Watkins, 2021-12-14 Taking a new approach to the study of Robert Penn Warren's imposing and still growing poetic canon Floyd C Watkins has found in the poems what he describes as a poetic autobiography unparalleled in American letters Drawing on interviews with Warren members of his family and contemporaries from his hometown but keeping the poetry itself constantly at the center of his vision Watkins shows how the poetry has grown from the experience of the boy and man and from his contemplation of his family's and his country's history He traces through the poems a family chronicle moving from the frontier to the late twentieth century and set in a landscape that is clearly derived from the Kentucky of Warren's boyhood The little town of Guthrie divided by railroad tracks with its two burial grounds for whites and blacks becomes in the poems a town of both memory and imagination peopled by characters many of whom are recognizable to Warren's contemporaries The images of a black man fleeing through swampy woods outside the town of a grayfaced man who led a lynch mob of a mad druggist making a list of people to poison all have counterparts in Guthrie's history. Then and Now is a revealing and provocative study of the poetic process in a poet who is thought of as the originator of the biographical fallacy. Curfew José Donoso, 1994

Curfew takes place during one twenty-four hour period in January 1985. Matilde Neruda, widow of the Nobel Prize-winning poet, has just passed away, and various factions are rallying to turn the event to their advantage for Pinochet's junta. It represents a chance to assert political authority while for the intellectuals who had basked in the Nerudas' light, it is an opportunity to grab the spoils of the estate. Against this backdrop of complex, often conflicting motivations, Donoso weaves a portrait of a society struggling to fashion a daily existence for itself and of an intelligentsia vainly attempting to salvage the remnants of glory days long gone by. But Curfew is also a story of the tragic love between Judit Torre, an upper-middle-class radical who wants to escape her bitter past, and Matilde Ungo Vera, a native son returning after a successful career as a European pop singer. In the zone between documentary-like realism and grotesque absurdity, José Donoso evokes the suffocating atmosphere of a country under dictatorship and its quietly devastating effect on the actions of those who live there.

It's Now or Never Jill Steeples, 2024-06-15. A warm, uplifting and laugh-out-loud tale of friendship, second chances, and the joy of starting over. Perfect for fans of Marian Keyes and Jenny Eclair. For Jen Faraday, not to be opened in any circumstances for one year. When smooth-talking Alex Fellows tells Jen Faraday he can predict her future and leaves a note with a bartender for her to collect in one year's time, she thinks it's just a chat-up line. After all, how can a man she's known for one night see what her future holds? But if she had to predict her own future, it wouldn't be pretty. So far, her life has been a series of things she hasn't done. She didn't go to college, family trouble. She didn't get married, dumped. And she hasn't yet handed in her notice at work, too scared. But could this be the year she takes control of her destiny? With her best friend heading down the aisle and even her beloved grandfather having more romance in his life than she does, Jen knows it's now or never. And whatever Alex's prediction says, and how Jen wishes she knew she's beginning to wonder if he may play a part in her future plans.
