Farm Boy, City Girl John "Gene" E. Dawson,2020-04-22 In the 1930s John Gene E Dawson was a shy insecure boy who had been born to a struggling Iowa farm family during the Great Depression In his memoir Farm Boy City Girl From Gene to Miss Gina Gene first recalls his years as a Farm Boy when he and his brothers worked alongside their parents as soon as they were able and attended country school But life wasn't all work and school and he writes about his love for and time with his extended Irish Catholic family As a teenager the Farm Boy realized that he never would be like his male peers and interested in girls When Gene eventually decided that he could not lead a double life and pretend to be heterosexual he began his life away from the farm as a City Girl complete with beautiful clothes and makeup But that chapter in his life came to an abrupt halt when tragedy struck his family It would be four more years before he again could live in a city Gene's life story takes the reader through the twists and turns of reconciling his love of family God and the Catholic Church with being able to accept himself As Gene tried to live a life true to himself there were some turbulent times in a world where not everyone was accepting of the gay lifestyle

IT IS FINISHED Thomas Joseph Murray, 2022-03-31 More than once Tom held someone as that person died in his arms in N Ireland during the conflict between the Irish Republican Army factions and the British Army during the troubles from the 70s One of those times was an undercover Captain of the British intelligence who was shot several times by the PIRA at point blank range during a PIRA Easter parade Born a Catholic in Derry in the heart of the Bogside on the 12th of July The very day the Protestant Orangemen march throughout the province but especially on the Derry walls looking over into the Bogside with a shout of no surrender While many joined the IRA various factions against British rule became a volunteer as a medic at the First Aid post in the language of the time and location He didn't care who was wounded he only wanted to help those in great need of first aid before medical aid was available Being born into a Catholic family does not make a person a Christian as Murray would learn When US President John Kennedy was assassinated Murray took a major step in following the Catholic teaching but it was not the full journey that he'd make later in life This is most decidedly not a story about the fighting This kind of story is played out across the world every day in conflicts that make international news and violent disputes that barely make the local media As Murray says in the introduction This book is about a conflict that goes far deeper than the history of Ireland or of any other place the conflict within the soul which has expressed itself in a myriad form of ways since man first rebelled against God at the dawn of creation It is the story of one man trying to come to grips with his fellow man and the inhumanity displayed toward each other The time and the setting are real the Northern Ireland conflicts and the people are equally real It is the IRA factions war against the British forces In these very real battles that are also a metaphor Murray sometimes identifies the people by name and rank The atrocities of conflict are very real but Murray does not dwell on the horrors of that In other words this is not a story of fighting blood and gore in the physical realm The fighting Murray goes through is just a real but is on the spiritual battlefield Murray signing up as a cadet as a First Aider brought his journey into the horrors of the conflict which was an unforgettable one He saw the Battle of Bogside a three day fight that ended with the British Army coming in He was also there at the infamous Bloody Sunday The band U2 in 1983 had the song Sunday Bloody Sunday that became famous and much more Read about his own conflict with the disinfecting Catholics and the IRA The PIRA's quest to find out did he ever work for the British Intelligence while he lived in the Bogside of Derry and read how he replied to their question in the Maze prison directly and indirectly many times Despite that he was finally arrested and jailed on terrorism charges I was arrested because I became a carrier for a package to be planted in government building that went off The PIRA used me to do it I tried to get out of it but really had no choice If I didn't carry out their act of terrorism a PIRA cell would plant a bomb under my parents car His personal transformation came about at the Lord Kesh Maze Prison where he put his trust in the Lord Jesus Christ The Maze goal was a facility used to hold different factions of the IRA and UVF UDA paramilitaries who were arrested and tried in the courts Later Tom's baptism was a further step of obedience to His Lord Jesus Christ In the Catholic church babies are baptized but in the Bible believers in Christ were baptised when they believed on the Lord Jesus Christ The author's baptism came as an adult and was an outward sign of an inward conversion that happened at the basement of the prison that was once a condemned man cell converted into a bathroom in the Crumlin Road Goal The Troubles changed many people how could it not It changed Tommy Murray too in his case for the better Come read about Tom's journey own Damascus Road experience and see why his last day in a prison goal he nailed a scroll to his cell door with the words It Is FINISHED
