by scholars of religion this book highlights the differences between and the plurality within the religions and cultures of the selected peoples as well as processes of change The work covers a period of about 100 years from the late 19th to the late 20th century and much of the material used comes from European mission archives To different degrees among the peoples studied there has been a gradual shift from an emphasis on spiritual beings such as God and ancestors to living humans like witches as agents of disease In a theoretically eclectic analysis possible reasons for this shift are discussed

Conversion as a Social Process Ulrich Luig, 2021-06-04 Conversion as a Social Process presents a detailed and multi faceted account of the genesis of an African mission church in Southern Zambia Its main theme is the transformation of European missionary Christianity into an important medium for Africans to negotiate creatively the challenges of the modern world The first part of this case study scrutinizes the contextual conditions and the consequences of the translation process of the European missionary message into the forms of African culture and modes of thought The second part analyses the developments of post colonial and post missionary African Christianity in a rural setting It argues that Christian ethics and world view offer new means of self identification in a complex world Drawing on local oral sources archival material and ethnographic literature the book represents a new genre of intercultural Church history

Seekers and Things Peter Lambertz, 2017-12-29 Focusing on the intricate presence of a Japanese new religion Sekai Ky seiky in the densely populated and primarily Christian environment of Kinshasa DR Congo this ethnographic study offers a practitioner orientated perspective to create a localized picture of religious globalization Guided by an aesthetic approach to religion the study moves beyond a focus limited to text and offers insights into the role of religious objects spiritual technologies and aesthetic repertoires in the production and politics of difference The boundaries between non Christian religious minorities and the largely Christian public sphere involve fears and suspicion of magic and occult sciences
