Fashioning Africa Jean Allman, 2004-09-09 There is a close connection between the clothes we wear and our political expression In Fashioning Africa an international group of anthropologists historians and art historians bring rich and diverse perspectives to this fascinating topic Igbo Women and Economic Transformation in Southeastern Nigeria, 1900-1960 Gloria Chuku, 2005 Extrait de amazon com Among Africanists and feminists the Igbo speaking women of southeastern Nigeria are well known for their history of anti colonial activism which was most demonstrated in the 1929 War against British Colonialism Perplexed by the magnitude of the Women s War the colonial government commissioned anthropologists ethnographers to study the Igbo political system and the place of women in Igbo society The primary motive was to have a better understanding of the Igbo in order to avoid a repeat of the Women s War This study will analyze the complexity and flexibility of gender relations in Igbo society with emphasis on such major cultural zones as the Anioma the Ngwa the Onitsha the Nsukka and the Aro Cloth in West African History Colleen E. Kriger, 2006 In this holistic approach to the study of textiles and their makers Colleen Kriger charts the role cotton has played in commercial community and labor settings in West Africa By paying close attention to the details of how people made exchanged and wore cotton cloth from before industrialization in Europe to the twentieth century she is able to demonstrate some of the cultural effects of Africa s long involvement in trading contacts with Muslim societies and with Europe Cloth in West African History thus offers a fresh perspective on the history of the region and on the local regional and global processes that shaped it A variety of readers will find its account and insights into the African past and culture valuable and will appreciate the connections made between the local concerns of small scale weavers in African villages the emergence of an indigenous textile industry and its integration into international networks Federal Nigeria , 1959 Major Companies of Nigeria 1983 Lawn, 2012-12-06 Nigerian Crafts Pat Oyelola, 1981 The Nigerian Field Edwin Felix Gray Haig, 1988 Includes section Society notices Nigerian History, Politics and Affairs Adiele Eberechukwu Afigbo, 2005 These essays attempt to focus the light of history on Nigeria Nigerians and their contemporary condition The root idea here is that fundamental to all historical works that when the mind interacts with the past the result is something like a torchlight whose beam is focused on the present thus enabling us to achieve a better understanding of the problems which face us Afigbo has probed deep into Nigeria s past bringing out all the facets all the elements and all the issues that are necessary to improve the present The Odyssey of the Nigerian Woman Oluwakemi Abiodun Adesina, Aisha Balarabe Bawa, Mutiat Titilope Oladejo, 2023-12-07 This book explores the roles that Nigerian women have played since pre colonial times in shaping the culture customs and values of the different societies that now constitute parts of the modern Nigerian state The contributions gathered here provide engaging explanations of different aspects of Nigerian life highlighting the effects of patriarchy colonialism industry and international policies on women in Africa s most populous country This book represents a major contribution to African women s history and gender

Textile Ascendancies Elisha Renne, Salihu Maiwada, 2020-05-11 Until this century Northern Nigeria was a major center of textile production and trade Textile Ascendancies: Aesthetics, Production and Trade in Northern Nigeria examines this dramatic change in textile aesthetics, technologies and social values in order to explain the extraordinary shift in textile demand, production and trade Textile Ascendancies provides information for the study of the demise of textile manufacturing outside Nigeria The book also suggests the conundrum considered by George Orwell concerning the benefits and disadvantages of mechanical progress and digital progress for human existence While textile mill workers in northern Nigeria were proud to participate in the mechanization of weaving the tendency for the mechanization of the world represented by more efficient looms and printing equipment in China has contributed to the closing of Nigerian mills and unemployment Textile Ascendancies will appeal to anthropologists for its analyses of social identity as well as how the ethnic identity of consumers influences continued handwoven textile production The consideration of aesthetics and fashionable dress will appeal to specialists in textiles and clothing It will be useful to economic historians for the comparative analysis of textile manufacturing decline in the 21st century It will also be of interest to those thinking about global futures about digitalization and how new ways of making cloth and clothing may provide both employment and environmentally sound production practices

What's New? Sander E. van der Leeuw, Robin Torrence, 2025-10-01 First published in 1989 What's New puts innovation firmly back on the agenda of archaeological interpretation This book revives interest in the process of innovation and reinterprets it by drawing on original work done in a variety of disciplines It demonstrates that the study of the components of innovation: invention, acceptance and the context in which they occur is essential if social change is to be better understood The book contains detailed case studies that cover a broad geographical range in the prehistoric, historic and modern world It simulates and analyses the conditions of innovation and provides the necessary theoretical framework The technologies involved are diverse herding fishing pottery making metalworking and land management Several important issues emerge from this diversity it is the context of innovation that determines whether change will take place within hierarchical societies ideology can both stimulate and deny innovation and the potential for innovation experimentation and change in traditional societies is systematically underrated by the Western world which is dominated by a narrow technological perspective The contributors also study innovation in social and applied anthropology industrial planning and the natural sciences What s New will provoke renewed discussion throughout the archaeological community about the process of innovation Anthropologists human geographers and other social scientists will find it fascinating because it provides a time dimension for the study of the conditions of human and social change U.S. Army Area Handbook for Nigeria American University (Washington, D.C.).
