The principles of democracy freedom and the rights of individuals are taught from textbooks but the principles of autocracy and dictatorship are still practiced in most schools and homes It is no wonder our children feel unsettled defiant and even outright rebellious Many of our young people are growing up ignorant of and uncommitted to the great principles upon which our nation was founded The way to make children committed to our democratic way of life is to make them full participants in it This new guide is provided to assist educators and parents in making our schools and homes models of democracy giving our kids the freedom of choice and bestowing on them the basic rights of citizenship Parents and educators must unite as democratic leaders to guide coach and stimulate our young people to assume responsibility for themselves The future of our nation may depend on it Character Matters Thomas Lickona,2004-02-10

Meeting Students Where They Live Richard L. Curwin,2010-04-15 Motivation and hope are two items in short supply in many urban schools But it doesn't have to be that way according to Richard L Curwin Based on input from teachers across the United States and on his own personal experiences Curwin offers suggestions that every school can use to keep students in the classroom and looking toward a brighter future In Meeting Students Where They Live Curwin urges teachers and administrators in urban schools to move away from a focus on control uniformity lack of tolerance and ironclad rules toward an approach based on compassion understanding tolerance and safety for all Each chapter examines problems common to urban schools and offers comprehensive long reaching remedies plus concrete strategies for engaging troubled and hard to reach youth Meeting Students Where They Live explores ways to Welcome all students Build lessons that involve and engage Stay motivated and energized Design assignments that students will actually do and Use evaluation to encourage and build learning rather than defeat it Meeting Students Where They Live also includes classroom activity sheets submitted by teachers working in a variety of urban environments from inner city schools to a detention center Discipline with Dignity Richard L. Curwin,Allen N. Mendler,Brian D. Mendler,2018-04-16 In this revised and updated 4th edition Discipline with Dignity provides in depth guidance for implementing a proven approach to classroom management that can help

Promoting Family Wellness and Preventing Child Maltreatment Isaac Prilleltensky, Geoffrey Brian Nelson, Leslea Peirson, 2001-01-01 Deals with the promotion of emotional well being in families and the prevention of child maltreatment Values policies and resources are examined as both facilitators of and barriers to effective action Making Good Choices Richard L. Schwean, Donald H. Saklofske, 2013-06-29 Research has documented the reciprocal effects of exceptionality and secondary psychosocial and behavioral characteristics This in depth handbook examines the categories of exceptionality most often described in educational behavioral and health practices Leading authorities from psychology education and medicine evaluate the key characteristics of particular exceptionalities from the vantage point of theory research assessment and intervention If Parents Cared Enough... Mary M. Hall-Rayford, 2012-09-10 Everyone knows by now or least thinks they know that a majority of students especially inner city students fall short on standardized tests in most public schools Media reports as well as government entities always infer that the fault of low student performance falls on the shoulders of the teachers Really Teachers have no control over the environment in which a child is raised Teachers have no control over whether parents read or do not read to their children Teachers have no control over district policies that do not add up to real school reform Teachers have no control over legislators who care more about politics than educating children So how is it that it is always the teachers fault that students do not perform well Student performance in schools excel when parents are actively engaged in creating and maintaining an environment that is conducive to learning raising children who are respectful and responsible getting involved in the business of learning in the schools with the local school board and in electing officials responsible for legislation regarding education
