Looking At Architecture:

A Philosopher Looks at Architecture Paul Guyer, 2021-05-20 What should our buildings look like Or is their usability more important than their appearance Paul Guyer argues that the fundamental goals of architecture first identified by the Roman architect Marcus Pollio Vitruvius good construction functionality and aesthetic appeal have remained valid despite constant changes in human activities building materials and technologies as well as in artistic styles and cultures Guyer discusses philosophers and architects throughout history including Alberti Kant Ruskin Wright and Loos and surveys the ways in which their ideas are brought to life in buildings across the world He also considers the works and words of contemporary architects including Annabelle Selldorf Herzog and de Meuron and Steven Holl and shows that despite changing times and fashions good architecture continues to be something worth striving for This new series offers short and personal perspectives by expert thinkers on topics that we all encounter in our everyday lives Looking Around Witold

Grounds his respect for Walter Burley Griffin's original Canberra plan and his emphasis on the value of incorporating the landscape in its entirety into building design and planning and his own significant contribution to Australia's post war architecture Birrell writes candidly about Queensland's lacklustre approach to town planning during the 1950s the iconic buildings he designed in his years as Chief Architect for Brisbane City Council and the revolutionary planning schemes he developed at The University of Queensland and James Cook University in Papua New Guinea and regional Queensland Now at the age of 84 Birrell comments on Robin Boyd's 1960 book The Australian Ugliness While acknowledging the influence Boyd had on Australian architecture he prompts readers to take a moment to consider their built environment in the light of the architectural legacy and lineage created by Griffin Grounds and others Archi-Graphic Frank Jacobus, 2015-10-27 This informative and engaging book uses a variety of inventive infographics to take an unusual look at architecture in a way that would not be possible with words and images alone Through a variety of different infographics it compares for example the range of materials and colours used by different architects the relative locations of their buildings who influenced who and which architects are the most discussed It also approaches architecture from more unconventional angles with spreads that show the kinds of architecture favoured by dictators the networks of love affairs that architects got entangled in the defining facial features of famous architects and so on Irreverent and entertaining this book will appeal to all those with an interest in architecture or infographics The Architect's Handbook of Professional Practice Joseph A. Division of Education, Maryland Committee for the Humanities, 1976 The Architect, 1921 The Conservator, 1906 Touching Architecture Anthony Brand, 2022-12-30 This book is about perception emotion and affect in architecture how and why we feel the way that we do and the ways in which our surroundings and bodies contribute to this Our experience of architecture is an embodied one with all our senses acting in concert as we move through time and space The book picks up where much of the critique of architectural aestheticism at the end of the twentieth century left off illustrating the limitations and potential consequences of attending to architecture as the visually biased practice which has steadily become the status quo within both industry and education It draws upon interdisciplinary research to elucidate the reasons why this is counter productive to the creation of meaningful places and to articulate the embodied richness of our touching encounters A felt phenomenology is introduced as a more than visual alternative capable of sustaining our physical emotional and psychological well being By recognising the reciprocal and participatory relationship that exists between atmospheric

affect and our phenomenological bodies we begin to appreciate the manifold ways in which we touch and are touched by our built environment As such Touching Architecture will appeal to those with an interest in architectural history and theory as well as those interested in the topic of atmospheres affect and embodied perception Innovations in Hybrid Intelligent Systems Emilio Corchado,Juan Manuel Corchado Rodríguez,Ajith Abraham,2007-12-22 This carefully edited book combines symbolic and sub symbolic techniques to construct more robust and reliable problem solving models This volume focused on Hybrid Artificial Intelligence Systems contains a collection of papers that were presented at the 2nd International Workshop on Hybrid Artificial Intelligence Systems held in 12 13 November 2007 Salamanca Spain Twenty-Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand Simon Unwin,2014-11-17 Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is an essential companion to Simon Unwin s Analysing Architecture and part of the trilogy which also includes his Exercises in Architecture Learning to Think as an Architect Together the three books offer an introduction to the workings of architecture providing for the three aspects of learning theory examples and practice Twenty Five Buildings focusses on analysing examples using the methodology offered by Analysing Architecture which operates primarily through the medium of drawing In this second edition five further buildings have been added to the original twenty from an even wider geographical area which now includes the USA France Italy Mexico Switzerland Spain Finland Germany Australia Norway Sweden India and Japan The underlying theme of Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is the relationship of architecture to the human being how it frames our lives and orchestrates our experiences how it can help us make sense of the world and contribute to our senses of identity and place Exploring these dimensions through a wide range of case studies that illustrate the rich diversity of twentieth and twenty first century architecture this book is essential reading for every architect
