University Extension Division, 1929 Anatole France Walter Lionel George, 2022-09-16 In Anatole France Walter Lionel George crafts a penetrating exploration of the life and works of the celebrated French writer Employing a rich analytical style George delves into France s literary contributions including his satirical novels and philosophical essays while situating them within the broader context of the French literary movement of the late 19th and early 20th centuries The book is distinguished by its meticulous attention to the socio political undercurrents of France s Third Republic highlighting how these influences shaped France s views on morality politics and art George s critical lens invites readers to appreciate the duality of France s literary prowess and his engagement with the human condition providing a comprehensive understanding of a complex figure in literature Walter Lionel George was an esteemed critic and scholar deeply immersed in the literary currents of his time His extensive background in literature and his keen interest in the intertwining of politics and artistic expression resonate through this work George s research into Anatole France s life illuminates not only the author s personality and beliefs but also the societal challenges he faced allowing for a nuanced analysis that reflects George s own intellectual environment This book is highly recommended for those seeking to deepen their comprehension of French literature and its pivotal figures George s thoughtful examination of Anatole France provides readers with invaluable insights into the cultural and literary landscape of France during a time of great turmoil and transformation Readers will find this work a vital resource for understanding both France s literary heritage and the enduring impact of France s ideas in contemporary discourse The Nation and Athenæum , 1927 British Books , 1913 Writing the Nation John Charles Hawley, 1996 The fourteen essays in this volume contribute significantly to a consideration of the interplay between nation and narration that currently dominates both literary and cultural studies With the fervent reassertion of tribal domains throughout the world and with the consequent threat to the stability of a common discourse in putative countries once mapped and subsequently dominated by colonizing powers the need for such studies becomes increasingly obvious Whose idea of a nation is to prevail throughout these postcolonial territories whose claims to speak for a people are to be legitimized by international agreement amid the demands of patriotic rhetoric what role may be allowed for individual expression that attempts to transcend the immediate political agenda who may assume positions of authority in defining an ethnic paradigm such are the questions variously addressed in this volume The essayists who here contribute to the discussion are students of the various national literatures that are now becoming more generally available in the West The range of topics is broad moving globally from the Caribbean and South America through the African continent and on to the Indian subcontinent and moving temporally through the nineteenth century and into the closing days of our twentieth We deal with poetry fiction and theoretical writings and have two types of reader in mind We hope to introduce the uninitiated to the breadth of this expanding field and we hope to aid those with a specialized knowledge of one or other of these literatures in their consideration of the extent to which post colonial writing may or may not form a reasonably unified field We seek to avoid the new form of colonialism that might impose a theoretical template to these quite divergent writings falsely rendering it all accessible and familiar At the same time we do note questions and concerns that cross borders whether these imagined lines are spatial temporal gendered or racial The Virginia Quarterly Review ,1925 Ghost Stories Rudyard

Kipling,2015-01-06 This is not exactly a book of downright ghost stories as the cover makes belief It is rather a collection of facts that never quite explained themselves All that the collector is certain of is that one man insisted upon dying because he believed himself to be haunted another man either made up a wonderful lie and stuck to it or visited a very strange place while the third man was indubitably crucified by some person or persons unknown and gave an extraordinary account of himself Rudyard Kipling The tales are quite as grisly as any one will demand although Mr Kipling makes fun of all of them and insinuates that they can be traced back to some variety of Indian fever or to the high spirits which are absorbed from bottles with popular labels N Y Herald Book News ,1913 The Expository Times James Hastings,Ann Wilson Hastings,Edward Hastings,1913 The Son of His Mother Clara Viebig,H. Raahauge,1913
