Smalley, Mary K. Ruetten, 1995 This Fourth Edition continues to integrate instruction in rhetorical devices with practice in acquiring relevant grammatical structures and has added several new features Teaching ESL Composition Dana R. Ferris, John Hedgcock, John S. Hedgcock, 2004-09-15 Presents pedagogical approaches to the teaching of ESL composition in the framework of current theoretical perspectives on second language writing processes practises and writers Developing Multilingual Writing Hiroe Kobayashi, Carol Rinnert, 2023-02-14 With millions of people becoming multilingual writers in the globalized digital world this book helps to empower writers to connect with their readers and project their identities effectively across languages social contexts and genres In a series of closely related studies that build on each other we look comprehensively at how writers develop their ability to construct meaning for different audiences in multiple languages This book which draws on various approaches including a social view of writing multicompetence adaptive transfer complex systems theory motivation and translanguaging contributes to on going efforts to integrate differing approaches to multilingual writing research This book focusses on how writer agency control over text construction audience awareness ability to meet expectations of prospective readers and writer identity projection of image of the writer in the text progress as multilingual writers gain more experience across languages The within writer cross sectional text analysis Chapters 2 5 examines 185 essays written in Japanese and English by eight groups of writers from novice to advanced N 103 supplemented by insights from these writers reflections We explore how they employ three kinds of text features discourse types metadiscourse and self representation which relate to their developing agency audience and writer identity in their text construction and propose a new model for writer voice construction based on those features The four case studies Chapters 6 9 focus on five university students and six professionals to examine closely how individual writers agency audience and identity are interrelated in their text construction in two or three languages and diverse genres including academic and creative writing. The combined studies provide new insights into multilingual writing development by revealing the close interrelationship among these three principal aspects of writing across languages. They also demonstrate the writers' multi-directional use of dynamic transfer, reuse and reshaping for L1, L2 and L3 text construction and the use of mixed languages L1, L2 or L1, L3 translanguageing for composing processes in addition to the creative power of multilingual writers. One significant contribution of this book is to provide models of innovative ways to analyze text and new directions for writing research that go beyond complexity, accuracy and fluency. Categories and detailed examples of text features used for writer voice construction, e.g. specific characteristics of Personal, Emergent and Mature Voice, are helpful for writing teachers and for developing writers to improve ways of conveying their own intended writer identity to the reader. The studies break new ground by extending our analysis of L2 writing to the same writers' L1 and L3 writing and multiple genres.

Integrating Values with Communication Arts , Performance Testing, Cognition and Assessment University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate, 1996. This publication contains a selection of research papers presented at the 15th Annual Language Testing Research Colloquium. This publication contains a selection of research papers presented at the 15th Annual Language Testing Research Colloquium. LTRC The Colloquium was jointly hosted by the University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate, UCLES in Cambridge and CITO in Arnhem in the Netherlands. At the Cambridge venue the papers were presented on the theme of performance testing and at Arnhem they covered aspects of communication in relation to cognition and assessment. A selection of papers has been made in order to achieve a balanced coverage of these themes. In particular the research presented includes work on speaking and writing tests where the focus is on raters and tasks, the application of various statistical methods in language test validation and issues related to language testing in specific contexts and with particular candidate groups.

Developing Composition Skills Mary K. Ruetten, 1997. Developing Composition Skills is an intermediate level writing text for academically bound ESL/EFL students. The program provides paragraph level writing development practice in the rhetorical modes, grammar support and a rich selection of readings that serve as springboards for writing. This text presents concepts, skills and strategies that are recycled and expanded upon in Refining Composition Skills, a high intermediate level writing text.

Developing Student Criticality in Higher Education Brenda Johnston, Peter Ford, Rosamond Mitchell, Florence Myles, 2011-03-24. Critical thinking is a major and enduring aspect of higher education and the development of criticality in students has long been a core aim. However, understandings of criticality are conceptually and empirically unclear. The book combines a well-developed conceptual discussion of the nature of criticality appropriate for the twenty-first century, the extent to which it is attainable by arts and social science undergraduates and the paths by which it is developed during students' higher education experiences. Drawing upon empirical accounts and case studies of teaching and learning in different disciplines, this book critically analyses higher education curriculum and policy documentation to explore higher educational processes encouraging a re evaluation of practice and educational values and enabling the development of curricula which incorporate systematic attention to the development of student criticality This book proposes a rounded conceptual vision of criticality in higher education for the twenty first century
