Reading And Learning From Text:

Text Relevance and Learning from Text Gregory Schraw, Matthew T. McCrudden, Joseph P. Magliano, 2011-08-01 Why do people from similar backgrounds who read the same text construct different meanings Is there a question behind every reading goal such that reading is an interactive process of asking and answering of questions Do people who believe that knowledge is dynamic construct meaning differently than those who believe that knowledge is certain This volume addresses questions such as these and presents cutting edge research and theory that explores how readers determine text relevance i e the different values they assign to information as they read how relevance affects understanding and the implications of these studies for theories of text comprehension This volume documents in a compelling manner the ongoing international effort to understand how text relevance affects reading and comprehension Contributing authors represent major academic institutions on three continents and nine countries demonstrating the multinational interest in text relevance Why is there so much interest in text relevance Learners are inundated with unprecedented amounts of information and increased research regarding how readers process non traditional texts e g documents on the web and multiple documents for example underscores the importance of understanding how readers determine the relevance of text information for personal academic or professional goals which can enable educators to design learning situations that help learners get the most out of reading

Finding the Right Texts Elfrieda H. Hiebert, Misty Sailors, 2009-01-01 Until now no single volume has comprehensively examined the crucial question of how to select the most appropriate reading material for beginning or struggling readers From leading authorities this book meets an important need by reviewing the best available research on the role of specific text features a including linguistic and conceptual content a in supporting the development of proficient reading Also explored are ways that teacher scaffolding can help students who have difficulties with particular aspects or types of texts The book considers approaches to adapting the design and selection of texts to reinforce reading skills and provide well paced challenges for Ka 6 students at a variety of ability levels Learning From Text Across Conceptual Domains Cynthia R. Hynd, 2013-12-16 This volume is an attempt to synthesize the understandings we have about reading to learn Although learning at all ages is discussed in this volume the main focus is on middle and high school classrooms critical spaces of learning and thinking The amount of knowledge presented in written form is increasing and the information we get from texts is often conflicting We are in a knowledge explosion that leaves us reeling and may effectively disenfranchise those who are not keeping up There has never been a more crucial time for students to understand learn from and think critically about the information in various forms of text Thus understanding what it means to learn is vital for all educators Learning from text is a complex matter that includes student factors social ethnic and cultural differences as well as varying motivations self perceptions goals and needs instructional and teacher factors and disciplinary and social factors One important goal of the book is to encourage practicing teachers to learn to consider their students in new ways to see them as being influenced by and as influencing not just the classroom but the total fabric of the disciplines they are learning Equally important it is intended to foster further research efforts from local studies of classrooms by teachers to large scale studies that produce generalizable understandings about learning from text This volume a result of the editor s and contributors work with the National Reading Research Center will be of interest to all researchers graduate students practicing teachers and teachers in training who are interested in understanding the issues that are central to improving students learning from text

Learning to Learn from Text A. Morris,Nea Stewart-Dore,1984 How to teach effective strategies in reading for information and research Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension M. Anne Britt,Jean-François Rouet,Amanda Durik,2017-07-06 Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension aims to systematically investigate how readers interpret reading tasks within a situation and how that interpretation influences reading behavior and comprehension Presenting a new model of REading as problem SOLVing RESOLV the authors describe reading comprehension in terms of how a reader adopts goals within a particular situation that then guide what is read when and how By applying the RESOLV model to a range of reading situations this book provides evidence to suggest that there is no unitary understanding of a task because individuals bring their own goals and characteristics to the situation as such it demonstrates the importance of understanding how a reader e g student test taker employee completing a work task represents the context and the specific assignment Written by internationally recognized learning sciences scholars Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension advances the state of the art in reading research but also seeks to inform a broader range of audiences including those interested in the teaching and the assessment of reading Reading and Learning from Text Harry Singer,Dan Donlan,1980 Text Comprehension And Learning Bernadette Van Hout-Wolters,Wolfgang Schnotz,2020-08-27 This book deals with the significance of different text structures and its cognitive processing in learning from texts It discusses the effect of learning abilities and attitudes for learning from texts and focuses on the significance of processing and learning strategies for text comprehension

Reading and Learning from Informational Text Jennifer L. Harner,2013-08-01 Sometimes it can be difficult to find the information you are looking for in a text Readers of this book will discover tips and tricks for proficiently comprehending informational texts and carefully searching them for the knowledge they need They will find out how informational texts are organized how to identify important points and key details and how to demonstrate understanding of a text using information from both illustrations and text

