Plantation Memo:

Plantation Memo Francois Mignon, 1972-01-01 Plantation Memo: Plantation Life in Louisiana, 1750-1970, and Other Matter Francois Mignon, 1972 Louisiana Women Janet Allured, Judith F. Gentry, 2009 Moving chronologically from the colonial period to the present this collection of seventeen biographical essays provides a window into the social cultural and geographic milieu of women's lives in the state Within the context of the historical forces that have shaped Louisiana the contributors look at ways in which the women they profile either abided by prevailing gender norms or negotiated new models of behavior for themselves and other women Louisiana Women concludes with an essay that examines women's active responses to problems that emerged in New Orleans after Hurricane Katrina The women whose absorbing life stories are collected here include Marie Therese Coincoin who was born a slave but later became a successful entrepreneur and Oretha Castle Haley civil rights activist and leader of the New Orleans chapter of CORE From such well known figures as author Kate Chopin and Voodoo priestess Marie Laveau to lesser known women such as Cajun musician Cleoma Breaux Falcon this volume reveals a compelling cross section of historical figures The women profiled vary by race class political affiliation and religious persuasion but they all share an unusual grit and determination that allowed them to turn trying circumstances into opportunity Lively yet rigorous these essays introduce readers to the courageous dedicated and inventive women who have been an essential part of Louisiana's history Historical figures included Marie Therese Coincoin The Baroness Pontalba Marie Laveau Sarah Katherine Kate Stone Eliza Jane Nicholson Kate Chopin Grace King Louisa Williams Robinson Her Daughters and Her Granddaughters Clementine Hunter Dorothy Dix True Methodist Women Cleoma Breaux Falcon Caroline Dormon Mary Land Rowena Spencer Oretha Castle Haley Louisiana Women and Hurricane Katrina Plantations by the River Marcel Boyer, Jay Edwards, 2002-03-01 French priest Joseph M Paret 1807-1872 served in the missions of Louisiana from 1847 to 1869 as pastor of the Little Red Church located upstream from New Orleans on the east bank of the Mississippi River During his somewhat lonely tenure Paret sketched landscapes architecture and interiors capturing everyday life in prosperous St Charles Parish In 1987 fifty three watercolors were discovered still bound in their original sketchbook among his personal effects Plantations by the River contains twenty eight of these paintings created in or about the year 1859 Paret's insightful artwork provides a visual social history of the antebellum creole culture of south Louisiana and documents properties in addition to structures and furnishings of the period The book features full size reproductions of Paret's paintings which have been restored to their original vibrancy The value of Paret's detailed folk art lies in the accuracy of his depiction of the region he lived in He faithfully renders parishioners attending church men pulling driftwood from the Mississippi River and the edifices and flora gracing local plantations Ormond and Good Hope among many others The text is presented in both English and French and as a supplement to the art an appendix of excerpts from Mon Journal d'Amerique a collection of correspondence between Paret and his family is included The beautiful brightly colored paintings of Plantations by the River are a rare discovery and provide a unique view of rural Louisiana life before the onset of the Civil War

A Future for Archaeology Robert Layton,Stephen Shennan,Peter Stone,2016-09-16 Over the last thirty years issues of culture identity and meaning have moved out of the academic sphere to become central to politics and society at all levels from the local to the global Archaeology has been at the forefront of these moves towards a greater engagement with the non academic world often in an extremely practical and direct way for example in the disputes about the repatriation of human burials Such disputes have been central to the recognition that previously marginalized groups have rights in their own past that are important for their future The essays in this book look back at some of the most important events where a role for an archaeology concerned with the past in the present first emerged and look forward to the practical and theoretical issues now central to a socially engaged discipline and shaping its future This book is published in honor of Professor Peter Ucko who has played an unparalleled role in promoting awareness of the core issues in this volume among archaeologists

A Hard Fight for We Leslie A. Schwalm,2023-02-03 African American women fought for their freedom with courage and vigor during and after the Civil War Leslie Schwalm explores the vital roles of enslaved and formerly enslaved women on the rice plantations of lowcountry South Carolina both in antebellum plantation life and in the wartime collapse of slavery From there she chronicles their efforts as freedwomen to recover from the impact of the war while redefining their lives and labor Freedwomen asserted their own ideas of what freedom meant and insisted on important changes in the work they performed both for white employers and in their own homes As Schwalm shows these women rejected the most unpleasant or demeaning tasks guarded the prerogatives they gained under the South's slave economy and defended their hard won freedoms against unwanted intervention by Northern whites and the efforts of former owners to restore slavery's social and economic relations during Reconstruction A bold challenge to entrenched notions A Hard Fight for We places African American women at the center of the South's transition from a slave society

The Filipino Piecemeal Sugar Strike of 1924-1925 John E. Reinecke, 1997-01-01 The 1924 Filipino sugar strike came as a shocking blow to Hawaii's self image The tragic deaths at Hanapepe were regarded as an anomaly in Hawaii's peaceful idyllic image Yet as Reinecke's research clearly indicates the sugar industry was building to a climax in the 1920s In the traditional sense the strike was a piecemeal affair lacking clear goals and having virtually no leadership or plans These young largely illiterate Filipinos wrought massive changes into a more modern industrial mode into what was widely known thereafter as the Big Five Evidence from the University of Hawaii's new archive collection the H S P A Plantation Archives not available to Dr Reinecke completes the picture of the strike with evidence of the massive changes in management recruitment and labor policies The strike remains as he described it in his title The Piecemeal Strike The new evidence rounds out the transformation of the industry

A Guide to Records of Ante-bellum Southern Plantations from the Revolution Through the Civil War, 1985 The Banana Tree at the Gate Michael Dove, 2011-01-01 The Hikayat Banjar a seventeenth century native court chronicle from Southeast Borneo characterizes the irresistibility of natural resource wealth to outsiders as the banana tree at the gate Michael R Dove employs this phrase as a root metaphor to frame the history of resource relations between the indigenous peoples of Borneo and the world system standing on its head the prevailing view of resource poor and economically marginal tropical forest dwellers In analyzing production and trade in forest products pepper and especially natural rubber Dove shows that the involvement of Borneo's native peoples in commodity production for global markets is ancient and highly successful This success is based on the development of a dual household economy with distinct subsistence and market oriented sectors which has historically made these smallholders extremely competitive with the large scale heavily capitalized state supported plantation sector Dove sheds new light on the nature of smallholders and in particular their relationship with the global economic system He demonstrates that processes of globalization began millennia ago and that they have been more diverse and less teleological than often thought His analysis replaces the image of the isolated tropical forest community that needs to be helped into the global system with the reality of communities that have been so successful and competitive that they have had to fight political elites to keep from being forced out The ubiquitous but historically inaccurate emphasis on isolation and resource poverty disguises that the overweening characteristic of these communities is their political marginality and that their greatest want is not to be uplifted economically but to be empowered politically
