Anne-Marie McAlinden,2007-04-05 Winner of the 2008 British Society of Criminology Book Prize Sex offenders particularly those who offend against children feature prominently in contemporary law and order debates Child sexual abuse is a small component of the broader category of gendered and sexualised violence which causes significant trauma for victims yet continues to evade conventional approaches to justice This is evidenced not only by the low number of prosecutions due mostly to low levels of reporting and evidential difficulties at trial but also by the failure of the justice system to prevent re-offending largely due to the limited availability and effectiveness of prison treatment programmes Following Braithwaite's dichotomy of reintegrative and disintegrative shaming this book argues that contemporary popular and state led responses to the risk posed by sex offenders are largely disintegrative in nature At best the offender may be labelled stigmatised and ostracised from the community while at worst he may be subjected to violence and vigilante action and ultimately return to offending behaviour The failure of these retributive responses means there is considerable scope for exploring alternative forms of justice and their potential for improving the outcome for victims offenders and communities affected by sexual offences This book examines the controversy of whether restorative justice can be applied to child sexual abuse as one of the most intractable of contemporary societal problems and if so what special considerations might apply Although restorative schemes with sex offenders are in short supply a few initiatives have developed in Canada and parts of the United States which have effected significant benefits in reintegrative shaming The book examines whether such ad hoc schemes may be of general application with child sexual abuse and whether they may be implemented on a more holistic basis A

Community-Based Approach to the Reduction of Sexual Reoffending Chris Wilson,Terry Philpot,Stephen Hanvey,2011-08-15

A Circle of Support and Accountability is a group of trained volunteers who meet on a regular basis with a high risk sex offender living in their community This pioneering approach based on restorative justice principles holds the offender accountable and provides them with care and support to prevent reoffending The Evil and the Innocent Senator Bill Diamond,2012-03 The potential interest in this book could be measured by the fact that for the past 3 years the online website for the Maine Sex Offender Registry has had 8 million hits each year The Evil and the Innocent presents a real life and true inside look at the tragedies and suffering of the victims of sexual assault Those who committed these crimes against the innocent are described and discussed in detail revealing the sadistic fantasies that swirl in the heads of child sex offenders and how these fantasies manifest themselves into reality with total disregard for the pain and suffering inflicted on the victims the children These real and actual cases expose heartbreaking and sometimes nauseating facts of sexual assaults and molestations As difficult as it may be for the reader these documented details are openly displayed in the book and will stay with the reader for a long time Seeing the dead eyes and helpless faces of little children who suffered the onslaught of cruel and inhumane acts are necessary ingredients if change is to occur The book may startle and sicken you because of the cold hard facts that until now have been hidden from you Why to protect you Real life suffering must be brought to the light of day so the collective you demands that it stop no matter the cost Wheeler's co nz Sexual Identities Patrick Colm Hogan,2018 Patrick Colm Hogan a leading theorist of cognitive cultural studies offers the first cognitive cultural study of identity in sex sexuality and gender With precise conceptual distinctions wide ranging citation of empirical research and careful explication of diverse literary works Hogan defends a systematic skepticism about gender differences and a view of sexuality as evolved but also contingent and variable