Reading - From Words to Multiple Texts Anne Britt,Susan Goldman,Jean-Francois Rouet,2012-12-07 Increasing the mastery of reading and text literacy in the general population is one of the most important challenges faced by both developed and developing societies Providing a new reference for researchers and practitioners involved in this domain this book brings together empirical research on the multiple levels of language that are involved in reading It emphasizes the concrete outcomes of scientific research and illustrates the continuity among levels The chapters deal with clearly articulated questions provide up to date reviews of the literature and include discussions of the impacts of research outcomes for the practice of reading instruction Furthermore the volume addresses the gap between restricted and more functional approaches to reading competency Finally it addresses some of the new issues that arise from the rapid changes in reading practices that are related to the diffusion of digital technologies Featuring contributions from authors who are among the acknowledged leaders in the field and presenting the state of the art and current controversies in reading and literacy research this volume honors the profound impact of Charles Perfetti on reading research Handbook of Research on Reading Comprehension Susan E. Israel,Gerald G. Duffy,2014-06-03 Researchers of reading comprehension literacy educational psychology psychology and neuroscience are brought together for this handbook to document and summarize the current body of research on theory methods instruction and assessment in reading comprehension

Emotions in Reading, Learning, and Communication Catherine Bohn-Gettler,Johanna Kaakinen,2024-08-16 This book brings together experts engaging in empirical studies on how emotion influences learning and processing for varying text types in different contexts In our current era learners are confronted with many and varying sources of information such as news media books websites social media scientific articles communicative interactions and more In addition individuals must learn from such sources making it important to critically examine the factors underlying learning from text and discourse Importantly the valence pleasantness and activation intensity of learners emotions can influence the quality of processing which could help or hinder the learner s ability to understand and learn from text The chapters included in this book work toward developing a more comprehensive understanding of the influence of emotions in supporting learning comprehension processing and conceptual change to draw important connections to the broader fields of text and discourse learning and motivation This is an important and illuminating read for students and scholars of psychology education and educational technology The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Discourse Processes

Fluency and Reading Comprehension in Typical Readers and Dyslexic Readers: Volume II Manuel Soriano-Ferrer,Simone Aparecida Capellini,Giseli Donadon Germano,2024-03-06 This Research Topic is the second edition of Fluency and reading comprehension in typical readers and dyslexics readers Volume I This Second Edition Research Topic is focused on the characterization of the reading writing difficulties and their comorbidities and in the analysis of evidence based recommendations for early interventions and treatment of these difficulties within the fields of neuropsychology speech language pathology and educational psychology Reading involves decoding and comprehension components and to become efficient it requires a large number of cognitive and linguistic processes Among those decoding failures can have different origins such as deficits in phonological and or visual processing In addition a child with reading difficulties might also have problems in the acquisition of writing and handwriting performance This is an important point to be discussed as reading and writing both suffer interference from vocabulary acquisition linguistic skills memory skills reading and writing practices and literacy methods These processes become important only when the professional needs to deal with students presenting learning difficulties Difficulty in using the knowledge of conversion rules between grapheme

phoneme to word reading construction or phoneme grapheme for writing can be identified in schoolchildren with dyslexia dysgraphia and dysortography being a specific learning disorder with a neurological etiology In addition there is established evidence of a speech language processing basis students with specific learning disabilities can show a range of cognitive difficulties e g rapid naming executive functioning working memory These presented difficulties interfere in their learning process impairing their learning development

Metacognition, Strategy Use, and Instruction Harriet Salatas Waters, Wolfgang Schneider, 2009-09-01 Showcasing exemplary research programs this book explores how the latest theories and findings on cognitive development can be used to improve classroom instruction The focus is on how children acquire knowledge about the processes involved in learning such as remembering thinking and problem solving as well as strategies for mastering new information The contributors are leading experts who illustrate ways teachers can support the development of metacognition and goal directed strategy use throughout the school years and in different academic domains Teacher behaviors and instructional methods that promote these abilities are identified and innovative assessment approaches and research designs are described

Verbal Protocols of Reading Michael Pressley, Peter Afflerbach, 2012-12-06 Researchers from a variety of disciplines have collected verbal protocols of reading as a window on conscious reading processes Because such work has occurred in different disciplines many who have conducted verbal protocol analyses have been unaware of the research of others This volume brings together the existing literature from the various fields in which verbal protocols of reading have been generated In so doing the authors provide an organized catalog of all conscious verbal processes reported in studies to date the most complete analysis of conscious reading now available in the literature When the results of all of the studies are considered there is clear support for a number of models of reading comprehension including reader response theories schema perspectives executive processing models and bottom up approaches such as the one proposed by van Dijk and Kintsch The summary of results also demonstrates that none of the existing models goes far enough Thus a new framework constructively responsive reading is described This new model encompasses reader response schematic and executive processing and induction from word and phrase level comprehension to higher order meaning The important concept in this new model is that readers respond to bits and pieces of text as they are encountered all as part of the overarching goal of constructing meaning from text This volume also includes a critical review of the thinking aloud methodology as it has been used thus far This examination suggests that it continues to be an immature methodology and that much work is needed if a complete theory of conscious processing during reading is to be developed via verbal protocol analysis Finally after reviewing what has been accomplished to date the authors provide extensive discussion of the work that remains to be done and the adequacy of the verbal protocol methodology for permitting telling conclusions about text processing
