New German Cinema From Oberhausen To Hamburg:

New German Cinema James C. Franklin, 1986 Women and the New German Cinema Julia Knight, 1992-06-17 There were virtually no women film directors in Germany until the 1970s today there are proportionally more than in any other film making country⁶ and their work has been extremely influential Directors like Margarethe von Trotta Helma Sanders-Brahms Ulrike Ottinger and Helke Sander have made a huge contribution to feminist film culture but until now critical consideration of New German Cinema in Britain and the United States has focused almost exclusively on male directors such as Rainer Werner Fassbinder and Wim Wenders In Women and the New German Cinema Julia Knight examines how restrictive social economic and institutional conditions have compounded the neglect of the new women directors Rejecting the traditional auteur approach she explores the principal characteristics of women's film making in the 1970s and 1980s in particular the role of the women's movement the concern with the notion of a feminine aesthetic women's entry into the mainstream and the emergence of a so called post feminist cinema This timely and comprehensive study will be essential reading for everyone concerned with contemporary cinema and feminism New German Cinema and Its Global Contexts Marco Abel, Jaimey Fisher, 2025-01-14 Contributors explore these films transnational circuits of production distribution and exhibition as well as how the films were made and received thereby inviting us to reexamine the roots of what New German Cinema was and imagine what it might yet become

New German Cinema Julia Knight, 2004 Comprising a discussion of Alice in the Cities The Bitter Tears of Petra von Kant Heimat and The American Friend Julia Knight's study examines the American dominance of German film the framework of European art cinema and how German cinema engages with contemporary German reality

Nation and Identity in the New German Cinema Inga Scharf, 2008-06-30 This book investigates the construction of national identity in films of the New German Cinema using for the first time an explicitly cultural studies methodology

The A to Z of German Cinema Robert C. Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2010-04-01 German film is diverse and multi faceted its history includes five distinct German governments Wilhelmine Germany the Weimar Republic the Third Reich the Federal Republic of Germany and the German Democratic Republic two national industries Germany and Austria and a myriad of styles and production methods Paradoxically the political disruptions that have produced these distinct film eras as well as the natural inclination of artists to rebel and create new styles allow for the construction of a narrative of German film While the disjuncture generates distinct points of separation it also highlights continuities between the ruptures Outlining the richness of German film The A to Z of German Cinema covers mainstream alternative and experimental film from 1895 to the present through a chronology introductory essay appendix of the 100 most significant German films a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on directors actors films cinematographers composers producers and major historical events that greatly affected the direction and development of German cinema The book's broad canvas will lead students and scholars of cinema to appreciate the complex nature of German film

Dismantling the Dream Factory

Hester Baer,2012-02 The history of postwar German cinema has most often been told as a story of failure a failure paradoxically epitomized by the remarkable popularity of film throughout the late 1940s and 1950s Through the analysis of 10 representative films Hester Baer reassesses this period looking in particular at how the attempt to dismantle the dream factory of Nazi entertainment cinema resulted in a new cinematic language which developed as a result of the changing audience demographic In an era when female viewers comprised 70 per cent of cinema audiences a women s cinema emerged which sought to appeal to female spectators through its genres star choices stories and formal conventions In addition to analyzing the formal language and narrative content of these films Baer uses a wide array of other sources to reconstruct the original context of their reception including promotional and publicity materials film programs censorship documents reviews and spreads in fan magazines This book presents a new take on an essential period which saw the rebirth of German cinema after its thorough delegitimization under the Nazi regime German Film & Literature Eric

Rentschler,2013-10-15 First Published in 1986 This collection of essays by an international team of scholars is the first sustained investigation in any language of the historical interactions between German film and literature It is a book about adaptations and transformations about why filmmakers adapt certain material at certain times The major impetus at work is the desire to expand the field of adaptation study to include sociological theoretical and historical dimensions and to bring a livelier regard for intertextuality to the studies of German film and literature It is concerned with the ways in which filmmakers in Germany from Pabst and von Sternberg to Fassbinder Herzog and Sanders Brahms have engaged and been engaged by literary history Fatih Akin's Cinema and the New Sound of Europe Berna Gueneli,2019-01-09 In Fatih Ak n s Cinema and the New Sound of Europe Berna Gueneli explores the transnational works of acclaimed Turkish German filmmaker and auteur Fatih Ak n The first minority director in Germany to receive numerous national and international awards Ak n makes films that are informed by Europe s past provide cinematic imaginations about its present and future and engage with public discourses on minorities and migration in Europe through his treatment and representation of a diverse multiethnic and multilingual European citizenry Through detailed analyses of some of Ak n s key works In July Head On and The Edge of Heaven among others Gueneli identifies Ak n s unique stylistic use of multivalent sonic and visual components and multinational characters She argues that the soundscapes of Ak n s films including music and multiple languages dialects and accents create an aesthetic of heterogeneity that envisions an expanded and integrated Europe and highlights the political nature of Ak n s decisions regarding casting settings and audio At a time when belonging and identity in Europe is complicated by questions of race ethnicity religion and citizenship Gueneli demonstrates how Ak n s aesthetics intersect with politics to reshape notions of Europe European cinema and cinematic history German National Cinema Sabine

Hake,2013-01-11 German National Cinema is the first comprehensive history of German film from its origins to the present In this new edition Sabine Hake discusses film making in economic political social and cultural terms and considers the contribution of Germany's most popular films to changing definitions of genre authorship and film form The book traces the central role of cinema in the nation's turbulent history from the Wilhelmine Empire to the Berlin Republic with special attention paid to the competing demands of film as art entertainment and propaganda Hake also explores the centrality of genre films and the star system to the development of a filmic imaginary This fully revised and updated new edition will be required reading for everyone interested in German film and the history of modern Germany
