Reflecting A Prairie Town A Year In Peterson American Land And Life Series:

Reflecting a Prairie Town ,1994 Hokanson writing Lakeland College looks at the town of Peterson Iowa its history and our enduring need for a sense of place He synthesizes geography oral history archaeology science and literature in his portrait of this small farming town Includes bandw historical and modern photos of Peterson s faces and landscapes Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Main Street Revisited Richard V. Francaviglia,1996-06-01 As an archetype for an entire class of places Main Street has become one of America s most popular and idealized images In Main Street Revisited the first book to place the design of small downtowns in spatial and chronological context Richard Francaviglia finds the sources of romanticized images of this archetype including Walt Disney s Main Street USA in towns as diverse as Marceline Missouri and Fort Collins Colorado Francaviglia interprets Main Street both as a real place and as an expression of collective assumptions designs and myths his Main Streets are treasure troves of historic patterns Using many historical and contemporary photographs and maps for his extensive fieldwork and research he reveals a rich regional pattern of small town development that serves as the basis for American community design He underscores the significance of time in the development of Main Street s distinctive personality focuses on the importance of space in the creation of place and concentrates on popular images that have enshrined Main Street in the collective American consciousness America, History and Life ,2002 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada

Annals of Iowa ,1995 Thoreaus Sense of Place Richard J. Schneider,2000-05 Recent Thoreau studies have shifted to an emphasis on the green Thoreau on Thoreau the environmentalist rooted firmly in particular places and interacting with particular objects In the wake of Buell s Environmental Imagination the nineteen essayists in this challenging volume address the central questions in Thoreau studies today how green how immersed in a sense of place was Thoreau really and how has this sense of place affected the tradition of nature writing in America The contributors to this stimulating collection address the ways in which Thoreau and his successors attempt to cope with the basic epistemological split between perceiver and place inherent in writing about nature related discussions involve the kinds of discourse most effective for writing about place They focus on the impact on Thoreau and his successors of culturally constructed assumptions deriving from science politics race gender history and literary conventions Finally they explore the implications surrounding a writer s appropriation or even exploitation of places and objects Circling Back Joe C. Truett,1996-04 There was so much space These words epitomize ecologist Joe Truett s boyhood memories of the Angelina River valley in East Texas Years and miles later back home for the funeral of his grandfather Truett began a long meditation on the world Corbett Graham had known and he himself had glimpsed a now vanished world where wild hogs and countless other animals rustled through the leaves cows ate pinewoods grass instead of corn oaks and hickories and longleaf pines were untouched by the corporate ax and the river flowed freely Truett s meditation resulted in this clear sighted portrait of a place over time its layers revealed by his love and care and curiosity Truett celebrates his family's heritage and the unspoiled natural world of the Piney Woods without nostalgia He recreates an older simpler more worthy age but he knows that we have lost touch with it because we wanted to he laments the loss but understands it What makes his prose so moving and so redeeming is this precise combination of honesty and sorrow overlaid by a quiet passion for both the natural and the human worlds Choice, 1994

The Publishers Weekly, 1994 Rooted David R. Pichaske, 2009-05 David Pichaske has been writing and teaching about midwestern literature for three decades In Rooted by paying close attention to text landscape and biography he examines the relationship between place and art His focus is on seven midwestern authors who came of age toward the close of the twentieth century their lives and their work grounded in distinct places Dave Etter in small town upstate Illinois Norbert Blei in Door County Wisconsin William Kloefkorn in southern Kansas and Nebraska Bill Holm in Minnesota Linda Hasselstrom in Hermosa South Dakota Jim Heynen in Sioux County Iowa and Jim Harrison in upper Michigan The writers' intimate knowledge of place is reflected in their use of details of geography language environment and behavior Yet each writer reaches toward other geographies and into other dimensions of art or thought jazz music and formalism in the case of Etter gender issues in the case of Hasselstrom time past and present in the case of Kloefkorn ethnicity and the role of the artist in the case of Blei magical realism in the case of Heynen the landscape of literature in the case of Holm and the curious worlds of academia best selling novels and Hollywood films in the case of Harrison The result Pichaske notes is the growing away from roots the explorations and alter egos of these writers of place and the tension between the here and there that gives each writer's art the complexity it needs to transcend provincial boundaries Quoting generously from the writers Pichaske employs a practical jargon free literary analysis fixed in the text making Rooted interesting readable and especially useful in treating the literary categories of memoir and literary essay that have become important in recent decades
