Meeting Community Needs Pamela H. MacKellar, 2015-12-15 Librarians must know how to provide essential programs and services that make a difference for the people they serve if libraries are going to survive It is no longer realistic for librarians to rely on the idea that people love libraries so they will fund them in this economic climate Librarians must be able to prove that their programs and services are making a difference if they want to compete for funding in their municipalities schools corporations colleges institutions and organizations Meeting Community Needs A Practical Guide for Librarians presents a process that librarians of all kinds can use to provide effective programs and services This requires being in close touch with your community whether it is a city town or village college or university public or private school or corporation hospital or business Understanding what information people need how they access it

how they use it how it benefits them and how they share it is paramount The process in this book covers community assessment designing programs and services to meet needs implementing and evaluating programs and services and funding options Providing library programs and services for your entire population not just library users is more important than ever Librarians working in libraries of all types must provide programs and services that meet community needs if libraries are to stay relevant and survive in the long run Librarians must be able to measure their success and demonstrate the library's worth with verifiable proof if they are going to be competitive for available funds in the future Meeting Community Needs will make you take a serious look at how well your library programs and services are meeting your community's needs and it will show you the way to success      Fundamentals of Children's Services Michael Sullivan, 2005 Children's services are the heart of the library This overview provides hands on proven strategies for librarians addressing questions critical to the long term success of children's library services Experienced new and trainee children's librarians library administrators trustees will all welcome this new bible      Public Libraries and the Internet Charles R.
