American Foreign Policy, Current Documents ,1987 American Foreign Policy Basic Documents, 1977-1980 United States. Department of State. Office of the Historian,1983 American Foreign Policy ,2008 American Foreign Policy Current Documents ,1961 The Constitution and the Conduct of American Foreign Policy David Gray Adler,Larry Nelson George,1996 In this provocative and readable volume eleven leading constitutional authorities challenge business as usual in American foreign policymaking For far too long they contend Americans have acquiesced to presidential claims to sweeping executive powers in foreign affairs thanks to imperial minded presidents a weak willed Congress and neglectful scholars These authors forcefully argue that the president is not the supreme crafter of foreign policy and that Congress must provide more than a rubber stamp for the president s agenda Unilateral presidential control of foreign relations they warn can pose a grave threat to our nation s welfare and is simply without constitutional warrant Combining constitutional theory with keen historical insights these authors illuminate the roots of presidential abuse of executive power and remind us of the past and potential costs of such disregard for our unique system of checks and balances An essential guide for all concerned citizens and members of Congress this volume should help revive a proper understanding of this crucial dimension of American democracy Executive Agents in American Foreign Relations Henry Merritt Wriston,1929 The New Age of American Foreign Policy Frederick H. Hartmann,1970 Public Affairs Information Service Bulletin ,1920

Our War Too Margaret Paton-Walsh,2002 In the late 1930s a number of American women especially those allied with various peace and isolationist groups protested against the nation s entry into World War II While their story is fairly well known Margaret Paton Walsh reveals a far less familiar story of women who fervently felt that American intervention was absolutely necessary Paton Walsh recounts how the United States became involved in the war but does so through the eyes of American women who faced it as a necessary evil Covering the period between 1935 and 1941 she examines how these women functioned as political actors even though they were excluded from positions of power through activism in women s organizations informal women s networks and even male dominated lobbying groups In the Great Debate over whether America should enter the war some women favored aid to the Allies not because they hoped for war but because they hoped aid would forestall more direct U S involvement but also because they believed war was preferable to a Nazi victory Paton Walsh shows that this activism involved some of the most prominent women of their day Elizabeth Cutter Morrow whose son in law Charles Lindbergh was an isolationist spokesman supported the revision of the Neutrality Acts to allow the sale of arms to the Allies and expressed her support in a national radio broadcast Soon other women joined this debate Esther Brunauer of the AAUW journalist Dorothy Thompson and organizations like the League of Women Voters and National Women s Trade Union League broke from the pacifist tradition to advocate American aid for the Allied cause Focusing on the conflict in Europe Paton Walsh shows how these women grasped the implications of the Lend Lease program for America s entry into the war but supported it nevertheless By late 1941 the Women s Division of the Fight for Freedom Committee had been established no longer merely advocating aid to Britain to keep American boys out of battle this organization supported direct American involvement in the war as a means of stopping Nazi oppression While most historians have focused on women s pacifism Paton Walsh connects women more directly to world events and shows how those interventionists reformulated maternalist ideas to justify and explain their beliefs Our War Too is a story of American women trying to reconcile the irreconcilable to preserve both their principles and their peace It expands our understanding of women as political actors and thinkers about foreign policy as it sheds new light on American public opinion over the build up to the war

World War II: Books in English, 1945-65 Janet Ziegler,1971 The Conduct of American Foreign Relations John Mabry Mathews,1922 A Concise Introduction to American Foreign Policy Festus Ugboaja Ohaegbulam,1999 Basically a specialist on Africa Ohaegbulam introduces US foreign policy emphasizing how policy making is accomplished in the complex domestic and external settings He surveys the development and characteristic patterns stressing the central themes and global experience especially since World War II He finds that no grand strategy has replaced the cold war framework and that a number of approaches are contending for dominance Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Disarmament and American Foreign Policy James Thomson Shotwell,1926 A History of American Foreign Policy John Holladay Latané,1927 The United States Catalog ,1921 Our World ,1924 The Foreign Relations of China Mingchien Joshua Bau,1922 The Foreign Relations of China Ming-ch'ien Pao,1922 American Foreign Policy Towards Japan During the Nineteenth Century Teijun Wada,1928 U.S. Presidents and Latin American Interventions Michael Grow,2008 Reveals how Cold War U S presidents intervened in Latin America not as the official argument stated to protect economic interests or war off perceived national security threats but rather as a way of responding to questions about strength and credibility both globally and at home
