vivid portrait of the American prairie which rivals the rainforest in its biological diversity and with little notice is disappearing even faster This book describes in loving living prose one of the world's greatest and most important landscapes And it does so while there's still time to save some serious part of it Bill McKibben author of The End of Nature The North American prairie is an ecological marvel a lush carpet of grass that stretches to the horizon and home to some of the nation's most iconic creatures bison elk wolves pronghorn prairie dogs and bald eagles Plants microbes and animals together made the grasslands one of the richest ecosystems on Earth and a massive carbon sink but the constant expansion of agriculture threatens what remains When European settlers encountered the prairie nearly two hundred years ago rather than a natural wonder they saw an alien and forbidding place But with the steel plow artificial drainage and fertilizers they converted the prairie into some of the world's most productive farmland a transformation unprecedented in human history American farmers fed the industrial revolution and made North America a global breadbasket but at a terrible cost the forced dislocation of Indigenous peoples pollution of great rivers and catastrophic loss of wildlife Today industrial agriculture continues its assault on the prairie plowing up one million acres of grassland a year Farmers can protect this extraordinary landscape but trying new ideas can mean ruin in a business with razor thin margins and will require help from Washington D C and from consumers Veteran journalists and midwesterners Dave Hage and Josephine Marcotty reveal humanity's relationship with this incredible land offering a deep compassionate analysis of the difficult decisions as well as opportunities facing agricultural and Indigenous communities Sea of Grass is a vivid portrait of a miraculous ecosystem that makes clear why the future of this region is of essential concern far beyond the heartland Building Suburbia Dolores

Hayden, 2009-11-04 A lively and provocative history of the contested landscapes where the majority of Americans now live From rustic cottages reached by steamboat to big box stores at the exit ramps of eight lane highways Dolores Hayden defines seven eras of suburban development since 1820 An urban historian and architect she portrays housewives and politicians as well as designers and builders making the decisions that have generated America's diverse suburbs Residents have sought home nature and community in suburbia Developers have cherished different dreams seeking profit from economies of scale and increased suburban densities while lobbying local and federal government to reduce the risk of real estate speculation

Encompassing environmental controversies as well as the complexities of race gender and class Hayden s fascinating account will forever alter how we think about the communities we build and inhabit Vegetal Politics Lesley Head,Jennifer

Atchison,Catherine Phillips,Kathleen Buckingham,2017-10-02 Cultural geography has a long and proud tradition of research into human plant relations However until recently that tradition has been somewhat disconnected from conceptual advances in the social sciences even those to which cultural geographers have made significant contributions With a number of important exceptions plant studies have been less explicitly part of more than human geographies than have animal studies This book aims to redress this gap recognising plants and their multiple engagements with and beyond humans Plants are not only fundamental to human survival they play a key role in many of the most important environmental political issues of the century including biofuels carbon economies and food security This innovative collection explores themes of belonging practices and places Together the chapters suggest new kinds of vegetal politics documenting both collaborative and conflictual relations between humans plants and others They open up new spaces of political action and subjectivity challenging political frames that are confined to humans The book also raises methodological questions and challenges for future research This book was published as a special issue of Social and Economic Geography Frozen Chronicles: The

Manuel Gausa,Jordi Vivaldi,2021-04-15 During the last 30 years Advanced Architecture has consolidated an interactive and informational logic that differs from that of Modernity and Postmodernity This logic is threefold it is modulated through three coexisting protocols modes of action whose peaks of intensity occur in three different decades Conformative Protocols 1990 2000 Distributive Protocols 2000 2010 and Expansive Protocols 2010 2020 This work proposes a threefold cultural narrative whose interactive and informational logic differs from that of modernity and postmodernity It positions three different ethos by critically approaching the architectural side of a cultural mutation that has been affecting the Western experimental areas of knowledge and practice since the end of the last century A transformative process constituted by a constellation of transdisciplinary manifestations accelerations turns shortcuts and clusterizations that by no means can be read under one single epistemological umbrella In this sense rather than approaching the practice of architecture focusing on its disciplinary inner specificity this book approaches the research of experimental architecture focusing on its extra disciplinary entanglements It argues that a vast multiplicity of fields of knowledge participates in a cultural endeavour modulated through three protocols forms of action that singularize three decades Conformative Protocols 1990 2000 Distributive Protocols 2000 2010 and Expansive Protocols 2010 2020 These three periods shouldn t be read as three hermetic and concatenated monades but as three different modulations of the same narrative that is as three overlapping and coexisting systems whose peaks of intensity occur in three different decades However the main purpose of this book is not limited to unveiling the ethos of these three conjugations It also aims at using this framework as a time field a narrative map that moves from the classificatory to the cartographical in order to vectorize the last 30 years of experimental architecture In this sense this book argues that this threefold set of protocols represents the progressive attempt to constitute critical interiorities looking for and produced through interactions that are increasingly more intimate and whose agents are increasingly more diverse A tendency oriented towards the consolidation of an intimacy between strangers that highly resonates with the cultural and technological landscape in which experimental architecture operates Landscape Michael Spens,2007-04-23 Charting the latest advances in thinking and practice in 21st century landscape this edition of AD looks at the degree to which landscape architects and architects have rethought and redefined the parameters for the interaction of buildings infrastructures and surrounding landscape Landscape Architecture Site Non Site defines the key moves affected in the revision of landscape using a compilation of some of the most current work in the field Featured designers include James Corner of Field Operations Kathryn Findlay Adriaan Geuze of West 8 Gross Max Bernard Lassus Gustafson Porter Maggie Ruddick Ken Smith and Michael van Valkenburgh There are contributions from Lucy Bullivant Peter Cook Jayne Merkel Juhani Pallasmaa and Grahame Shane Westering Women and the Frontier Experience, 1800-1915 Sandra L.
