CONTROL AND FREEDOM: POWER AND PARANOIA IN THE AGE OF FIBER OPTICS. Wendy Hui Kyong Chun,

Power, Politics, and Paranoia Jan-Willem van Prooijen, Paul A. M. van Lange, 2014-05-29 Powerful societal leaders such as politicians and Chief Executives are frequently met with substantial distrust by the public But why are people so suspicious of their leaders One possibility is that power corrupts and therefore people are right in their reservations Indeed there are numerous examples of unethical leadership even at the highest level as the Watergate and Enron scandals clearly illustrate Another possibility is that people are unjustifiably paranoid as underscored by some of the rather far fetched conspiracy theories that are endorsed by a surprisingly large portion of citizens Are societal power holders more likely than the average citizen to display unethical behaviour How do people generally think and feel about politicians How do paranoia and conspiracy beliefs about societal power holders originate In this book prominent scholars address these intriguing questions and illuminate the many facets of the relations between power politics and paranoia Journal of Nervous and

Power and Influence in Organizations Roderick Moreland Kramer, Margaret A. Neale, 1998-08-11 This volume is a readily accessible compilation of current original scholarly research in the area of power and influence in organizations It offers a rich exploration of emerging trends and new perspectives In Sickness and In Power David Owen, 2022-03-17 In Sickness and In Power looks at illness in heads of government business and military leaders between 1901 and 2007 It considers how illness and therapy both physical and mental affect the decision making of heads of government engendering

folly in the sense of foolishness stupidity or rashness Owen is particularly interested in leaders who were not ill in the conventional sense whose cognitive faculties functioned well but who developed a hubristic syndrome that powerfully affected their performance and their actions As we learn here they suffer a loss of capacity and become excessively self confident and contemptuous of advice that runs counter to what they believe or sometimes of any advice at all Long fascinated with the inter relationship between politics and medicine David Owen uses his deep knowledge of both to look at sickness in political leaders Owen expertly scrutinises such diverse political personalities as Sir Anthony Eden at the time of Suez in 1956 John F Kennedy and the Bay of Pigs fiasco in 1961 the last Shah of Iran and President Mitterrand of France who suffered from prostate cancer The author also devotes a chapter to the hubristic behaviour and relationship between President Bush and Prime Minister Blair The book ends by outlining some of the safeguards that society needs to address as a consequence of illness in heads of government Revised and Updated Edition for 2016 including a new chapter entitled Hubris Syndrome in the Military The Pathologies of Power Christopher J. Fettweis, 2013-09-30 The foreign policy of the United States is guided by deeply held beliefs few of which are recognized much less subjected to rational analysis Christopher J Fettweis writes in this his third book He identifies the foundations of those beliefs fear honor glory and hubris and explains how they have inspired poor strategic decisions in Washington He then proceeds to discuss their origins The author analyzes recent foreign policy mistakes including the Bay of Pigs the Vietnam War and the Iraq War and he considers the decision making process behind them as well as the beliefs inspiring those decisions The American government's strategic performance Professor Fettweis argues can be improved if these pathological beliefs are recognized and eliminated

By the time John Brown hung from the gallows for his crimes at Harper s Ferry Northern abolitionists had made him a holy martyr in their campaign against Southern slave owners This Northern hatred for Southerners long predated their objections to slavery They were convinced that New England whose spokesmen had begun the American Revolution should have been the leader of the new nation Instead they had been displaced by Southern slavocrats like Thomas Jefferson This malevolent envy exacerbated the South s greatest fear a race war Jefferson s cry We are truly to be pitied summed up their dread For decades extremists in both regions flung insults and threats creating intractable enmities By 1861 only a civil war that would kill a million men could save the Union Playing Sociology Martino Doni,Stefano Tomelleri,2024-08-01

Against the State of Nuclear Terror Joel Kovel, 1984 A look at the political economic and psychological levels of the nuclear crisis There are says Kovel two kinds of nuclear states There is the nuclear state apparatus whose ruling principle is domination through science and there is the nuclear state of being which includes the psychology of living under the nuclear gun The nuclear crisis is not a matter technically adjusting the nature and number of warheads but the agony and paranoia of an entire civilization Back cover

Harold Pinter and the Language of Cultural Power Marc Silverstein, 1993 For all their attempts to own language Pinter's characters discover that words constitute alienable property that language forms de forms and re forms subjectivity that as a system preceding the individual language carries embedded within it the values desires and imperatives of the Other the dominant cultural order By introducing questions of subject position and ideology into his discussion author Marc Silverstein shows how the plays exhibit a political dimension largely ignored by the bulk of Pinter criticism which attempts to classify his oeuvre as a form of absurdist drama It is Silverstein's contention that Pinter does not concern himself with the fate of the individual lost in an incomprehensible and meaningless universe the absurdist Pinter but instead explores the vicissitudes of living within ideological discursive and social structures that always exceed the subject

Crowds, Power, and Transformation in Cinema Lesley Brill, 2006 A noted critic brings crowd theory to Film Studies offering a bold new analysis of the pervasive cinematic themes of transformation and power From Intolerance to The Silence of the Lambs motion pictures show crowds and power in complex usually antagonistic relationships Key to understanding this opposition is an intrinsic capability of the cinema transformation Making unprecedented use of Elias Canetti's Crowds and Power Lesley Brill explores crowds power and transformation throughout film history The formation of crowds together with crowd symbols and representations of power create complex unifying structures in two early masterpieces The Battleship Potemkin and Intolerance In Throne of Blood power seekers become increasingly isolated while the crowd of the dead seduces and overwhelms the living The conflict between crowds and power in Citizen Kane takes place both within the protagonist and between him and the people he tries to master North by Northwest Killer of Sheep and The Silence of the Lambs are rich in hunting and predation and show the crowd as a pack transformation true false and failed is the key to both attack and escape Brill's study provides original insights into canonical movies and shows anew the central importance of transformation in film Film theorists critics and historians will value this fresh and intriguing approach to film classics which also has much to say about cinema itself and its unique relationship to mass audiences
