Planning The 2010 Census Second Interim Report:

Planning the 2010 Census National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Research on Future Census Methods, 2003-09-26 The Panel on Research on Future Census Methods has a broad charge to review the early planning process for the 2010 census Its work includes observing the operation of the 2000 census deriving lessons for 2010 and advising on effective evaluations and tests This is the panel s third report they have previously issued an interim report offering suggestions on the Census Bureau s evaluation plan for 2000 and a letter report commenting on the bureau s proposed general structure for the 2010 census

Planning the 2010 Census National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Research on Future Census Methods, 2003-08-26 The Panel on Research on Future Census Methods has a broad charge to review the early planning process for the 2010 census Its work includes observing the operation of the 2000 census deriving lessons for 2010 and advising on effective evaluations and tests This is the panel s third report they have previously issued an interim report offering suggestions on the Census Bureau s evaluation plan for 2000 and a letter report commenting on the bureau s proposed general structure for the 2010 census

Reengineering the 2010 Census National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Research on Future Census Methods, 2004-03-25 At the request of the U S Census Bureau the National Research Council s Committee on National Statistics established the Panel on Research on Future Census Methods to review the early planning process for the 2010 census This new report documents the panel s strong support for the major aims of the Census Bureau s emerging plan for 2010 At the same time it notes the considerable challenges that must be overcome if the bureau s innovations are to be successful The panel agrees with the Census Bureau that implementation of the American Community Survey and with it the separation of the long form from the census process are excellent concepts Moreover it concurs that the critically important Master Address File and TIGER geographic systems are in dire need of comprehensive updating and that new technologies have the potential to improve the accuracy of the count The report identifies the risks and rewards of these and other components of the Census Bureau s plan The report emphasizes the need for the bureau to link its research and evaluation efforts much more closely to operational planning and the importance of funding for a comprehensive and rigorous testing program before 2010

The 2000 Census National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel to Review the 2000 Census, 2004-03-30 The decennial census was the federal government s largest and most complex peacetime operation This report of a panel of the National Research Council s Committee on National Statistics comprehensively reviews the conduct of the 2000 census and the quality of the resulting data The panel s findings cover the planning process for 2000 which was marked by an atmosphere of intense controversy about the proposed role of statistical techniques in the census enumeration and possible adjustment for errors in counting the population The report addresses the success and problems of major innovations in census operations the completeness of population coverage in 2000 and the quality of both the basic demographic data collected from all census respondents and the detailed socioeconomic data collected from the census long form sample about one sixth of the population The panel draws comparisons with the 1990 experience and recommends improvements in the planning process and design for 2010 The 2000 Census Counting Under Adversity will be an invaluable resource for users of the 2000 data and for policymakers and census planners It provides a trove of information about the issues that have fueled debate about the census process and about the operations and quality of the nation s twenty second decennial enumeration Envisioning the 2020 Census National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on the Design of the 2010 Census Program of Evaluations and Experiments, 2010-06-29 Planning for the 2020 census is already beginning This book from the National Research Council examines several aspects of census planning including questionnaire design address updating non response follow up coverage follow up de duplication of housing units and residents editing and imputation procedures and several other census operations This book recommends that the Census Bureau overhaul its approach to research and development The report urges the Bureau to set cost and quality goals for the 2020 and future censuses improving efficiency by taking advantage of new technologies Statistics in the Public Interest Alicia L. Carriquiry, Judith M. Tanur, William F. Eddy, 2022-04-22 This edited volume surveys a variety of topics in statistics and the social sciences in memory of the late Stephen Fienberg The book collects submissions from a wide range of contemporary authors to explore the fields in which Fienberg made significant contributions including contingency tables and log linear models privacy and confidentiality forensics and the law the decennial census and other surveys the National Academies Bayesian theory and methods causal inference and causes of effects mixed membership models and computing and machine learning Each section begins with an overview of Fienberg s contributions and continues with chapters by Fienberg s students colleagues and collaborators exploring recent advances and the current state of research on the topic In addition this volume includes a biographical introduction as well as a memorial concluding chapter comprised of entries from Stephen and Joyce Fienberg s close friends former students colleagues and other loved ones as well as a photographic tribute

Change and the 2020 Census National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel to Review the 2010 Census, 2011-07-08 Sponsored by the Census Bureau and charged to evaluate the 2010 U S census with an eye toward suggesting research and development for the 2020 census the Panel to Review the 2010 Census uses this first interim report to suggest general priorities for 2020 research Although the Census Bureau has taken some useful organizational and administrative steps to prepare for 2020 the panel offers three core recommendations and suggests the Census Bureau take an assertive aggressive approach to 2020 planning rather than casting possibilities purely as hypothetical The first recommendation on research and development suggests four broad topic areas for research early in the decade Second the report suggest that the Bureau take an aggressive assertive posture toward research in these priority areas Third it identifies the setting of bold goals as essential to underscoring the need for serious reengineering and building commitment to change Review the Status of Planning for the 2000 Census United States.
