Reflecting Diversity Karen Baicker, Macmillan/McGraw-Hill School Division, 1993 Proceedings of the National Association for Multicultural Education Carl A. Grant, 2012-12-06 The National Association for Multicultural Education NAME held its 7th Annual Conference in 1997 with a theme of Daring to Educate for Equity and Excellence A Multicultural and Bilingual Mandate for the 21st Century The conference generated scholarship in the form of keynote speeches and conference papers and stimulating discussions among the membership The conference's southwest location of Albuquerque New Mexico provided an excellent back drop to discuss the interconnections between multicultural education and bilingual education as well as provide an opportunity for proponents of both of these important ideas to engage in useful and important discussions The essays comprised in this book capture much of the written record of the conference They convey ideas beliefs and research findings that were presented at the formal sessions at the conference Just as with NAME s previous proceedings it is expected that these proceedings will become not only a written record of the conference but a live curriculum to help pre K through college educators to prepare themselves and those they teach for the 21st century Death and Resurrection of a Coherent Literature Curriculum Sandra Stotsky, 2012-06-16 This book is addressed to teachers who know that the secondary literature curriculum in our public schools is in shambles Unless experienced and well read English teachers can develop coherent and increasingly demanding literature curricula in their schools average high school students will remain at about the fifth or sixth grade reading level where they now are to judge from several independent sources This book seeks to challenge education policy makers test developers and educators who discourage the assignment of appropriately difficult works to high school students and make construction of a coherent literature curriculum impossible It first traces the history of the literature curriculum in our middle schools and high schools and shows how it has been diminished and distorted in the past half century It then offers examples of coherent literature curricula and spells out the cognitive principles upon which coherence is based Finally it suggests what English teachers in our public schools could do to develop a literature curriculum that gives all their students an adequate basis for participation in an English speaking civic culture Communication, Race, and Family Thomas J. Socha, Rhunette C. Diggs, 1999-08 This volume examines how family communication affects our understanding of race and race relations For scholars studying diversity issues intercultural communication family communication and related areas The Language Police Diane Ravitch, 2007-12-18 If you re an actress or a coed just trying to do a man size job a yes man who turns a deaf ear to some sob sister an heiress aboard her yacht or a bookworm enjoying a boy's night out Diane Ravitch's internationally acclaimed The Language Police has bad news for you Erase those words from your vocabulary Textbook publishers and state education agencies have sought to root out racist sexist and elitist language in classroom and library materials But according to Diane Ravitch a leading historian of education what began with the best of intentions has veered toward bizarre extremes At a time when we celebrate and encourage diversity young readers are fed bowdlerized texts devoid of the references that give these works their meaning and vitality With forceful arguments and sensible solutions for rescuing American education from the pressure groups that have made classrooms bland and uninspiring The Language Police offers a powerful corrective to a cultural scandal Principles and Methods of Test Construction Karl Schweizer, Christine DiStefano, 2017-06-12 Leading experts describe the state of the art in developing and constructing psychometric tests This latest volume in the series Psychological Assessment Science and Practice describes the current state of the art in test development and construction The past 10 20 years have seen substantial advances in the methods used to develop and administer tests In this volume many of the world s leading authorities collate these advances and provide information about current practices thus equipping researchers and students to successfully construct new tests using the best modern standards and techniques. The first section explains the benefits of considering the underlying theory when designing tests such as factor analysis and item response theory The second section looks at item format and test presentation The third discusses model testing and selection while the fourth goes into statistical methods that can find group specific bias The final section discusses topics of special relevance such as multi trait multi state analyses and development of screening instruments Beyond Training Jack C. Richards, 1998-02-13 Beyond Training examines the nature of second language teacher development and how teachers practices are influenced by their beliefs and principles It seeks to move discussion of language teacher development beyond the level of training which reflects a technical view of specific teaching practices Instead it takes a more holistic approach to teacher development built on the notion of the teacher as critical and reflective thinker The argument pursued throughout is that teacher education needs to engage teachers not merely in the mastery of techniques but in an exploration of the knowledge beliefs and attitudes that underly their teaching practices Teaching Young Children in Multicultural Classrooms Wilma Robles De Meléndez, Wilma J. Robles de Melendez, Vesna Ostertag, Johanne T. Peck, 1997 This book is intended for use as a reference by undergraduate and graduate college professors early childhood educators parents and caregivers who wish to learn about the latest theories trends and practices in multicultural education The book features a wealth of photographs and illustrations that reinforce the historical and present perspectives on diversity Using Formative Assessment to Support Student Learning Objectives M. Christina Schneider, Robert L. Johnson, 2018-08-06 As student learning objectives become an increasingly prominent approach to setting goals and growth measures in schools teachers competence in formative assessment is essential Using Formative Assessment to Support Student Learning Objectives introduces current and future educators to SLOs as tools for shaping career and college ready students Written in concise and straightforward language and replete with step by step exercises real life examples and illustrative charts this useful quide provides pre and in service educators with the theoretical background and practical tools needed to implement the latest SLO research in their classrooms Survey Scales Robert L. Johnson, Grant B. Morgan, 2016-07-05 Synthesizing the literature from the survey and measurement fields this book explains how to develop closed response survey scales that will accurately capture such constructs as attitudes beliefs or behaviors It provides guidelines to help applied researchers or graduate students review existing scales for possible adoption or adaptation in a study create their own conceptual framework for a scale write checklists true false variations and Likert style items design response scales examine validity and reliability conduct a factor analysis and document the instrument development and its technical quality Advice is given on constructing tables and graphs to report survey scale results Concepts and procedures are illustrated with Not This But This examples from multiple disciplines User Friendly Features End of chapter exercises with sample solutions plus annotated suggestions for further reading Not This But This examples of poorly written and strong survey items Chapter opening overviews and within chapter summaries Glossary of key concepts Appendix with examples of parametric and nonparametric procedures for group comparisons
