Abrahamson, Marcia R. Prior-Miller, 2015-06-05 Scholarly engagement with the magazine form has in the last two decades produced a substantial amount of valuable research. Authored by leading academic authorities in the study of magazines, the chapters in The Routledge Handbook of Magazine Research not only create an architecture to organize and archive the developing field of magazine research but also suggest new avenues of future investigation. Each of 33 chapters surveys the last 20 years of scholarship in its subject area, identifying the major research themes, theoretical developments, and interpretive breakthroughs. Exploration of the digital challenges and opportunities which currently face the magazine world are woven throughout, offering readers a deeper understanding of the magazine form as well as of the sociocultural realities it both mirrors and influences. The book includes six sections: Methodologies and structures; presents theories and models for magazine research in an evolving global context; Magazine publishing: the people and the work; introduces the roles and practices of those involved in the editorial and business sides of magazine publishing; Magazines as textual communication; surveys the field of contemporary magazines across a range of theoretical perspectives; subjects: genre and format questions; Magazines as visual communication; explores cover design, photography, illustrations, and interactivity; Pedagogical and curricular perspectives; offers insights on undergraduate and graduate teaching topics in magazine research; The future of the magazine form; speculates on the changing nature of magazine research via its environmental effects, audience, and transforming platforms. ENGLISH WRITING DEVELOPMENT LIXIA WEI, 2018-02-13 English Writing Development 4MAT Learning Style and Thinking Visualization Strategies is designed as an introductory course in English writing for students, teachers, and all those who consider writing is important and fun. It is based on the author's own experience of teaching English writing to undergraduates who major in English and training students to participate in provincial and national English writing contests. Instead of showing the skeleton of writing to readers directly, the author integrates the 4MAT Process Approach that she has developed on the basis of the 4MAT learning style and the Process Approach into the design of the book, aiming to increase learners' motivation by answering why they should learn, what they should learn, how they should apply what they have learnt, and what if the situation changes in each chapter. With corpora, news, and students' work as resources to collect sample sentences, paragraphs, and essays, the author elaborates eight main aspects which are: writing process, writing a paragraph, writing an essay, methods of paragraph development, types of clause, types of sentence, rhetorical devices, paraphrase, and summary. English Writing Development 4MAT Learning Style and Thinking Visualization Strategies is not only the ideal English writing textbook for students at different levels but also functions equally well as a self-tutoring textbook. The simple, reader-friendly explanations, coupled with interesting and meaningful examples, figures, tables, and the checklists are of great help for the learners to make progress on their own. Armed with the strategies elaborated in the book, learners most probably will find that WRITING IS FUN. Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs
