Systems Science and Cybernetics - Volume III

Francisco Parra-Luna, The subject Systems sciences and cybernetics is the outcome of the convergence of a number of trends in a larger current of thought devoted to the growing complexity of primarily social objects and arising in response to the need for globalized treatment of such objects This has been magnified by the proliferation and publication of all manner of quantitative scientific data on such objects advances in the theories on their inter relations the enormous computational capacity provided by IT hardware and software and the critical revisiting of subject object interaction not to mention the urgent need to control the efficiency of complex systems where efficiency is understood to mean the ability to find a solution to many social problems including those posed on a planetary scale The result has been the forging of a new academically consolidated scientific trend going by the name of Systems Theory and Cybernetics with a comprehensive multi disciplinary focus and therefore apt for understanding realities still regarded to be inescapably chaotic This subject entry is subdivided into four sections The first an introduction to systemic theories addresses the historic development of the most commonly used systemic approaches from new concepts such as the so called geometry of thinking or the systemic treatment of non systemic identities to the taxonomic entropic axiological and ethical problems deriving from a general systemic cybernetic conceit Hence the focus in this section is on the historic and philosophical aspects of the subject Moreover it may be asserted today that beyond a shadow of a doubt problems in particular problems deriving from human interaction but in general any problem regardless of its nature must be posed from a systemic perspective for otherwise the obstacles to their solution are insurmountable Reaching such a perspective requires taking at least the following well known steps a statement of the problem from the determinant variables or phenomena b adoption of theoretical models showing the interrelationships among such variables c use of the maximum amount of wherever possible quantitative information available on each d placement of the set of variables in an environment that inevitably pre determines the problem That epistemology would explain the substantial development of the systemic cybernetic approach in recent decades The articles in the second section deal in particular with the different methodological approaches developed when confronting real problems from issues that affect humanity as a whole to minor but specific questions arising in human organizations Certain sub themes are discussed by the various authors always from a didactic vantage including problem discovery and diagnosis and development of the respective critical theory the design of ad hoc strategies and methodologies the implementation of both qualitative soft system methodologies and formal and quantitative such as the General System Problem Solver or the axiological operational perspective approaches cross disciplinary integration and suitable methods for broaching psychological cultural and socio political dynamisms The third section is devoted to cybernetics in the present dual meaning of the term on the one hand control of the effectiveness of communication and actions and on the other the processes of self production of knowledge through reflection and the relationship between the observing subject and the observed object when the latter is also observer and the former observed Known as second order cybernetics this provides an avenue for rethinking the validity of knowledge such as for instance when viewed through what is known as bipolar feedback processes through which interactions create novelty complexity and diversity Finally the fourth section centres around artificial and computational intelligence addressing sub themes such as neural networks the simulated annealing that ranges from statistical thermodynamics to combinatory problem solving such as in the explanation of the role of adaptive systems or when discussing the relationship between biological and computational intelligence

New Concepts and Trends of Hybrid Multiple Criteria Decision Making Gwo-Hshiung Tzeng, Kao-Yi Shen, 2017-08-15 When people or computers need to make a decision typically multiple conflicting criteria need to be evaluated for example when we buy a car we need to consider safety cost and comfort Multiple criteria decision making MCDM has been researched for decades Now as the rising trend of big data analytics in supporting decision making MCDM can be more powerful when combined with state of the art analytics and machine learning In this book the authors introduce a new framework of MCDM which can lead to more accurate decision making Several real world cases will be included to illustrate the new hybrid approaches Big Data Analytics

American Learned Men and Women with Czechoslovak Roots Mila Rechcigl, 2020-11-18 Apart from a few articles no comprehensive study has been written about the learned men and women in America with Czechoslovak roots That's what this compendium is all about with the focus on immigration from the period of mass migration and beyond irrespective whether they were born in their European ancestral homes or whether they have descended from them Czech and Slovak immigrants including Bohemian Jews have brought to the New World their talents their ingenuity their technical skills their scientific knowhow and their humanistic and spiritual upbringing reflecting upon the richness of their culture and traditions developed throughout centuries in their ancestral home This accounts for the remarkable success and achievements of these settlers in their new home transcending through their descendants as this monograph demonstrates The monograph has been organized into sections by subject areas i e Scholars Social Scientists Biological Scientists and Physical Scientists Each individual entry is usually accompanied with literature and additional biographical sources for readers who wish to pursue a deeper study The selection of individuals has been strictly based on geographical ground without regards to their native language or ethical background This was because under the Habsburg rule the official language was German and any nationalistic aspirations were not tolerated Consequently it would be virtually impossible to determine their innate ethnic roots or how the respective individuals felt Doing it in any other way would be a mere guessing and thus less objective Game Theory and Applications

V. V. Mazalov,2002 This book brings together papers of well known specialists in game theory and adjacent problems It presents the basic results in dynamic games stochastic games applications of game theoretical methods in ecology and economics and methodological aspects of game theory The Socio-Economic Transformation Zbigniew Nahorski,J. Owsinski,Tomasz Szapiro,2007-03-13 Transition economies offer a test case for concepts and theories for broader ideas and for the methods of scientific enquiry but also for the multiplicity of ideological interpretations This volume addresses the major issues of transformation institutional design the redistribution paradigm and the macroeconomic decisions to be made
