

THE REAL WORLD OF THE IMPRESSIONISTS

Paintings and Photographs 1848-1918

An impressionist painting of a vast field filled with red flowers, possibly poppies, in the foreground. In the middle ground, two figures are visible: a person wearing a straw hat and a dark coat, and another person further back. The background features a line of dark trees and a small building with a red roof under a sky with soft, white clouds. The overall style is characteristic of Impressionism, with visible brushstrokes and a focus on light and color.

Modernism in Art, Design and Architecture Christopher Crouch, 1998-11-20 This text summarises and contextualises the ideas that formed visual arts practices this century Art design and architecture are located in their social and political contexts and the ideas of modernism are traced from the development of industrialised Europe at the turn of the century to the post industrial post colonial present The complex relationship between modernism and postmodernism in the visual arts is examined and the book concludes with a review of the global impact of the new technologies on art and design production

The Jurisprudence of Style Justin Desautels-Stein, 2018-02-22 In the contemporary domain of American legal thought there is a dominant way in which lawyers and judges craft their argumentative practice More colloquially this is a dominant conception of what it means to think like a lawyer Despite the widespread popularity of this conception it is rarely described in detail or given a name Justin Desautels Stein tells the story of how and why this happened and why it matters Drawing upon and updating the work of Harvard Law School's first generation of critical legal studies Desautels Stein develops what he calls a jurisprudence of style In doing so he uncovers the intellectual alliance first emerging at the end of the nineteenth century and maturing in the last third of the twentieth century between American pragmatism and liberal legal thought Applying the tools of legal structuralism and phenomenology to real world cases in areas of contemporary legal debate this book develops a practice oriented understanding of legal thought

The Impressionist Murders William Sargent, 2012-10-22 Two Arab men are found murdered near downtown Houston Texas and detectives Ross Clayton and Leona Stillwell are sent to investigate These aren't ordinary murders however the bodies are arranged to mirror a famous Impressionist painting and the exactitude of the killing gives Clayton cause to be concerned He suspects this killer isn't finished His suspicions turn out to be correct as more men end up dead and similarly arranged Every victim is of Arab descent and it's hard to deny the killer must have both some kind of racial vendetta and a love for Impressionist art Clayton and his partner have no choice but to seek out an expert Lund Corbel from the Houston Fine Arts Museum He sets them on the right path but their path gets crowded as the serial killer continues the spree Clayton has solved plenty of strange crimes before but he's beginning to feel out of his depth especially following the death of a fellow cop in pursuit of another investigation involving drugs prostitution and murder Soon two investigations collide and the end won't be as pretty as a painting
